

June 2, 1944.

Dr. Vlado A. Getting, Commissioner
Department of Public Health
State House
Boston 33, Massachusetts

My dear Dr. Getting:

I have talked with Dr. Burwell by telephone last week, and told him we should like to cooperate in every way in contracting our quarters. I suggested that a representative of the department involved and I might talk the matter over. As things stand now, Dr. Cohn will, if he deems it necessary, get in touch with me in relation to using some of the space assigned to the Wassermann Laboratory if other suitable provisions cannot be made.

Respectfully yours,

Wm. A. Hinton, M.D., Chief
Wassermann Laboratory

Dear Doctor Burwell:

I have requested Dr. Hinton to see you personally in regard to the possibility of contracting the quarters of the Wassermann Laboratory in compliance with your letter of May 27.

I regret the necessity for your having had to write further in this matter, and I sincerely hope that satisfactory arrangements may be made in the immediate future.

Sincerely yours,

Commissioner

Dear Dr. Getting:

Thank you for your letter of May 25th.

I am sorry to be put in the position of pushing you, but I shall be very grateful for your investigation of the possibility of contracting the laboratory somewhat before the date set for its actual departure. I regret the necessity of making such an inhospitable suggestion, but we are faced, as you know, with very acute needs for temporary space.

With every good wish,

Sincerely yours,

/s/

C. Sidney Burwell, M.D.
