

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT made this 5th day of June, 1944,
by and between

G. F. MAC MULLEN

hereinafter described as the author and referred to by the masculine singular pronoun, and THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE LELAND STANFORD JUNIOR UNIVERSITY, owning and operating the STANFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS, hereinafter described as the publishers.

The author hereby guarantees that he is the author and sole proprietor of the manuscript of a certain work entitled for the purposes of this contract and hereby agree s for himself, his heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns:

THE STEAMERS LEAVE AT FOUR

1. That he will deliver to the publishers as soon as possible the manuscript of said work complete and in good condition for type-setting, with photographs, original drawings, and copy for other illustrations in a form suitable for making engravings, as follows:
(Illustrations now in publishers' hands) and also, within a reasonable time after page-proof has been provided, copy for the index if any.

2. That he will, on request of the publishers, take all necessary steps and execute and deliver all documents necessary or convenient for obtaining copyright and renewals thereof in the United States and in other countries on the work and on any revisions or new editions thereof, and will also execute and deliver to the publishers such licenses, assignments, and other documents as may be necessary or convenient to assure them, their representatives, successors, or assigns, the exclusive right to print, publish, and sell said work, and any revision of the same, during the continuance of any such copyrights or renewals.
3. That he hereby appoint s the publishers his attorney in fact, with power of substitution, to take out in his name or otherwise, but for the publishers' use, any copyrights or renewals to which the author is now or may hereafter be entitled.
4. That said work violates no copyright or other right belonging to any other party, contains nothing scandalous or libelous, and that said author will defend and save harmless the publishers against all such claims.
5. That he will revise the work when in the judgment of the publishers a revision is necessary; or that if he is unable to make such revision, the publishers may have such revision made and charge the reasonable literary editorial cost thereof against the payments to author provided for below.
6. That he will with all reasonable diligence perform the usual duties of authors in the printing of all editions of said work.
7. That he will not prepare or cause to be published in his name or otherwise, without the consent in writing of the publishers, any similar work or anything which may injure the sale of said work.
8. That he hereby grants to the publishers serial, translation, stage production, and moving-picture rights of said work, the profits of such rights to be divided as follows: seventy-five per cent to the author and twenty-five per cent to the publishers.

9.- And furthermore that

