

JAZZING IT UP — The questionably melodious strains of a kazoo band floated through the air at the Lincolnville Beach Community Building Tuesday afternoon. The ladies of the Women's Club entertained a happy crowd with their annual antics. Featured in the music besides the kazoos were piano, washboard, dishpan, hubcaps and maracas. It all added up to a production that provided two happy hours for all attending. Solos, readings and dances were performed by the ladies who were dressed in costumes that defy description.
