MAYOR SMITH REGAINS LOST PICKET LINE

Fiercest Battle Of Strike Occurs Between Policemen And Men At Smith Cove Piers

Seattle, July 20.—Personally led by Mayor Charles Smith, police this morning drove all striking longshoremen from Pier 40 and Pier 41 at Smith Cove.

This was the answer of the mayor to the victory gained by the strikers Wednesday morning when they drove police from a new dead-line and held it.

Chief of Police George Howard handed in his resignation last night after having been criticised by the mayor for his failure to hold the strikers back Wednesday.

It is stated Chief Howard has much sympathy with the strikers, having once been a longshoreman himself.

The battle at the Cove raged for thirty minutes and was the fiercest fighting yet. Twelve hundred longshoremen battled the police, and at the end of the fight the piers were clear of strikers. Seven men were seriously enough injured to be taken to hospitals. Nausea bombs were hung at the strikers by the score. Both police and strikers were made violently ill by them. Four hundred police took part.

Mayor Smith said: "We had to win this fight. It is a question of constituted authority or not. There will not be the necessity for state troops when it is demonstrated the police can handle the situation."

Two police lieutenants approached the strikers and told them they would have to move out. The answer of the men was to mass for attack at a point where they were protected on three sides, but were exposed to gas bombs thrown from the overhead bridge. Strikers picked up some of the bombs and threw them at the police.

Miss Lucille Brothers of Bellingham is spending her vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brothers.

Toleration Of Red Activity May Be Ended

A revolt against Communism will be the result of the action taken in San Francisco, Portland and Seattle.

More summary treatment of Communists will be the result of the action taken in San Francisco, Seattle and Portland, is the belief expressed by law enforcement officers and others. The policy of this group of appearing at strikes to take advantage of conflicts, to fan prejudices and feelings for their own purposes, will not be tolerated longer. Toleration has reached the limit, and once the policy of curbing their lawless activities is started it will not be ended.

For Communists frankly preach overthrow of the government by force, and every time there is a big strike they try to start their "revolution."

Of course the Communists could never get a revolution started in the United States, but there are always enough fools around a strike so they can make trouble, and it has been decided that people do not want their trouble.

Mayor Rossi issued a statement immediately after the collapse of the general strike, in which he said:

NO TYRANNY

"We will tolerate no tyranny, either of Communism or of any other interference with constituted authority."

"The crushing of this general strike must not be construed to mean that San Francisco either desires or will tolerate any attempt to destroy union labor or invade its rights."

"As mayor of this city, I represent thousands of union men and women equally with all other citizens."

"Therefore, I pledge myself and this city to secure justice where it is due, and to protect all my fellow citizens against any unfair aggression whatsoever."

San Francisco, after its fashion, celebrated the end of the general strike with much merriment and good humor.

BUDGET SESSION OF SCHOOL BOARD

A special meeting of the school directors will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the clerk's office at the Junior Hi building, when the proposed budget for School District No. 18 for 1934-35 will be considered.

The total estimated revenue for the year is $66,916.84, made up as follows: State apportionment, including transportation reimbursement, $37,950.56; county apportionment, $7,174.58; non-hi, $1,037.48; ten-mill levy, $20,410.22, and miscellaneous receipts, $344.

Cash on hand June 30, 1934, amounted to $4,709.52. Unpaid taxes totaled $12,510.60. Outstanding warrants June 30, 1934, amounted to $26,581.01, with a net warrant debt of $9,361.79. Warrant interest is estimated at $1,594.91.

The budget of expenses included the following: General control, $3,425; instruction, $47,494; operation of school plants, $8,200; maintenance of school plant, $1,944; auxiliary agencies, $3,835; outlays, $423.93—the total operating expense estimated at $65,321.93, plus the warrant interest of $1,595.91.

VALUATIONS IN SKAGIT COUNTY ON INCREASE

Real And Personal Wealth Is Reaching Toward Million Dollar Mark Figures State

Mount Vernon, July 20.—That the total assessed valuation of Skagit county real and personal property will go well over the 19-million-dollar mark when the railway and telegraph valuations are received, and that an increase of $357,746 is shown during the last year was revealed when the Skagit board of equalization completed its annual report Wednesday. The board is composed of the three county commissioners, who met several days of last week and held a final session Wednesday to act upon valuations.

The grand total assessed value of county property for 1934 was placed at $16,788,706, as compared with $16,410,960 the year previous. The gain over last year is due, it is believed, to the boost of a half million dollars in the assessed valuation of the Puget Sound Power & Trust Company's property in Skagit county. This increase in valuation was ordered by the state tax commission, and though the company protested, the Skagit equalization board refused to lower the figure.

Frank Brock Wants Usual Second Term

"I have filed for re-election to the office of county superintendent of schools, believing that I have the good will of the school people and patrons of the county."

"During these trying years of curtailed budgets and multiple legislation, the work and responsibility of the county superintendent's office has doubled, yet with reduced office expenses and less help than formerly used, I feel that I have conducted the affairs of my office and the schools of the county in an efficient, economic and practical manner, as I promised would be my endeavor if elected, four years ago."

"The schools of our county, their instructors and directors will testify to my ability or success."

"FRANK M. BROCK."

Mrs. Wanamaker's Work For Bridge

During the past year efforts for the Deception Pass bridge have been continuous. Incessant work was necessary to assure the funds necessary to put the project in sight of the realm of realities. Many trips to Olympia were necessary to coordinate all the groups having a hand in the progress of the bridge project.

In these tasks Mrs. Pearl Wanamaker, representative in the legislature for Island and Snohomish counties, was always the outstanding figure. With enthusiasm was joined a tenacity and patience that always counted. In order to put over so large an undertaking it is necessary to win support to it—to convince others of the necessity and logic of it. In all these endeavors Mrs. Wanamaker has been a shining light and an inspiration.

Public Will Not Stand For General Strike Discomforts

San Francisco, July 20.—"The general strike, unregulated, is no weapon for the American labor movement," George Kidwell, executive secretary of the strike committee, said frankly today.

Kidwell in normal times is secretary of the San Francisco local of the bakery wagon drivers. He was one of the leading figures in the general strike.

"A general strike sweeping over a community so complex as an American city disrupts every function of normal urban life," Kidwell said, thoughtfully.

"No matter what its motive nor how well labor may be justified in its endeavors, popular thought is bound to be more concerned with the political and social forces than with the economic cause of the strike action."

OREGON GOVERNOR CALLS OUT TROOPS

By United Press

Portland, Ore., July 20.—An announcement that Portland waterfront employers would begin extensive operations with non-union labor today was made as 1,100 militiamen were mobilized to protect the waterfront properties and men.

The soldiers were not at once moved into the city, but went into camp at Camp Whitcomb, ten miles from Portland.

Governor Meier said that "Every man who desires to work and has an opportunity to do so is entitled to the protection of organized society in his lawful enterprises."

LAST RESORT

The governor said that he had failed to solve the problems of the situation by any other means, and this was the last resort.

Senator Wagner in, Portland, said he regretted that the governor had seen fit to call out the militia, in view of the fact that news from San Francisco indicated that the strike was on the way to settlement.

The Portland unit of the strike involved 1,000 longshoremen, and, owing to the necessity of transfer by truck, the Portland docks have failed almost completely to move any cargo.

More Fish Coming End Of Next Week

While local canneries have been in operation nearly every forenoon for some time, canning sockeyes from the cape and silvers from fish traps, indications are that, beginning the latter part of next week, salmon will be more plentiful, as the tides will be favorable.

Both the Farwest Fisheries and the Sebastian-Stuart plant ran for a short while today.

INDIAN TRIBES TO MEET SATURDAY

President Don McDowell has called the annual meeting of the Northwest Federation of American Indians for Saturday, July 21, at 10 a. m., at LaConner.

Twenty-three Northwest tribes are usually represented in this council, which is the most important general assembly of Indians in the Northwest.

The largest tribes represented are Lummi, Nooksack, Swinomish, Snohomish, Skagit, Snoqualmie, Squamish, Muckleshoot, Samish, Klallam, Stillaguamish, Skykomish, Nisqually, Clallam, Puyallup, Makah and San Juan.

The present meeting is considered a very important one, because of the recent Indian legislation which will come up for discussion and the recent decision of the Court of Claims concerning which it may be necessary to take further action.

Wallgren and other prominent men of the Northwest are expected to have a place on the program.

MURDER MYSTERY OF SLAIN MUTE

Tacoma, July 20.—John Hendrik and Ethel Jessel were arrested here today for questioning in regard to the murder of a deaf mute woman found in a Seattle apartment three days after she was slain.

Love letters between a man named Hendrik and Mrs. Ruby Barton were found beside the body. It is said this may be the murdered woman, although she went by the name of Sara Sandal. Police say she was the former wife of Hendrik.

The murderer used a flat-iron and beat in her skull. The bloody iron was found in the kitchen of the apartment.

Painting Was Good Or The Bee Was Not

To a layman who knows nothing of the art of transferring colors to canvas via the paint brush route, the fact that a bee mistook a picture of flowers for the real thing would appear to be the best kind of a compliment.

This happened to Mrs. C. L. Judd, one of Anacortes' artists. One day last week she was busily engaged putting the finishing touches on a picture of a brass vase and bouquet of larkspur and blue delphinium. This was a beautiful sunny day, and she had the door of the studio open. In flew a busy bee, straight to the flowers on the canvas, and it was with difficulty Mrs. Judd discouraged the attempts to get honey from the painted flowers.

BORROW OVER $2,000,000

Reno, Nev., July 20.—More than $2,000,000 has been loaned to home owners in Nevada by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation since that federal agency began operation in this state. Officials said the money loaned has been placed in circulation upon its receipt by home owners and has greatly stimulated business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Burke returned the first of the week from a ten-day motor trip to southern Oregon and eastern Washington. They went by way of Hoquiam and Moclipis and over the Columbia highway, making brief stops at points in Oregon and at Walla Walla.

CELEBRATION OF START ON ISLAND BRIDGE

Biggest Crowd Of Years Expected To Celebrate Eve Of Beginning Work On Bridge

The sixteenth annual Deception Pass picnic will be held at Cranberry Lake on Whidby Island next Wednesday, July 25th.

The program, under the direction of Lyle Muzzall, general chairman, is nearing completion. At this writing final reply to the invitation extended to Governor Martin has not been received. E. B. Hutchinson, secretary of state; A. C. Martin of the state park board; Lacey Murrow, director of the state highway department; Frank P. Waters of the Washington State Grange; Phil Cornelius of the Skagit County Dairymen's association, and Marvin Allen of the Co-Operative Egg and Poultry association, are on the list of speakers.

AMUSEMENT PROGRAM

A program of amusements, including the horseshoe pitching classics, with teams from neighboring towns, will be featured, and water polo and land sports will be on the schedule of sport events. Prizes have been donated for these events.

The day will begin at 10:30 and the speaking will begin at 1:30. Oak Harbor now has a good concert band which will be in attendance with a program, beginning 1 o'clock.

A floral display for which prizes will be awarded will be a new feature this year. W. R. Parker is in charge of the flowers and a booth will be erected for this purpose.

The attendance is expected to be the largest in the history of Deception Pass picnics, due to the fact that it will be held on the eve of the beginning of construction of the Deception Pass bridge. All the Whidby islanders will be there and large delegations from Anacortes and Mount Vernon, as well as from more distant places.

ANNUAL RALLY DAY

The annual picnic has been a rallying day for the Deception Pass bridge project, and, with everything in readiness to begin construction, enthusiasm and good feeling will run high at this event. The bridge project has been through exciting experiences since the last picnic was held, and success will be fittingly celebrated.

Free coffee will be provided. Those who do not take lunches may be served at lunch stands which will be in operation.

All stores on Whidby island will be closed the day of the picnic. Island county is going to take a day off.

Eagles Drill Team Plans Completed

The special committee appointed by Roy Wedlund, president of the local F. O. E. aerie, reported at Monday night's meeting that all plans for the formation of a drill team have been completed. An instructor has been obtained and much enthusiasm is being shown among the younger members of the order.

The first meeting of the team will be held next Monday night, when officers will be elected and active members enrolled. All those interested are asked to attend, as the committee is anxious to have active drills and the team fully organized for fall and winter lodge activities.

THE BEGINNING OF THE BRIDGE

While the Deception Pass bridge project has been in the minds of Whidby Island people and others interested for many years, the later movement which has culminated in the beginning of actual work on the structure started several years ago with the American Legion post at San de Fuca on Whidby Island.

It is not generally regarded in the province of Legion posts to build bridges, but be that as it may, this Legion post, composed of energetic young men looking about for something to do, hit on the Deception Pass bridge as an outlet for their energies, and immediately got on the job. The ball they started rolling has never stopped. It hit several obstacles now and then, but the harder it hit them the higher it bounced, and it kept on going.

The simile of the bouncing ball may be carried on. It became a political football and was kicked from pillar to post in the state legislature. It was killed twice, but the Deception Pass bridge project had more than nine lives. It was destined to live. When nature placed the two headlands on each side of the pass so close together, she intended that man should have sense enough to build a bridge to unite them. We can congratulate ourselves that this time has come.

Previous to the revival by the American Legion post at San de Fuca, the bridge project had others. Many years ago plans were drawn by engineers for the bridge, and are still in the files at the State House. All of the previous plans called for a bridge at the exact location of the one now to be built. Organized efforts to build this bridge are recorded as far back as forty-four years ago.

Only the most imaginative of us can realize just what this bridge will mean to the people of Whidby Island and those who live in the trade radius of the mainland bridge-head. The mainland itself has to offer to Whidby Island contact with all the outside world to Whidbyans, but the island itself need make no apology, for it can offer Whidby Island to the world and feel it has given the world an even break.

Why wait until property is destroyed and somebody hurt to crack down on radical agitators? The Reds openly preach violence and practice it when they can get a mob together. Such preaching of violence should be handled as a felony. If a man publicly advocated robbery and banditry, and opened a school to teach it, public sentiment would not be long in putting that individual where he should be. Because Communists are pursuing a course of action in the hope of changing our form of government is no excuse for inciting to riot and bloodshed. We have a peaceful method of changing our form of government. A well-defined line should be drawn at violence in furthering the aims of a political party.

We may come some day to having the courts decide what wages shall be paid and how. Fair wages can be accurately determined if based on the earnings of the business employing the labor. Courts are used to determine property rights in cases of disputes, and property is mostly the product of labor.

Interesting news comes from Washington. It is said that the maneuvers of the United States fleet will be held in Alaska waters next summer. The idea is that the fleet may learn something about defending the nation against attack from that direction. The navy will find the experience stimulating and pleasant. The summer climate of Alaska is not half bad.

Business will continue to improve, and in spite of all the doctoring, the whoop-la and ballyhoo to discourage it, business will get better and better as a new cycle gets under way. It is something that can't be stopped. It is simply the way things work.

Waterfront employers in Seattle claim that if the longshoremen's union controls stevedoring on the docks the union would refuse to handle any but union made goods. That might be a good thing. It would keep out cheap Japanese merchandise and we wouldn't need to bother about a tariff.

Taking the profit out of war would put the world ahead; so also would taking the war out of profit.

Former Publisher Here Passes At 77

John H. Schively, 77, former Anacortes man, passed away Tuesday in San Francisco, where he had lived for the past 16 years.

In the early nineties Mr. Schively was associated with the Anacortes American, the weekly paper established by the late Douglass Almond and Fred H. Boynton. Mr. Schively was editor and E. P. Barker business manager at that time, when the plant was located on the corner of Tenth and M, where the Gander home now stands.

After serving several years, Mr. Schively and Mr. Barker took over the Whatcom Express and later the Fairhaven Herald, a weekly paper published at Fairhaven. Schively was elected to the legislature from Whatcom county and later appointed as the first state insurance commissioner, serving from 1909 to 1913. A bitter political fight with the administration of the late Gov. M. E. Hay culminated in Schively's impeachment in a special session of the legislature. He was vindicated by the senate and held office until the commissionership was made elective in 1913.

For the succeeding five years he was associated with the Washington State Surveying and Rating Bureau, until he moved to California.

He was in charge of fire prevention under the state fire marshal's office there for a time and then became secretary of the Insurance Federation of California, a position he held until his death. His son, E. D. Schively, manager of the Worthington company of Seattle, and daughter, Miss Flora Schively, of Retell, were born in Anacortes. Another daughter, Mrs. Davis Hartsuck, of Hoquiam; two sons, Charles and Hugh, of California, and his wife are surviving relatives.

Mr. Schively had visited here several times at the Barker home since his removal from the city, and the two kept up a correspondence, the last letter coming to Mr. Barker a week ago.

Poultrymen Picnic To Be Held July 26

Plans are all made for the annual picnic of the Skagit Poultry Association which will be held July 26 at the Burlington city park.

A program of talks, music and sports has been arranged by the committee. S. D. Sanders, president and general manager of the Washington Cooperative Egg & Poultry Association, and N. G. Sprouse, secretary of the Puget Sound Production Credit Association, will be among the speakers.

One feature of the afternoon will be a harmonica playing contest. There will also be a baseball contest between the producers and employees of the Mount Vernon station.

Submarines Go Up Bellingham Channel

Those near the waterfront were treated to an unusual sight yesterday forenoon, when the four submarines Bass, Bonita, Dolphin and Narwhal and the mother ship Holland passed through the Bellingham channel, enroute to Alaska, following a week's stay at Elliott Bay, Seattle.

Other submarines, the Nautilus and Barracuda, of the division, and the rescue ship Ortolan, which have been in Tacoma, joined the submarines in Puget Sound to complete their 8,000-mile training cruise. The division will be accompanied to Alaska by the U. S. S. Bushnell, flag ship of Rear Admiral C. W. Cole, commander of the entire navy submarine fleet.

Whidby Island On a New Day

Wednesday, July 25th

CROSS THE PASS

nearest neighbor to Island County, rejoices in Whidby Island over the beginning of actual work across Deception Pass. We congratulate Island County on this happy event, and congratulate our realization of means of quick and easy passage; on the increased values and added prosperity of Whidby, and the stimulus which we, as near neighbors, feel from this new prosperity.

The Chamber of Commerce has supported the Deception Pass project at any and all times, recognizing its importance on both sides of the water barrier, and we congratulate the people of Island County on the beginning of their new efforts. Cordially,
FRED C. STAFFORD,
 President Anacortes Chamber of Commerce.

ANACORTES extends to our good friends on Whidby Island support on their successful fight for the Deception Pass bridge. We support given our island neighbors by Port Townsend in a sincere effort to faithfully serve their transportation needs.

Old Woodenface Is Coming To Our City

"Old Woodenface," the Seattle Daily Times automatic umpire, will make his appearance in Anacortes Saturday night at 6 o'clock.

Old Woodenface will be here in conjunction with a pitching contest to be held by the Mount Vernon American Legion as part of their program to celebrate Hickory Hat Days.

Old Woodenface will be brought to the soft-ball field on the Commercial fill, and all boys not over fourteen years and six months by July 28th are eligible—and what lad will not want to try his skill against Woodenface after reading of his doings in the Seattle Times for several years. The competition here will be for Fidalgo Island entries, and all those qualifying will go to the finals in Mount Vernon on Hickory Hat Day. Bill Beale and Park Gagnon will be in charge of the contest, and want as large a turn-out of competitors as possible, while all spectators who are interested should be on hand to encourage the lads.

Qualifiers will go to Mount Vernon on the 27th for the preliminaries, and all contestants to get through on this day will be in the finals Saturday, the 28th.

There will be an individual prize of a $40 bicycle to the winner, and several prizes to the runners-up, besides a team prize to the district with the best team showing.

Golf Tournament Is Under Full Swing

The Fidalgo Island golf tournament is under full swing in the second round, golfers being busy each evening battling it out to see who survives into the third round.

All matches have produced some fairly close matches, with some of the favorites coming through, and in others an upset being pulled, with an outsider getting into the select circle. As the competition narrows down, the tension gets tighter and tighter, and it is expected that all the competitors will be on edge when the third round gets under way. The second round is scheduled to finish Sunday, and a drawing for the third round to be made that night, so all tournament competitors are urged to have their second-round matches over by Sunday evening.

Sharpe Files For Co. Commissioner

Picking his natal day as a mascot, Wallace Sharpe filed today from this district for the nomination for county commissioner on the Republican ticket.

Born July 19, 1886, on Fidalgo Island, Mr. Sharpe has spent his entire 48 years in Skagit county, and because of his long residence here he feels that he is familiar with the needs of the county.

His six years experience as county commissioner, from 1926 to 1932, are in his favor, for it takes some time to become acquainted with the job of serving as commissioner of the district.

Reds Had Plot To Control Session

Kelso, July 20.—Local police, assisted by Longview officers, raided a Communist hall in West Kelso yesterday and confiscated a quantity of literature and records. In the correspondence were found letters indicating plans to gain control of the recent State Federation of Labor convention at Everett.

No Sabotage Shown In Sunken Tugboat

Seattle, July 20.—The tugboat Tempest has been raised from the twenty feet of water where she sank, and the discovery made that leaking seams were the cause of her going down, and not the sabotage of strikers or strike sympathizers as had been suspected.

Roosevelt To Be In Portland August 3

Portland, Ore., July 19.—President Roosevelt will arrive in Portland August 3rd, on the U. S. S. Houston. He will not visit Seattle, but will go from Portland to the Collee dam, and from there east.

Because Germany is forbidden under the Versailles Treaty to construct airplanes for military purposes, war leaders have hit upon a device of using model planes pulled along high wires for anti-aircraft target practice.

Local Longshoremen Tell Why Strike Is Justified

To the Daily Mercury:

The Anacortes longshoremen desire to take issue with you on your editorial of July 10, in which you state the longshoremen's strike is an "attempt to trade horses in the middle of a stream. That is, when business is in the process of recovery, is no time to demand things."

We would say that the present strike of the maritime crafts is an honest effort on their part to ride the horse called Section 7-A of the N. I. R. A., in the stream called the "New Deal."

Government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed, and we believe all will admit the present administration is an expression of the majority of those governed.

President Roosevelt has repeatedly and publicly stated that the workers are to have a voice in industry, and the human element henceforth is to be considered as having prior rights over material things.

That you might receive the facts in this controversy, we offer the following:

After years of disorganization, due to the onslaughts of the employers, the Pacific longshoremen, taking advantage of the N. I. R. A., organized 100% from Mexico to Canada.

Eleven months ago we sent four delegates east, where a proposed code was being considered by those interested, with the government as administrator.

Our representatives brought forth briefs covering wages, hours and hiring hall practices. After many weeks of fruitless effort and the expenditure of thousands of dollars, they returned home empty-handed—no code, no adjustment of any grievance; nothing but a series of stallings on the part of the shipping interests.

Oh, yes, they did offer to establish a minimum wage of 45 cents an hour in the proposed code. "We will give you boys the same wages we paid you over twenty years ago." Now, isn't that generous of the big shipping boys? Yet even this failed to materialize. There has not been, neither is there now, any code covering the shipping industry. Why? We will answer this question by asking one. Who is dominating the making of these codes?

Months went by. Employers on the Pacific refused to meet or deal with the I. L. A., claiming they did not represent the men. The threatened strike in April was postponed at the request of President Roosevelt. The employers finally recognized the I. L. A. of San Francisco as representative of the men for the purpose of collective bargaining, and any agreement arrived at was to apply in all Pacific ports. After weeks of negotiations the I. L. A. announced that no progress in settlement of their demands had been made, and, by vote of the men, it strike was called May 9th.

On May 28th, employers offered an agreement on the open shop basis, they to retain the hiring halls, I. L. A. supervision allowed in halls to see the men received a square deal. Same was unanimously rejected by the men.

On June 16th an agreement signed by Ryan for the I. L. A. was rejected by 95% of the longshoremen on the coast, it being practically the same as the May offer, with joint control of hiring halls being offered, but on an open shop basis.

Despite the clever manipulation of the press on this news, we would like to draw your attention to Mr. Ryan's statement when it was released, that:

"This agreement is of non-effect until it has been approved by a two-thirds majority vote of our men." Also, out of the nine signatures on this agreement, only one was of a bonafide Pacific coast longshoreman.

The Pacific district of the I. L. A. enjoys local autonomy, Ryan acting only in a supervisory capacity, being at all times subject to the men.

The main question at issue is hiring hall control. Employers insist on open shop control. Men, from bitter experience, know the above proposed open shop agreements would eventually freeze their members off the waterfront—or be death for their organization.

Except in Tacoma and Anacortes, the employers have had practically complete control of hiring and dispatching.

Paddy Morris, one of our representatives at San Francisco meetings, in reporting to the Central Labor Council of Tacoma, stated:

"In San Francisco the employers went on record before the committee, admitting the employers' hall with its saloons, its gambling devices, its vice associations and its extortion of 15% from those apportioned jobs, when cashing checks, was only a failure, but a disgrace. That's a matter of record by employers themselves. And not only that, but it was admitted that the best conducted system or hiring was in Tacoma, from a hall of rigidly disciplined union men, where strictly business principles prevailed, where it was clean and sanitary, and where vice procurers were rigidly excluded."

The Anacortes longshoremen only have to look at one of our neighboring ports, where employers completely control employment and evidently look upon their employes as beasts of the field, as these men must stand on the docks in all sorts of weather, winter or summer, when hired for longshore work, and as many as 150 men have been known to stand on the dock at night, yet out of this large group possibly one gang, or 17 men, would be hired. The decent thing to do in a case like this would be to post a list of those to work, leaving the balance of the men free to remain at home with their families.

Where men are organized, conditions of this sort are speedily eliminated.

The Anacortes longshoremen have been very fortunate in that, through mutual consent and agreement between their organization and the local waterfront employers, any conditions that outraged reason and decency have been eliminated from the local waterfront.

In conclusion, we would say: We do not believe it to be abortive to try to eliminate the evils that have prevailed for many years in most of the ports of the Pacific coast. For the first time in the history of our country a united maritime group of workers say, "We cannot arbitrate a situation that means blackmailing, intimidation, saloons, gambling devices, vice associations and extortion of money for jobs." The American labor movement and all decent people, when informed of the true facts, say, "Such conditions in our country must cease now."
