Fittro Sentence In Assault Case Given Tuesday

Billy G. Fittro of South Whidbey pleaded guilty to first degree assault Tuesday before the Superior court in Coupeville and was given a deferred sentence of from five to twenty years in the state penitentiary by Judge Edward M. Nollmeyer.

The sentence was deferred subject to several restrictions set forth in the judgment and sentence by Judge Nollmeyer.

According to the terms of probation, Fittro must pay $50 on the first and fifteenth of each month toward maintenance and support of his two minor children William James and Linda Rae for a period of five years. In addition, Fittro must spend all days off the job in the Island County jail at Coupeville for the next two years. Under these terms Fittro will spend week ends and vacation periods in jail.

Fittro must also pay all costs, including medical costs, which resulted from his assault and must abstain from drinking intoxicants and from gambling during the entire probationary period.

Fittro was arrested on December 16 and charged with beating his wife about the head with a baseball bat. His wife, Betty, who has filed divorce proceedings, also said that he put her in their car, locked the door and sent it over a bluff in back of their home on the Wilkerson road on South Whidbey.

Fittro, if he should obey all the rules and regulations set forth in the probationary terms, may, at the end of five years, ask the court to withdraw his plea of guilty and entered a plea of not guilty.

Fittro was represented in court by his attorney, Bill Lanning of South Whidbey.

Mailman Charged On Traffic Counts

Marvin F. Fuhrer, who drives mail truck between Coupeville and Seattle, was arrested last week and charged with several violations of traffic laws.

Fuhrer was cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol, reckless driving, hit and run driving and failure to report an accident.

Sheriff Tom Clark said Fuhrer hit a telephone pole near the game farm and knocked it down. He said Fuhrer's 1948 Ford truck also took out some of H. Youderian's fence before continuing down the road.

Stamp Sales Up Says Postmaster

Stamp sales for the Coupeville Post Office in the year 1953 hit an all-time high, according to Eastern Mudgett, postmaster. A total of $9,472.13 were sold, topping 1952 which sold a total of $8,566.67.

1951 total for "camp sales" was $8,158.48 and 1950 sold a total of $7,471.76. In 1940, just before WWII, the total was $4,542.26. In the first years of the war the totals went up to make Coupeville a second class office but in 1946 the total dropped back to $4,666.14 and the office was rated third class.

In the 17 years that Mudgett has been postmaster since 1936, a total of $127,873.93 has been sold in stamps.

Bank Announces Late Hours Friday Will Continue

Oak Harbor's branch of the Everett Trust and Savings bank, after a month of experimentation with late banking hours on Friday, announced this week that the late hours would be continued.

Hereafter, the bank will be open Friday from 4:30 p.m. until 5:30 p.m. in addition to the regular banking hours.

During January, bank employees worked from 4:30 to 6 p.m. on Fridays. It has been found however, that most of the late Friday business occurs before 5:30 p.m.

The late hours Friday will give civil service workers an opportunity to cash their checks before the weekend.

Jean Trumbull Leaves for Ohio

Miss Jean Trumbull of San de Fuca left Sunday for Oberlin, Ohio, where she will enter Oberlin college there. Jean attended Seattle Pacific college last year, and has been helping her mother, Mrs. Dick Trumbull, in the general store at San de Fuca since.

The community will miss Jean, as she is a Past Worthy Advisor of Rainbow and an officer this year, a teacher in the Coupeville Methodist church and a supervisor of Junior church each Sunday. She graduated from Coupeville high school in 1952 as Salutatorian, and hopes to complete her college education in Education, majoring in mathematics.

Oberlin College, located near Cleveland, is a long way from home, but Jean won't find it too lonely as her brother Dick is a senior there this year.

Mothers March On Polio Results Down From Last Year

Final reports on the Mothers March on Polio for Island County are not quite complete, but indications are that the contributions have fallen off to some degree from last year's collections.

Anyone who was not contacted during the Mothers March and who wish to do so may call Mrs. Martin Elzinga, or Mr. Freeman Boyer, Jr. chairman of the March of Dimes in this area.

In Langley, the Mothers march had to be postponed because of the snow and bad weather but is now scheduled to take place on the 11th of February. Reports from Camano Island have not come in as yet, but the community there is small and may not affect the total to a large degree.

The following reports on different communities are: Greenbank, $61.15; San de Fuca, $128.01; Coupeville, $225.27 and Oak Harbor, $225.44.

Many Workers

Grateful thanks are extended to the workers who did so much to make the March a success. They are: George Hesselgrave, Coupeville Fire Chief; Mrs. Michael Criscuolo, chairman of Mothers March; and the following Marching Mothers: Mesdames Joe Libbey, Ralph Ward, Roy Porter, Glenn Lynch, Mert Waller, Bill Kottke, Warren Lindsay, James Gable, Orlean Dean, Richard Johnson, Kenneth Brooks, Alden Whelan, Eddie Duff, Frank O'Grady, Freeman Boyer, Jr., Donald Snyder, Robert Engle, Howard Libbey.

Thomas C. Clarks Celebrate Golden Anniversary Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Clark of Coupeville celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on Sunday, Jan. 31 at the home of a son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Clark. The couple welcomed several hundred friends and relatives during the afternoon and early evening at a reception arranged in their honor by their children, all of whom were present for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark were married in Charlestown, South Carolina in 1904, but came to Coupeville and have spent their entire married life here. Mr. Clark had come to Whidbey to help with the construction of Fort Casey, and had returned to South Carolina for his bride.

The Michael Clark home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with myriad gold leaves used in arrangements and decorations on the mantle and tables. White flowers and white candles, interspersed the gold leaves to form a beautiful setting for the anniversary reception.

On the tea table which was also decorated in gold and white, the three tiered white wedding cake was decorated in gold leaves. Pouring were Mrs. Robert Austin, a life long friend of the family, and Mrs. Ronald Race, also a long time family friend. Mrs. Race had been present at a reception given by the Engineers Corps fifty years ago, honoring the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Clark from South Carolina as newly weds.

For her reception Mrs. Clark was tastefully gowned in a navy blue dress with which she wore a gold orchid.

The entire Clark family was present and included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Clark and family, Mrs. Francis K. DeVries, Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Clark and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Arnswaldt, and Mr. and Mrs. James S. Clark and family.

Four generations of the family were also represented; Mr. and Mrs. C. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Clark, Mrs. Kathleen Faris and her two small sons James and Gary Faris.

Many beautiful gifts, cards and telegrams were received by the honored guests and the community joins in wishing them much happiness and many more years together.

Lions to Stage Talent Show for March of Dimes

The Coupeville Lions met last week to outline a busy schedule of activities coming up. On Friday, night, Feb. 20, the club will sponsor a March of Dimes talent show at the high school in which organizations and individuals will take part.

A first prize of ten dollars will be awarded, and a five dollar prize for the second place winner.

Among organizations who have already pledged an act for the show are the Whidbey Island Orthopedic Guild, the Women's Society for Christian Service, the Lion Club, the Parent - Teachers Association and the Coupeville Civic Community club.

Chairman of the show is Bob Engle, with Joe Libbey, Bob Hancock and Richard Johnson assisting committee members.

Carnival

The ninth annual Lions Carnival was discussed and the date tentatively set for the first Saturday in April. Edwin Sherman is Chairman of the carnival and Harold Magelson, vice chairman.

On the program for the Lions club meeting, Ari Monson retired Coast Guard Lieutenant, was guest speaker and gave a very interesting account of his life experiences in the Coast Guard.

The club also authorized the purchase of a canvas for the floor of the high school gym at a cost of $798.25. The gym is used each year for the annual Lions Carnival, and the canvas will be used to protect the floor.

Three judges will be responsible for awarding the prizes to the most entertaining feature of the program, and prize money will be paid by the Lions Club and will not come out of the proceeds from the show.

It is hoped that entries to the show will be made from the communities of Greenbank and San de Fuca as well as from Coupeville.

Fish Are Hitting In Puget Sound

Whidbey fishermen are already polishing up their fishing gear and putting it to use, according to a telephone conversation Tuesday with "Chips" Carey of Greenbank, author of the Whidbey Press column, "How They Bitten".

Chips said Dode Berot of Berot's resort has reported several good catches of blackmouth running ten to twelve pounds.

Gumes channel, between Anacortes and Lopez Island is also reported to be a hot spot for blackmouth with catches running from 18 to 20 pounds.

Mrs. Jim Cook is the latest to succumb to the epidemic of flu which is making the rounds.

It's Still Anybody's Race For Prize '54 Chevrolet

Driving upward and forward at a rapid pace, indicative of an exciting finish, participants in The Whidbey Record, Island County Times, Oak Harbor News' now famous "Everybody Wins" prize subscription contest are preparing with feverish haste and intensity to make their best bid for FINAL VICTORY before close of the all-important "first period" voting schedule this Saturday night, February 6, while it is still possible to get BIG VOTES on all subscriptions, large and small, new or renewals.

With a grand total of 5,519,590 votes to his credit, having led the entire Whidbey Island field for highest honors and its attendant grand capital prize - that shining new 1954 Chevrolet "Bel Air" four-door sedan, worth exactly $2,606.00 - soon to be awarded.

Right on the heels of today's leader, however, with 5,163,000 votes to her credit, comes determined Mrs. Lawrence ("Doc") Palmer - also of Oak Harbor and a favorite of many - who is leaving no stone unturned in her quest for the winning votes (points issued on subscriptions) that someday may her many friends are responding with both new and renewal subscriptions to their local newspaper is good to see. Watch Mrs. Palmer go!

A Pace Behind

Just a pace behind in District 3 area stands the indomitable Don DeBruyn of Langley with an impressive 4,009,500 votes; so close behind the above mentioned, in fact, that the free votes on a mere handful of those fast-counting "full limit" subscriptions separates him from the coveted "top spot" in this area-wide competition for fabulous prizes. Promised support from a host of friends and well-wishers in South Whidbey could easily furnish a new leader for that smart new

Your Boy . . .

On some evenings when your family is gathered in the living room, have you ever lowered your newspaper and looked covertly at your boy? Perhaps he was studying enthusiastically, or engrossed in an adventure story. Or maybe he was wrestling with Brother . . . But—

What are his dreams? Does he envision things or is he idling? We can't know but we can help any young boy to greater dreams and aspirations if we nurture his mind on such stuff as real men are made of. We can open his mind to the cultivating and en-riching ideals of the Boy Scouts of America.

We believe the Boy Scouts are doing a great job with American boys. We salute it!

each realize that he or she is now within easy reach of prizes worth a small fortune—all to be won or lost during the next few days—depending largely on the number of subscriptions turned in for their credit while the MAXIMUM sched-ule of votes is in effect, which ter-minated this Saturday night, Feb-ruary 6th.

Contestants, the crucial test is now at hand. If you ever intend making any outstanding strides in this race, DO IT NOW. Instead of being an "also ran" in this race, get up in the running and STAY THERE. Now is the time to build up insurmountable reserve strength; now is the time to make reason-ably certain of the prize you most desire.

Not to do so while the oppor-tunity is afforded means that you will have to redouble your efforts during final days of contest to make up for lost ground. Just a good bunch of those "3-year full limit" subscriptions NOW might be the very ones needed to win that gorgeous new 1954 Chevrolet auto-mobile, worth $2,606.00, or one of the $500.00 grand district prizes. They could hardly be winning one of the major prizes or big cash bonus awards.

In any event this Saturday night will, to a considerable extent, tell the story. We can help you only by pointing out the way. The mat-ter is entirely in your own hands but your supreme efforts NOW will be worth more than all the regrets in the world after the race has been lost.

Greenbank News

By J. K. MacInnis

Green is surely a beautiful color, especially when it's grass appearing from under the snow.

Someone across the bay at Baby Island Heights has paid no never to the weather and has been clearing and burning brush all week. A column of blue smoke has been climbing skyward every day, and we could almost smell the fragrance of it. Is there anything more redolent than a pile of ever-green boughs burning?

A place for a new home going up this spring perhaps. Whidbey Is-land's shore line is growing house by house. Lucky we to be among them.

But for the weather, news in Greenbank this week is reminiscent of June.

The Victor Magnusons celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. P. Reed in Seattle. Open house was held from 3 to 5 p. m., and many of their friends whom they have known throughout the years called and paid their respects and best wishes. Among those from Greenbank were the Richard Bensons.

Mrs. Reed and two other daughters, Mrs. W. Shepherd and Edith Magnuson accompanied the Magnusons home on Sunday afternoon. They had hardly got in the door when all their neighbors began congratulating them. One of the most interesting gifts was a twenty dollar gold piece coined in 1904, the year of their wedding 50 years ago.

From the Magnusons the Jack Engstroms and Art Bratsbergs left for Coupeville to congratulate the Tom Clarks who were also cele-brating their 50th wedding anni-versary.

The Del Colvins were celebrating a wedding anniversary the same day. It was their 18th.

The Clark (Solly) Huffords left Seattle last Thursday to attend a wedding.

Garda and Finley High were married Friday evening at eight at the home of the Alex Engstroms. Justice of the Peace, Alex Eng-strom, officiated. Attendants were the Jack Engstroms and Mrs. Alex Engstrom. Guests were the Jerry Bryants, Jerry Jr., and Julie, and John and Carolee Engstrom.

Mrs. High wore a black sheath wool dress with black bolero em-broidered with rust colored wool. She wore a green and brown orchid corsage. Reception was held at the home of the Jerry Bryants. Wed-ding dinner the next evening at the Alex Engstroms. The newweds left for Grants Pass on Monday where they will make their home.

Memories of the wedding are al-ways dear to the participants, and when interesting incidents preced-ing the ceremony or afterward happen they become more so. The Reynolds-High wedding ran true to form. In the first place an hour or so was lost hunting for the right sized ring for the groom. Then the bride car skidded on the icy road near Greenbank and slid into a ditch. Joe Libbey had to be called to wait for them at the court house. Mr. Zylstra had to be contacted for a marriage waiver, and finally when he was told that the couple had known each other for 33 years the waiver was granted, and all was in readiness except that the bride then was ten minutes late for the ceremony. All your friends join in wishing you every happiness, Mr. and Mrs. High.

The Art Bratsbergs entertained their friends the Ed Horns and daughter, Betsy of Quilcene at Sun-day dinner.

George Cundy was a Seattle visit-er the first of the week.

Most of the regular week-enders took advantage of the warmer weather and cleared roads, and spent the two days in their sum-mer homes. Seen were the George Bayles, Walter Kirkhams, C. Bas-tians and the Robinsons.

The Dr. Wayne Gramhams and Joey and Gretchen had two de-lightful days with their parents, the Joe Nicholls.

Mrs. L. McIndress was able to continue her visit with the Will Murdochs.

Daughters of the Jack Paytons came out on Sunday, and took their kids back into Seattle with them.

Miss Beverly House of Faulkton, South Dakota is visiting at the home of Mrs. Frank Novarro. Her son, Ralph, who has been station-ed at McChord Field is home on leave, but expects to go back on the 5th of February. Miss House, Mrs. Novarro and Ralph were visitors at the Lewis Meador's home on Thurs-day.

Mac and I took a business trip to Oak Harbor on Saturday. We combined business with pleasure and had a pleasant visit with the Paul Bennetts there, and enjoyed seeing their hand-carved Chinese chests and other treasures.

John Sinema helped the Norman Bakers move from the little honey-moon house by the side of the road to the house which the Ed Youdarians vacated a short while ago when they moved to Coupe-ville.

A real case of the German mea-sles has gained an unwelcome en-trance into the Bob Keith home, and laid Dennis low. His two brothers were hustled to the doctor for shots, and so they don't expect to be so sick as Dennis.

Ellis Davis is another victim. He informed his mother that he had the measles. "Just look at all the bumps, Mom!" Mom Alyce looked and found his face covered with bumps alright, but they were the effects of the measles.

Mrs. David Ramsey of Sitka was a recent visitor with her parents, the Jim Davises.

Betty Engstrom and other march-ing mothers had a successful march for the benefit of The March of Dimes on the 30th. Mothers who assisted Betty were Pat Keith, Betty Rehberg, Fern Walsh, Norma Scrib-ner and Esther Stafford.

I received letters from two ab-sent neighbors last week. The Charles Gartners write from Los Angeles, quoting: "We had some rain last week, and in the neigh-borhood of Mt. Wilson where they had the big fire the mountain is melting and the mud is sliding right into the living rooms of some houses. It's really a mess. The fire made an awesome picture from Ruth's living room window, the whole mountain top burning just 3 or 4 miles away. According to grandma we have a wonderful grandson, smart as all get out, and beautiful. We spent about half of our time in Arcadia so we are get-ting well acquainted with him. He soon will be 11 months old, has 6 or 7 teeth, but doesn't shave yet."

The other letter was from the George Darlingsons from Lincoln, Nebraska. Prof. Darlington is in the middle of mid-year exams at the U. of Neb. Dortha is expecting to go to Denver in a month or so to greet the stork that is expected at their daughter's house. Both are counting the days until they can take off for Greenbank and Lang-ley the first of June. So are we.

RECEPTION
Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Libbey were hosts at a reception given last Sat-urday night for Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sullivan, newlyweds.

Letter Sweaters In Controversy

By Leanne Libbey

Should high school girls wear boys letter sweaters? This is the big question around our high school. What are your objections or ap-provals?

These school letter sweaters are bought by the boys who earned the stripes and the right to wear them. If the girls are forbidden to wear their boy friends sweaters, they might just as well do the same with their class rings.

Both are bought by the boy and he should be able to do as he pleas-es with both. After all, the boy's name distinguishes it as a boy's sweater. It seems as though a big issue is being created over nothing. What do you think?

Trip to Chimacum Proves Success

Last Saturday afternoon the basketball squads, 13 rosters and the yell leader and song leaders of Coupeville high school boarded the school bus bound for Chimacum where the Wolves were to play a practice basketball game with the Cowboys.

A joy ride on the ferry flourished from the arrival at Keystone near Port Casey. Arriving in Port Town-ship at 4:30, an hour was spent eating and exploring the town.

This was the first time Chima-cum had tried this overnight visit routine and they went all out to welcome the Coupeville students with a dance after the game, called "Winter Frolic." The cafeteria was bedecked with snowmen and school colors from both schools. Refresh-ments were served.

The dance finally over, the Coupeville guests joined their hosts and hostesses on a journey to their respective homes. When we noticed the morning arrivals yawning and sleepy-eyed we weren't amazed.

Spanish Dancer At Seattle Theater

Jose Greco, one of the world's foremost Spanish dancers, and his troupe, accompanied by singers and musicians, will open a 5-day en-gagement at the Metropolitan The-atre on Feb. 23, with matinees on Wednesday, the 24th, and Saturday, the 27th.

Audiences will see a wide and col-ourful variety of dancing, including the pure ballet the Spaniards im-ported from Russia, and then made characteristically their own; the tra-ditional 18th Century dances; reg-ional and folk dances; fiery fla-mencos, danced by actual gypsies from caves of Grenada.

Mr. Greco, a tall, dark man, who moves with the agility of a matador and the grace of a cat, who has won "roles" from Madrid to Hel-sinki, and then again on Broadway and Hollywood.

It was in Madrid, spawning ground of Spanish dancers, that Greco organized his company and then achieved stardom. His flash-ing feet and rare flare for drama-tization captivated the Spaniards, quite a feat for an American of It-alian extraction whose birthright was Brooklyn, and whose boyhood years were spent in Flatbush.

Playing to sold-out houses from coast to coast, JOSE GRECO is one of the most sought-after guest stars on radio and TV shows, recently appearing on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town."

Signs of The Times

By Dorothy Nell

The groundhog is definitely on the way out, we have decided. He is about as reliable as an astronomer with the hiccups. His method of foretelling the coming of spring is out-dated, old-fashioned and we never did believe he knew what he was talking about anyhow.

The groundhog is an exhibitionist, we said. Instead of just remaining a nice, quiet sort of little animal, burrowing down into the earth and minding his own business, what happens?

He sets his alarm clock for Feb. 2, and drags his little self out of his burrow just to impress a lot of impressionable people with his ability to tell whether there will be a late spring or an early spring.

It's all so phony. In the first place, if he sees his shadow, a sure sign the sun is shining, he suddenly decides that spring is a long way off, after all. And if he crawls out into a drizzling rain, he perks up his ears and barks Oh Happy Day, and lo and behold, Spring is here!

We don't get it, we muttered to ourselves. We decided to ask Mr. Rabbit, who makes quite a showing among the Gardeners' friends and tar-ros each spring, just what his reaction was to the groundhog legend. We don't make a practice of talking to rabbits, you understand, but we felt that to condemn the groundhog without getting the other side of the story from an unbiased source, would be very unfair.

Mr. Rabbit was a trifle jumpy at first but when presented with by views on the subject are asked his advice, he admitted that it indeed was a hare-raising tale.

He said it all started when the rabbit began getting all the publicity on account of Easter. The groundhog, who hibernates all winter as a rule, began sitting up nights trying to figure some way to keep up with the rabbit. And the February 2 holiday was the solution which he hit upon.

Mr. Rabbit said, bitterly, that knowing the groundhog, he was sure he wouldn't be satisfied until folks made a big national holiday of him. He said he would get so big-headed that some spring when everyone is expecting him on February 2, he would sleep right on through, and what would folks think then?

We were real shook. We said that must not happen, for we knew of at least thirty-seven people who had mentioned groundhog day to us before ten o'clock on Feb. 2. They seemed happy enough and satisfied to believe whatever the groundhog foretold, and it would be a real blow to them to find that the little varmint had been spoofing them all these years.

We thought it all out carefully and decided that we shouldn't disillusion the public after all these years. As for us, well, we knew what we knew, and we could either go all ground-hog or none. And after all, the ground-hog wasn't such a bad little guy after all. Just who (whom) did that rabbit think he was anyhow, giving us that line about the ground-hog being so jealous of him? Him and his stories about laying eggs (colored ones at that) and hauling them about on carts on Easter morning!

A likely story!

P. S. No sun today, February 2. Sent for eight packages of flower seed. Brought in three pots of tulips for early forcing. Discovered at the crotus up. Yep, everything points to an early spring!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Dorothy Nell: The enclosed article was taken from the Sunday P.I. of Jan. 10, and is a very true story. My mother was married to Ellison Ebey, second son of Col. Isaac N. Ebey in March of 1880, in Olympia. She with her two little girls left Olympia to make their new home at Ebey's Landing.

I was 3 years and my sister 5. Our childhood days there were very happy ones, we were there ten years.

The boat crews had dinner at our house and also the passengers who traveled to and from Port Townsend. Our stage made two trips to Coupeville with the mail and passengers. Capt. Loren Hastings was the man at the wheel of the little Steamer Virginia for a few years, then a larger boat was put on the run, the "Wildwood."

My two brothers were born at Ebey's Landing, Harold Hastings in Feb. 1881 and Edward Ellison Ebey in 1888. My love for the old home is still very deeply rooted. Should you want any more information, go to Carl Engle. The two families were very close friends.

Sincerely, Annie Lisle Schreck
1712-13th Ave., Seattle, Wash.

Thank you Mrs. Schreck for the historical clipping. Nearly everyone on Whidbey Island is familiar with the name of Ebey and its historical import in this part of the country. Your memories of your childhood home at Ebey's Landing would be very interesting to the folks living there nearly seventy years later. We will appreciate hearing from you again.

Dear Editor: My sister Edith Tufts sends the Island County Times on to me. I enjoy reading it most of the time until I see the Governor's name spelled like the town of Langley. His name is Langlie. Sincerely, Mrs. Ruth Harrison

1711 1/2 Capitol Way, Olympia, Washington

Our abject apologies both to you and to our favorite Governor. This is an offense no good Republican should tolerate.

Dear Mrs. Nell:

Your story about the Christmas Carol is delightful. Have you read the sequel to it in Esquire magazine? I felt let down. I know many of your readers will be looking the story up. Do keep on reading it to your family, it will be such a treasure memory later on.

I have been wanting to ask you about the Whidbey History. The pioneers are interested in the present state of their history in their life times.

"We too shall go our transient way, And we ourselves the yesterday," very sincerely, Alice Cahall Anacortes, Washington

Many thanks for the bouquet. They are sometimes hard to find among the brick-bats, but when found, are very enjoyable. The Whidbey History, always a fascinating subject, will continue, now that the holidays are over and there is time for thought and research. Write us again, your letters are interesting.

Zylstra-Franklin Wedding January 2

A Tacoma lad, James L. Zylstra, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James Zylstra of Coupeville, exchanged rings and vows on January 2 with Miss Lael Franklin of Port Townsend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Franklin of that city. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Zylstra of Tacoma.

The wedding took place in the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. James Simpson officiating at the double ring ceremony.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown fashioned with a pearl and sequin trimmed bodice and a bouffant net skirt inset with pointed lace panels. Pearls dotted the lace crown which held her fingertip veil in place. The jacket worn with the gown was of openwork fabric, and she carried a bouquet fashioned in a cascade arrangement of gardenias and pink rosebuds tied with white ribbon.

Mrs. Richard Smith of Pullman was matron of honor and wore a mint green gown of ballerina length. The skirt was of tiered net and the lace jacket had a high collar. Bridesmaids were Miss Helen Porter of Port Ludlow and Mrs. Jerry Martin of Pullman. They wore mauve gowns made similar to the Matron of honor's gown.

Best man was Herbert F. Corey of Seattle and Ushers were Roy Lundgren and Robert Ryder of Tacoma and Harvey Binsfield of Port Ludlow. Candle lighters were Miss Joyce Zylstra and Miss Jo Ann Johnson who wore lavender lace and net.

The church was decorated in Christmas tree and greenery and baskets of pink cysanthemums and cadelabra added a romantic aura to the surroundings. A sprig of holly and white satin bow decked each pew along the bridal aisle.

Following the ceremony the new-lowed were greeted by 150 guests at the reception in the church parlors.

The young couple flew to San Francisco for their wedding trip, the bride wearing a gray rhinestone trimmed jumper, gray and white accessories and an aqua coat. Her corsage was of rosebuds and gardenias.

The new Mrs. Zylstra attended WSO Delta Delta society, and received her degree from the University of Washington. The bridegroom attended Lincoln high school and was graduated from the College of Puget Sound. He was a member Psi Chi Honorary.

Willeta Huffstetler Is Nine Years Old

Later, Mr. Carl Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Shulton, Mr. and Mrs. Orian Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Lester and Mrs. Lynch and Mrs. Cross came in for coffee and cake. Mrs. Dean, Willeta's grandmother, was unable to become because of illness.

ONE-TWO-THREE-FOUR—Numbers the license plate on the car belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cook of Coupeville, who made sure they would be able to find their car in a parking lot.

Unusual Numbers the Usual Thing As Auditor Licenses Island Countys Cars

Island County's Auditor, Joe Libbey, is regarding the days leading up to Feb. 15 in about the same way the postmaster eyes the calendar some two weeks before Christmas. For within that time most of the folks in Island county will have found time to apply for their car licenses, and the heat will be off for the time being in the County office.

Got your car license yet, Mister? No? Well, better hurry, for the Auditor's office may soon run out of the kind of number you may want for your car, be it a 1926 Maxwell or a 1954 Super-Spin.

In fact, most of the easier numbers to remember, like 1, 2, 3, 10, 1000 or 77 are already taken, having been spoken for and reserved some time ago.

Number one license issued in the county is to John Vanderzicht, of Oak Harbor, State Director of Parks, who has had the same number for quite a few years. Number 2 belongs to Ed Hingston of San de Fica, while Frank Coates of Coupeville owns license number 3.

Edwin Sherman of Coupeville, with license number 7, took the number from the number his father-in-law, John Higgins, had. He has had the same number issued to him since 1941.

Number 13 was sent to Ed DeLeeuw, Oak Harbor mechanic, who had requested a small number. When asked what his reaction was to the superstition endowed digits he replied that while most folks thought the number would be unlucky, resulting in collisions, wrecks, etc., he added gleefully that he, the otherwise unlucky number would not bother him any.

Numbers held by owners of cars in previous years were most sought after, auditor's office clerks said. Telephone numbers and box numbers were also requested regularly. Date of birth of a member of the family could have something to do with a request, and small numbers were always in demand.

Jim Cook of Coupeville came up with 1234, and Lawyer James Zylstra still has number 100 as his number. In Oak Harbor, Joe Maher holds number 99 for the sixth consecutive year. He said it had no significance except that it was the same number as the highway.

Ralph and Warren Lindsay of Coupeville took numbers 5 and 10 respectively, and Robert Hancock has number 77 for the tenth year.

Dean Davis of Oak Harbor drew number 66 without request and to date has had no offer from a brewery. "I just took what they gave me," he said.

Mrs. Helen Baker, superintendent of schools, has number 999, and Ted Dangard, County road boss, has no. 1000.

This doesn't mean, however, that there are just the old run-of-the-mill numbers like 384, 751 and 209 left. Oh my no. There are lots of exciting numbers left for sale. It

Stan Nye leaves for Lino School; Tommy Takes Over

Stan Nye, foreman of the Whidbey Press Printing plant in Oak Harbor left Saturday for Spokane where he will spend the next two months at a linotype machinist's school before returning to Oak Harbor to resume his farmship.

During Stan's absence, his duties will be assumed by Lyman "Tommy" Thomas, who returned to the Whidbey Press employ recently after conquering an allergy to printer's ink.

Stan Nye has been foreman of the printing plant since the departure of Ray Lecture, who is presently employed by the Courier Times at Sedro Woolley.

"Tommy" is well known to local residents, having been employed by the Whidbey Press for nearly two years. He was forced to leave the printing business last year by an allergy and before returning to Oak Harbor was employed at the Walla Walla Union Bulletin as a salesman.

"Tommy" has plenty of experience in the printing line. Before coming to Oak Harbor the first time, he was in charge of his own printing plant in Seattle for six years. He and his wife, Jean, and small daughter are now living in their home at Penn Cove Park.

Mrs. Charles Lester is recuperating at her home from a mild case of poliomyelitis, and is being attended by her mother, Mrs. Davenport, who came from Seattle this week to be with her daughter. Mrs. Lester was stricken last week.

Mrs. Farlin Sahli has been taking her place at the school cafeteria while she is ill.
