I am so sorry about the loss of Scott. I knew him from his days at 31 Service Battalion ...so many fond memories - often involving getting into trouble with Scott in the lead. He impacted my life back then in positive ways that still affect me today. My deepest condolences.

Scott Simon.

I was fortunate to have adventured many of my years growing up, with Scott. There is no amount of words I can write or share that would ever begin to express the times of laughter, fun and creating memories and experiences that Scott and I lived as great friends.

We met playing hockey quite young when Scott encouraged me to be a goalie as well. We spent years with each other's families, Christmases gone by but never forgotten. It makes me smile as I remember Scott teaching me to ski and even joining his family on a trip to ski Sugarloaf...endless memories.

Music, sports and his love of life and people is what comes to mind, not to forget his amazing insight. He accomplished and actually lived more than most anyone.

This is merely a thin slice of my times with Scott. He is in my prayers, thoughts, memories and forever in my heart as I extend my sincere condolences to his family for this tremendous loss.

Scott, it will be a spec of time before we have a dark rum together once again as we did as young men.

I respect, love and honour you Scotty.

I salute you my friend.

Peace and Love,

Jonny.

It is with great sadness that I hear of the passing of Scott. We served together in the Canadian Grenadier Guards and he was one of my Captains. a born leader who had the respect of all his troops. I am so thankful to have known Scott and shared some very special times with him. May you rest in Peace my dear friend

Dear Michael and family: It is with sadness that I read the news of your brother. This has certainly been a hard few years for your family with your losses. Our prayers are with you. You may not remember me but I was babysitter to your family when you were small and I loved your parents very much and kept in touch periodically with them over the years. Karen (Peterson) Walker. May the Lord's comfort be with you and your siblings during this hard time.
