

[Letter from Elmer Gould to Arno Knight]

Marshall Aug. 6th

Dear Friend Arno:

Yours came duly to hand and I was glad to hear from you, I haven't time to write much this morning and will say what I wish to as briefly as possible. An independent temperance paper is to be started here soon owned by a stock co. The situation of Editor is open, I am satisfied you could fill it to perfection and have spoken of you to the managers. How would you like to come and take it? No particular amt. of capital required, but the managers would prefer you to put in what money you could thus making your interests and theirs identical. You could not expect to make much at first but I think it a good offering, that you would find it congenial and that, in time money could be made. This country is starting on a season of prosperity and if a person comes here now and sticks there is a good future in store for him.

Think of it, answer my letter as soon as possible, and make arrangements to come soon if you decide favorably.

Yours truly

E.F. Gould
