Dear Mr. Mac Mullen

What a surprise! To be reading the Sunday Union and find there in a story of the arrival of my family to San Diego in 1902

I was 2 years old, the youngest of the group, so I don't remember the "impact" we made but I have heard about it many times. I had never been able to find out what happened to the boat and the crew so am very thankful for your information

My folks started out not knowing that we had been exposed to small pox.

There was no small pox in the valley where we lived but at the auction sale of farm equipment,  came from far and wide and with them brot the "germs" of the seven of us, only two had the small pox, my sister and myself. We had very light cases.

I shudder to think how many were exposed as we made our way south.

I cannot tell you how much pleasure I received from your "write up"

Thanking you
Mrs. Georgia Farrar.
