[Letter from Flora Pillsbury (1887-1921) to George Nichols (1889-1961)]

Belfast Road, Camden

July 1, 1912

Dear Lieut: -

The motion has been moved and seconded that I go to Belfast but it has been decided in the negative; you see its like this – Capt. Arey and his wife have been planning for quite a while to get a crowd to go down to Owls Head the 4th and I most promised to go there if I went anywhere, so I don't see but what I've got to, but I'd like to go to Belfast ever so much if I could. But I expect I shall have to stay at home all day as we shall probably have company. Thank you ever so much for the invitation. I hope you will have a fine time and I know of course you will; don't let Herbert take too much "nourishment" and be careful that you don't add to your bill of 65¢ for "profane language".

Yours fraternally –

Flora E. Pillsbury

Worthy Asst. Stew. (pro-term) of

Megunticook Grange #423

(My one and only title)

P.S. Don't forget you have a sister Rebekah and Granger who lives on Pearl Street, and who might take a snapshot of you if you took her. I think probably she would go, and it would cheer her up.
