[Letter from Flora Pillsbury (1887-1921) to George Nichols (1889-1961)]

Camden, Maine

September 9, 1915

Dear old _____ :- (Guess I won't write it)

Edith Dyer has just been into see me and is quite anxious for us to come up this week as she is going away next week. I told her I thought we would come up tomorrow (Friday) evening so thought I had better remind you of it and you can do as you please about primping up.

I overslept this morning and am still sleepy – would you believe it? Think it must be the weather or else our ride to Rockland caused it.

Better burn this right up and then we can never have any discussion over our correspondence if we ever give the month's notice to each other. F.P.
