

An estimate has been obtained for the cost of moving the Wassermann Laboratory and making the necessary changes in the new quarters, which amounts to $6800. This estimate is much larger than it was thought at first it would be, but Doctor Hinton tells me that it does not seem unreasonable when one goes over the individual items. As soon as the itemized estimate is returned to him, I expect to go over it and will submit it to you.

Respectfully yours,
