

Some Childhood Memories of Dot Santi & Doris Delano

Doris and Dorothy got 15 cents to baby sit Joan.

Her brother once tried to burn up his school papers in a bag like he'd seen another kid do. Unfortunately that kid wet the bag. Jimmy didn't and he got the barn on fire. Momma flew down the hill for help, and they started a bucket brigade. It got darn near the hay mow.

One day Doris was hitting at one of the old sticky paper fly catchers that hang from the ceiling . Doris was hitting at it, until it came down and wrapped around her head like a turban. What a mess it was cleaning up her hair.

They used to hide in a dog house, and shut brother Charlie out. They'd sing, and the brother would cry. Eventually he give up and go make a cake.
