Coupeville Civic Club Sparks Drive For Playground Equipment

The Coupeville Civic Improvement club this week sounded a call for the community to pitch in to help with the Community playground, that deserving project which has blossomed this summer from a vacant lot to a place where from 15 to 20 children may be found at most any time of the day and evening, playing safely and happily.

The club, which consists now of 35 members, met on August 4 at the Coupeville Fire hall to lay plans for the program which will provide Coupeville children with the much needed recreation field. Dues have been set at $5 a year per couple, and new members are welcome at any time.

Among the projects for the year, beside the playground equipment, are continuance of the Easter egg hunt, Fourth of July fireworks display, public Christmas tree and celebration, and children's activities. Over $700 has been spent by the group since January, besides much donated time and labor in the community.

Other activities of the club have included pouring a new cement approach to replace the broken down steps on the pavilion in the park, new windows in the pavilion, and a sanding job on the floor as soon as the Light Company wires it.

A drinking fountain will also be placed there, and the pavilion made safe and usable again by community groups. A vote of thanks is extended to Pete Pakkema of Oak Harbor Radio for the use of his loud speaker for advertising the bi-monthly table games.

Two pieces of playground equipment have been installed in the new community playground, a 20 foot slide, costing a total of $175 and a merry-go-round costing a total of $216. This is a total of over $390 including freight on the equipment.

The Coupeville Lions club donated $300 toward this, which was greatly appreciated by the group. Two bake sales and a dance have added to the treasury, constantly depleted by necessary expenditures. It was pointed out at the last meeting of the club that any donations contributed by parents, grandmothers or others toward the playground project would be appreciated also. Contributions of this sort may be made to Mrs. Dave Wells, treasurer of the club.

"It is wonderful how the people in the community have responded to our cause," said Mrs. Emerson Faris, officer of the new club. "It is a grand thing to know that children are playing together on a playground instead of on the beaches, unsupervised, and in danger of drowning, or roaming the streets looking for something to do."

More Equipment
Now the club is asking the community to pitch in to help complete the playground, making it one of the best in the area. Needed equipment and facilities include a backstop for the ball field, a jungle gym set, and a heavy duty set of swings. To augment their income, the group holds an evening of table games each second and fourth Friday, from 8 to 10 p. m. at the recreation hall in Coupeville. Everyone is welcome to attend, and EVERYONE IS WELCOME TO JOIN THE CLUB!

President of the group is G. W. Hesselgrave, secretary is Mrs. W. Lindsay, treasurer is Mrs. Dave Wells and reporter is Mrs. Emerson Faris.

School to Open Tuesday Sept. 1

Coupeville school authorities announced final preparations were being made for the opening of school on Tuesday, September 1. On Monday the teaching staff will meet to coordinate schedules under the direction of Superintendent Eddie Dwyff.

The complete teaching staff will be announced next week, as well as beginning activities for the high school student body.

Complete renovation of the buildings have taken place, with floors resanded and painted or varnished, walls redecorated, and minor replacements made. In the cafeteria the floor has been painted and the walls painted in restful shades of green. Hot lunches will be served as usual this year.

The school bus covering the San de Fuca area will take the following route: starting at Elmer Morris' home, to San de Fuca via Grasser's corner, then to Cheney's house to turn around. Back past Baker's home, the bus will turn west off the highway to Power's road, thence north to the Van Dam road; west on the west beach road and on to Coupeville. The above schedule is subject to change after school starts.

At a meeting at County Superintendent Helen Baker's office in the courthouse Monday, school superintendents met to discuss schedules as get the districts coordinated for the school year. Present were Eddie Dwyff of Coupeville, John Milroy of Langley and Willard Gilbert of Oak Harbor.

Muzzall, Loers Farms to be Featured In Annual Cattle Club Field Day

The annual Island County Guernsey Cattle Club field day is scheduled to be held Saturday, August 22.

The field day will have as special guest Mr. Ivan H. Loughary, extension dairy specialist from the State College of Washington. Mr. Loughary is well known here in the county having formerly been chairman for the Jersey Cattle Breed Association. He also has visited in the county several times during the past year.

Loughary will be chief judge for the activities by members of the Cattle Club and their guests. Activities will get underway at 10:00 a. m. on the Lyle Muzzall farm located on Scenic Heights road. Lyle and son, Bob, will select several classes of cattle to be judged. After participating in judging of these cattle, the group will move on to the Loersland farm. Ben and Bernice Loers located on the Swantown road.

Westland to Tell GOP Achievements

Congressman Jack Westland will report on the accomplishments to date, of the Eisenhower Administration at the Annual Picnic of the Second District Republicans.

The picnic will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday, August 23, at Cranberry Lake Deception Pass State Park.

Republican elected officials and party leaders will be present, and a record attendance is expected at this first picnic in many years when the pavilion will be restored to its former usefulness.

While we and the walrus have found time to talk of many things, we will pass on the "bright saying" of a kindergarten student. The teacher, who was being married, was asking some of her pupils to be in her wedding party.

"Would you like to be my train bearer, Richard?" she asked.

Richard looked nonplussed for a moment.

"What kind of a bear costume would I have to have, teacher?" he asked politely.

Jellies Added to Home Economics Dept

Through an oversight, jellies were omitted from the Home Economics department in the Island County Fair. Premier list superintendent, Mrs. Howard Hellman said this week.

For those who plan to enter jellies at the Fair this year, prizes will be awarded for entries in each of the following classifications: Strawberry, wild blackberry, raspberry, loganberry, red huckleberry and display of four jars of assorted jellies.

The entries in the four-jar display must be in uniform containers, she said.

WCTU Ladies Picnic Plan Fair Booth

WCTU ladies met on Friday afternoon at the City park for their annual picnic and institute. Ten members were present.

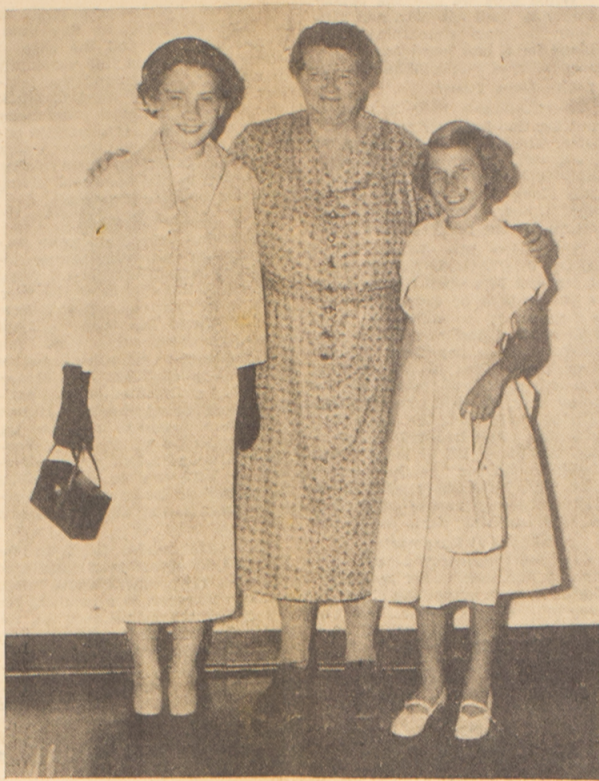

Plans were made for a booth at the Island County Fair, and Mrs. Mabel Meng was appointed chairman of the project.

SPEND DAY

On Wednesday of last week a group of old friends of the C. I. Wamakers from Port Townsend spent the day with them. They were Mr. Fred Bailey, a friend of Mr. Wamakers for over 60 years, Freda Hiffand, Mrs. McCurdy and Mrs. Werner.

SEATTLE GUESTS

Guests Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Arnold were Mr. and Mrs. John Cooke of Seattle who had spent the week vacationing on Orcas Island.

CONGRATS—Mrs. Fern McGregor gives congratulatory hugs to Betty Jo Schreiber and Patricia Clark after the 4-H Dress Revue held in the Courthouse last Wednesday. Betty Jo and Patricia will represent the county in the State dress revue at the State 4-H Fair in Yakima, October 1 and 2. Betty Jo is a member of the Coupeville Crafts club and Patricia is a member of the Needles and Spoons club.

Greenbank Forest Fire Brought Under Control

State and County Fire wardens battled a 15-acre timber fire near Greenbank Sunday only to have it jump the fire trail on Monday to destroy 15 more acres before it could be brought under control.

Navy men and a bulldozer from NAS Whidbey were called to the scene, and Forestry department men and a pumping unit from Sedro Woolley worked desperately to check the blaze. Although it was under control by Tuesday crews are still working to keep it within bounds.

Another fire started in the timber at Long Point on Friday and the Coupeville Fire department men went to subdue the blaze. With the aid of the country water truck and the Coupeville unit, the fire was stopped after burning an area about the size of three city blocks.

The fire was on the property of Mickey Clark and Ed Sherman and endangered one home before it was brought under control.

County Fire Warden Henry Hilberink was called to another fire, this time in the driftwood at Key-stone, on Sunday night about 9 p. m. By Monday this blaze was under control.

Saturday the Oak Harbor fire department was called out three times, to fires started by persons burning garbage. It was pointed out by firemen that burning garbage at this time of year and especially in such a dry season is highly dangerous, as grass is like tinder and may lead to a serious fire.

Wheat Farmers Vote for Control

Wheat farmers all over the United States voted last week overwhelmingly in favor of placing their acreage harvest under government control for the sake of government prices which is 90 percent of parity.

Here in Island county the vote was just a trifle over 50 percent of the farmers, with 13 voting for; 3 against and two votes were sent to Lincoln county with a Yes vote, according to Jack Varney of the PMA office.

Excessive Speed Causes Fatality On South Whidbey

Excessive speed, combined with a blowout, has caused Island county's first traffic death for the year 1953.

The victim was 69-year-old Stephen Bevilacqua of Clinton, who died Saturday morning in an Everett hospital, four days after his car sheared off a telephone pole about two miles south of Greenbank.

The county's first traffic fatality of the year might not have died except for a weak heart. But according to C. T. Peterson, investigating officer, Mr. Bevilacqua would still be alive but for the accident.

Peterson, a state patrolman, said the accident occurred Tuesday of last week when Bevilacqua attempted to pass a logging truck while traveling at approximately 75 miles an hour. A tire blew out, the driver lost control and the car went off the road on the left hand side, shearing off a telephone pole and slamming up against a stump.

Bevilacqua was taken to an Everett hospital suffering from a facial lacerations, a concussion and bruises and injuries to the chest. He died at 3:10 a. m. Saturday.

"A blowout at a reasonably safe speed—say 40 to 50 miles an hour—might not have been fatal," Peterson pointed out. "At 70 to 75 miles an hour it was impossible to control the car."

Peterson also reported another south end accident, this one luckily not fatal. Ten-year-old Joe Adams of Clinton fell out of a pickup truck driven by his father at 7:15 Friday evening of last week. The accident occurred while Joe's father, Harvey Adams, was negotiating a curve near Midvale. Young Adams suffered a broken collar bone and concussion. He was treated at the scene by Dr. Tom Corlew and taken to an Everett hospital where, at last report, he was still recovering.

"There is nothing illegal about kids riding in the back of trucks, pickups or trailers," Peterson pointed out. "But young Adams' accident is a lesson in safety for other parents to remember. His accident could well have been fatal. Luckily it wasn't."

Others were Axel Anderson, Clinton; Peter Amfeller, Langley; Harry Chapin, Langley; Jesse Davis, Langley; Frank Parker, Langley; Edwin J. Johnson, Langley; Frank Wilson, Langley; Floyd Grubb, Clinton; Rodney Goldthorpe, Langley; L. S. Cunningham, Langley.

M. M. Lenzie, Freeland; Ralph Melendy, Langley; Nellie Drake, Langley; Cora Mae Vietgutz, Clinton; Betty Johnston, Langley; Grace Hurt, Langley; Anna Larson, Clinton; Lillian Burgess, Langley; Alta Graham, Langley; Getty May Kallgren, Clinton.

Got an extra dollar, mister?

We aren't asking you to donate it; we're asking you to invest it. And on a sure thing, too. Interest? Well, I should say so, Mister, dividends on THIS investment will pile up. Here's the way it works.

You send your dollar (five or tens if you like) to the Coupeville Civic club and earmark it for the playground equipment. Tell 'em you'd like to have a share in helping to build a backstop for the ball field, or own a link in the heavy duty swings needed here. Think how your dollar, added to the other dollars donated or raised by the club, will help to make a real playground for the youngsters right in the center of your town, a playground where kids will be happy and contented for hours during the day.

If you are a parent, you'll know how this first part of the investment works, or even if you are a grandparent now, watching the second crop of little towheads grow up, you'll understand the need for such a place as a playground.

Interest? Oh yes, we'll come to that in a minute. It's just that we can find so many things to tell you about what that dollar can do that we haven't been able to stop. Like putting in a few park benches so busy moms can take the littlest ones to the park too, and watch them play. Like maybe a wading pool, and a grassy area, and a few quick growing trees for shade. Like sand boxes, and more swings and teeter-totters, and even a few bleachers for the ball diamond to get the townsfolk interested in the Little League movement.

But here's your interest, Mister. You'll collect it when the park playfield keeps children off an unsupervised dock, off unsafe beaches, and saves perhaps several little lives. You'll clip your coupons regularly when you see what a playfield will do toward providing a safe place for children who would be roaming the streets for "something to do."

You'll jingle it in your pockets when the pre-teen agers have no incentive toward delinquency; when the ball diamond looks better to them than shooting out street lights or breaking windows.

And you'll peel it off that roll when you see what CAN be done in the City of Coupeville for the children.

Why, Mister, you can't lose! It's an INTERESTING project!

An admiral with a rare sense of humor was discussing tactics with his staff one day. Now for goodness sake, gentlemen, he said, don't all say 'yes' until I finish talking!

ISLAND COUNTY AGENT SAYS

by Lawrence Thie

H. E. Wichers, Extension Rural Architecture Specialist was here in Island County this past week to assist with special building problems.

While here we had the opportunity to work with Mr. and Mrs. John Bultman concerning their plans for a new home out on the East side of North Whidbey opposite Hope Island.

The Bultmans have a magnificent location for their proposed new home. The day we were there was ideally clear and the view was something to behold. Three huge maple trees along with a back drop of other timber furnished an ideal setting for the proposed new home.

While here Mr. Wichers and I stopped briefly to see the new home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Bishop located just outside of Coupeville. The Bishop's have a wonderful home with a great deal of space and an ideal setting. They have included some novel ideas in the planning and construction of their home that I feel sure will add much to their satisfaction in using the home. They still have some finishing to do inside the house but it is in a very liveable condition at the present time. They have the satisfaction (as well as the economy) of doing much of this finishing work themselves.

Looks at Raspberries
Mrs. Burt Kennedy asked me to stop by and look at her raspberries the other day, suspecting either insect or disease damage. Upon investigation I believe that the only damage present is a result of the dry weather.

Contrary to some of the news stories and common belief in this area, we are very short of rain here on Whidbey Island. Last year's rainfall was approximately 14 inches and to date this year I a rather low quality of wheat with many shriveled grains.

No Known Treatment

According to Marion Harris, Extension plant pathologist at the State College, there is no known treatment that will prevent damage from this root rot. Dr. Harris states that treatment of the seed for smut is a good protection measure but no cure. He feels that the best thing to do is keep the wheat in a good growing condition, by having a good seed bed, using good quality seed with proper and adequate fertilization. (Then, of course, we can order proper weather, that will also be a big factor.)

Dr. Harris feels that the mild yet cold damp winter that we had last year was a definite factor in the development of the root rot disease. That, of course, coupled with the continued cool damp weather last spring. Explaining that statement about the winter above, I mean that if we had had a really cold winter, wheat would have become dormant and survived much better than with the semi-winter weather that we had, which did not put plants into a complete stage of dormancy but permitted them to struggle along. That, then, with the cooler weather following this spring was very damaging to plant life.

Housing Pullets

This is the season of the year when many poultrymen are housing their pullets for the winter laying flock. So many times the question comes up, "shall we house that additional 50 or 100 birds even though it may crowd the others, somewhat or shall we send them to the market at the present time?"

John Miller, Extension Poultry Specialist at the State College quotes data from records kept by poultrymen in the State last year. In 1952 according to these records which were analyzed by Art Cagle, Extension Farm Management Specialist, there was a net profit of $2.39 per bird for the average flock owner. Birds produced an average of 217 eggs per year. Death losses averaged approximately 10 per cent. Production costs per bird averaged $8.93 each. This figure includes $7.43 for feed. While these figures themselves are interesting they do not help solve the problem on your individual farm.

Mr. Miller points out that many times when we are deciding whether to put in the extra 100 birds or not, we are thinking that if we could only increase our volume we would increase the profits. That is not true.

While I have quoted average figures above, the spread in the figures from individual records kept ranges from a profit of $.01 per bird up to approximately $3.50 per bird. Keeping a small flock that is not crowded and composed of top quality birds, which we can feed well and give excellent care, is much more likely to show a profit than keeping those extra birds under crowded conditions with perhaps inadequate feed and or inadequate and improper facilities.

Records Help

Record keeping can be a great help in determining what's happening on our own poultry farm. Record books and record keeping sheets are available here and will be glad to help you interested in keeping records on your flock. As a special service these records can be summarized at the State College with an analyses being made showing where your profit or loss occurs. Individual figures are, of course, kept confidential at all times. If interested give us a call at the Extension office in Coupeville.

Rotarians Meet Patrolman Socially

The road from Oak Harbor to Dean's Corner gets the most attention from State Patrolman Cliff Gowler, he revealed when he appeared as guest speaker for Rotarian club Friday.

Gowler, state patrolman for the Mount Vernon, LaConner, Edson, Anacortes and Oak Harbor area, said 44 per cent of the accidents in his section happen on the stretch of road between Oak Harbor and Dean's corner. Bad roads combined with careless drivers contribute to the accident total, Gowler said.

Gowler told Rotarians that their age group accounts for about 17 per cent of the state's accidents and that 16.5 per cent of the accidents in the state are a result of following other cars too closely.

"We recommend 20 feet for every 10 miles of speed per hour," he said. "And if another car passes and pulls in between, the good defensive driver grinds his teeth and eases back until he reaches a safe distance again."

Exceeding a reasonably safe speed is the second largest cause of accidents in the State, according to the patrolman. Unsafe speed causes more than 12 per cent of the accidents.

Gowler pointed out that "a reasonably safe speed" does not mean 50 miles an hour—the speed limit. "State law calls for safe and prudent driving," he declared. "Most of our roads are posted with 50 miles per hour speed limits. On some roads however, driver's traveling under the speed limit can be arrested for unsafe driving."

Driving too fast at intersections, driving too fast for weather conditions, improper lane travel and improper passing were other causes of accidents discussed by Gowler.

Drinking, usually considered one of the greatest causes of accidents, falls seventh in the list of causes, according to Gowler. He added, however, that in April of this year, 497 accidents in the state were caused by liquor affected drivers.

Gowler credited the NAS safety campaign and the Navy patrol with materially reducing the accident toll in his area this year.

"The accident picture has changed considerably," he declared. "This time last year the roads weren't safe. Cars were overturned and driven into ditches all along the road."

Gowler said some of the toughest customers to convince are men just back from Korea. "A fine doesn't mean anything," he said. "When I was in the service we used to put a wad of money in our pocket just for fines."

"The worst part of my job is catching up with a lad going 70 to 80 miles an hour. That means that I've got to go 80 or 90. And when I do catch up, he's sitting there calm and collected and I'm shaking like a leaf."

"I've got a wife and kids at home."

Other callers on Sunday at the Good Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Monson were Mrs. Velma Damon and Mrs. Charles Bos and daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Volkman of Everett called on old friends in Coupeville Thursday, including Mrs. Capaan and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tufts.

The Texan seeing his first motorcycle, seized his rifle and fired. "Get the varmit!" asked his wife. "Nope, admitted the Texan. I still hear the critter, but I shore made it turn that man loose."

Coupeville Man Up for Election

Up for election this Thursday as one of three nominees for a director's post in the Western Co-operative Hatcheries is Robert L. Eggerman, Route 1, Box 201, Coupeville.

Results of the balloting are to be announced at the annual Co-op meeting at Fidelity Grange hall. Other nominees from the Mount Vernon district are W. L. King of Marysville and Harry L. Patchen of Mount Vernon.

"Co-op Chick News," a Western Hatcheries publication, said of Mr. Eggerman's candidacy:

"Not many poultry farms are as beautifully located as the Eggerman place, three miles South of Coupeville on a bluff overlooking Puget Sound and the site of old Fort Casey."

"It contains 165 acres, 65 of them cleared and used for crops and grain and hay as well as for pasturing 40 head of beef cattle."

"Mr. Eggerman commenced farming with Co-op White Leghorns in 1949. He now keeps a flock of 2500 Washington White Fryer breeders."

"Mr. Eggerman graduated from the University of Washington in 1938, and served as a first lieutenant in the Army in World War II. In 1949 he used his G. I. rights to take a quarter's work at California Poly-technical College in San Luis Obispo, specializing in poultry, and feeds and feeding. He is a member of San De Puca Grange and the Washington Farmers Co-operative Association."

"Although Mr. Eggerman used to be an enthusiastic skier, his chief recreations now are playing tennis with his wife or going to the movies with his children, James 4, and Donnie, 2."

Not just a LUBRICANT

If all that was needed in the diet was a lubricant any one of the various oils, vegetable or mineral would be satisfactory.

Any oil can be made palatable, by the addition of various flavorings, a certain limited amount of nutrition can even be put into it, but it still remains a dead oil with additives, which can never take the place, in the human diet, of butter.

For butter is made from milk, which nature herself produces as a proper food for children and grown-ups too.

Here at Darigold we use every known scientific and sanitary method to see that the life-giving, health building, elements of the natural milk are retained, undiminished and unimpaired, and in such form as to be easily assimilated and thus aid digestion.

Islanders Featured In Co-op Magazine

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Haugen, poultry farmers on the North End of the Island, were featured this week in Co-op Chick News, a publication put out by Western Co-operative Hatcheries.

The story about the enterprising Haugens and their poultry farm reads:

"Some people tell us you can't make money with chickens," says Thora Haugen, "but we have a new car that proves you can't! It was just three years ago that Ole and Thora Haugen, who live at the north end of Whidbey Island, decided it was time for Mr. Haugen to give up his job at the nearby naval air station and start improving their 10-acre ranch. At that time it was mostly stumps. Today, Haugen's Poultry Farm boasts a comfortable home in addition to tight buildings for 2500 layers and about the same number of fryers. Mr. Haugen built everything himself, with the chickens providing most of the financing as they went along.

Although the Haugens had "hardly seen a hen" before they bought their first lot of 1,000 straight run Co-op White Leghorns, they proved to be good poultry managers. One secret of their success, perhaps, is that they're really fond of the chickens. "Chickens are the best of friends," says Mrs. Haugen. "They're so agreeable!" The straight run Leghorns yielded over 500 pullets, and the Haugens have since brooded layers every December and March, and fryers four times a year.

Mr. Haugen says the chickens pay better than his old job at the air base. Says Mrs. Haugen: "It's too bad we can't take the chickens for a ride in the new car, because they paid for it."

Greenbank News

By J. W. MacInnis

Last week the farmers in the country voted to continue subsidies on farm products. It reminds me of the story about the old lady who was loaded down with parcels and about to board a bus. Said the conductor, "Let me give you a hand, Missus." The old lady raised her head, "No thank you, young man, I'd best manage alone," she said, "cause if I get help today, I'll want it tomorrow." There probably are many reasons why the farmers voted as they did, and one could be because the farmers now buy, instead of just sell, and sugar, 99 percent of packaged cereals, 59 percent sliced bacon, 50 percent margarine, 96 percent roll toilet paper, etc. (Wonder what happens now to all the old catalogs?) So along with the farmers we all can keep digging down deep into our pockets. Sometimes it just seems to cost more to make history than it's worth.

Great weather for picnics... about 30 members of the Greenbank Progressive Club gathered together on Pratt's Beach last Thursday evening, and feasted on fried chicken, salmon, and they heard interesting stories about by-gone Greenbank over a cheerful bonfire.

The Greenbank Garden Club enjoyed a delightful picnic on Monday at Betty Engstrom folks beach near Coupeville. Betty and Edith Magnuson and her mother Mrs. V. Magnuson arrived early to get the coffee made, and to have hot coals ready for the cooking of the picnic meal. The members brought their lunches wrapped in aluminum foil, and on arrival placed their packages on the hot coals, and half an hour later, presto, a feast fit for a king, all ready to eat and to enjoy, you said it, with gusto. The guest of the day was Mrs. George Darlington but she was prevailed on to becoming our newest member. However, she can be in attendance only in the summer for the next year or so at least.

Hunter Allen was able to be at home for his birthday last Wednesday. A salmon bake party was given him on the Cottage Grove Beach, with many of his Yakima friends present to make him feel a year older. Hunter has been lucky to have several weekends in a row at home.

Last weekend the Vince Schwartzes reunited with Mrs. Schwartz's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Sherran, and daughters, Nancy and Orlean, of Spokane, and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and sons, Craig and Steve, of Seattle. They picnicked at Maxwellton on Friday, and on Sunday at Deception Pass. The men folk spent some lucky hours fishing off Bush Point on Saturday.

The Bill Lucases picnicked in their yard on Sunday. Present were their house guest, Mr. Bill Eckart of the Eckart Bros. Plumbing and Heating Co. of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tietjen, and the Allen and Morris Franks. The Tietjens regretfully wound up their vacation in their summer home on the beach. The Walter Kirkhams are happy that theirs was just beginning.

The Floyd Howards were busy last week entertaining relatives from Wenatchee. Gay picnic parties on the Maiting Bay beach were the vogue for them.

Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Graham and Joey and Gretchen were guests of the Joe Nichols' over the weekend. They and the Chips Careys and Joe Nichols drove to Bayview Sunday to watch the salmon derby winners come in. And speaking of the derby, Floyd Howard was one of the cooks for the event.

Mr. Jack Payton arrived at home the latter part of the week, and is home to stay.

Mrs. Harvey Wainio's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Oikanen, and her brother, Mr. Ray Hendrickson of Sand Point, Idaho, were guests at the Wainio home last week. While they were here, they all attended the Gold Cup Races.

More Idaho visitors here last week were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Link and children of Nampa. Mr. Link is Smokey's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webley are vacationing in California, gone a week Sunday, returning next Sunday.

A faraway guest visited the Northwest last week, Miss K. O'Neill of Barbados, West Indies, who spent three days of it on the shore of our Holmes Harbor as the guest of the George Cundys.

Mr. Barney Heine of Langley Hardware Store was passing out cake and coffee to all comers last Saturday. We happened to be two of the lucky ones to be treated. Mr. Heine was celebrating his first anniversary as owner of the Langley hardware store.

Congratulations from Greenbank.

A gay and happy Samba party was hosted at the Joe Nichols' home with Mrs. Chips Carey assisting, last Wednesday afternoon. Those present were Mesdames George Darlington, A. Hutchins, Earl Garber, Jack Payton, Bill Lucas, Will Murdoch and L. MacInnis.

Mrs. Jack Payton and Mrs. Solly Hufford were in conference with Mrs. Chips Carey last Friday. Something to do with the programs for the Greenbank Garden Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Solly Hufford entertained guests from Thursday to Sunday last week. Mr. and Mrs. Stratton of Seattle. The time was spent between the Huffords' Greenbank home and the one at Lagoon Point.

Prof. and Mrs. Curtis Elliott and children, and the Art Bratsbergs took a trip to Hurricane Ridge near Port Angeles last Sunday. Hurricane Ridge is to be the new ski lodge, an appropriate place for the sport, for the folks got quite chilled up there, and only this time of the year already yet. The Elliotts and Bratsbergs have adjoining properties at Lagoon Point, and have had a mutual well drilled. Scurlock and Hodgins, well drillers, hit water at 180 ft. through solid blue clay. The water came up 90 ft. so the folks are lucky to have plenty of water now. The E. N. Christies left the Bratsbergs home last Tuesday to return to their home in Tarra Haute, Indiana.

The Misses Paula and Nancy Jackson went to their home in Tacoma last Thursday returning to Greenbank and their berry-picking job at the Farm, on Sunday. I don't know what the quota at the Greenbank Farm is by now, but a week or more ago it was well over 600 barrels. That's a lotta berries.

Last Friday when in Everett on business, I ran into Mrs. A. Hutchins and Trudy here and there several times. The ladies were shopping, but I was just waiting around, sweating it out in the heat. I caught a glimpse of Mr. Bill Grubb of Maxwellton who was waiting around at the same place of business. Whew, what a hot day.

I saw Mr. Gus Peterson of Greenbank and Langley on his way to Paine Field and to Everett the same day.

A lively forest fire broke out last Tuesday just west of Colvin's store at Classic. The telephones were kept busy by neighbors and passing motorists who kept reporting it to the Langley and Coupeville fire wardens. Some unlucky motorists had a blowout just north of the Colvin store, ran into a guide post and knocked out the Coupeville lines, which included the store. Across the road at the Earl Garber home the Langley lines were intact, and for some time the Garber home was a busy place with people coming in to report the fire and the accident. In the meantime the fire was gathering momentum until Mr. Miller was able to get help. Between 40 to 50 men were sent by the State from Sedro Woolley, and along with a bulldozer helping, the fire was put out before another day. As usual the thoughtful kindness of the Earl Garbers came to the rescue with pottles of coffee for the firefighters. It didn't seem just right to have a pall of smoke settle down over their home that night so it was hard to get a good, clean, breath of air.

One night last week two fishermen from Port Angeles had their motor in their small boat conk out, and the two drifted along helplessly for hours, finally landing at Lagoon Point after dark. They started for Bush Point, but took the wrong road, and landed in Greenbank somewhere toward midnight. They tried to phone at several places, but people were frightened of two strange men at night, and they weren't able to get any help. Finally toward morning they arrived at the Earl Garber home, where they not only were able to use the phone, but to get hot coffee and a hearty breakfast. The men hadn't had anything to eat or drink for a day and a night. Luckily for them, we have people like the Earl Garbers.

Guests of the L. MacInnises on Sunday were: Miss Florence Davidson, Mr. George Rees, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dawes, all of Seattle.

Art Bratsberg and Jack Engstrom, after several unsuccessful fishing trips with their families, got their heads together and decided to go together. It worked, for both came back with three each, the largest weighing ten pounds.

Mrs. George Bayles is enjoying the days basking in the Greenbank sunshine while hubby commutes to his position in Seattle.

The four Franks, Allens and Mortises, are vacationing in their beach homes. The Allen Franks took a day off to drive to Yakima on Monday. Congratulations to Edith Magnuson. She passed her drivers test and got her driver's license on Monday.

METHODIST GROUP MEET
Methodist church officer groups meeting this week were the Youth Fellowship council, held at the parsonage, with president Lani Detrick presiding; the WSCS executive council held at the Clark Sherman home on Thursday evening, and the Board of Trustees meeting with the Robert Hancock.

RAINBOWS SLUMBER
Rainbow girls enjoyed a "slumber party" on Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mecklenburg. Thirteen girls took part in a night of no sleep, and lots of fun. Mrs. Mecklenburg furnished refreshments. Mr. Mecklenburg is Daddy Advisor for the group.

TO MEET AT BEACH
The WSCS Rug Committee will meet Aug. 20 at the summer home of Mrs. James Zylstra at Snakelum Point. The group met on Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. A. K. Capana.
