

Just Among Ourselves

The Boss is an extremely lucky woman.

It must be a great pleasure for her to have the benefit of constant association with a sunny disposition like mine. Very few things disturb my equanimity. Of course, if I am reading, eating or standing around in the way, I don't like to be disturbed. Even then, I'm not bothered by anything except the activities of The Heir, the noise of a radio program, sounds from outside the house and similar unusual occurrences.

But the really remarkable part is that even when I am bothered, I say very little about it. Radio announcers seldom drive me to beefing for more than half an hour at a time, although a radio play can upset even my good nature to the point where I might shout or sulk for 60 or 70 minutes. Otherwise, you'd hardly know I was in the house.

The Boss is an extremely lucky woman.

I never mess up the house with cigarette ashes. On occasion, I may scatter paper all over the floor, track mud through the house or spill ink on a tablecloth. But I never throw cigarette ashes on the floor.

Few men are so handy around the house as I. Of course, my ability is the executive type, so I generally limit my help to constructive suggestions regarding the placement of furniture, hanging pictures or choosing furnishings. Even then, I don't insist on doing the work myself—I let The Boss attend to that. But I never hesitate to help her all I can by volunteering from my own extensive fund of advice.

Any time that anything goes wrong around the house, I'm always willing to jump in and fix it if I can. Of course, if it's something complicated such as replacing a burned-out fuse plug, I can't be expected to do that. But even then, I'm willing to run over to the neighbor's and ask him to come over and fix it. What more could a person want?

The Boss is an extremely lucky woman.

She can enjoy herself at home in ease and comfort all day long, while I must go through the wear and tear of earning a living, day in, day out.

Even before I get to work, the daily grind begins. Every morning I must struggle into my clothes (the struggle gets tougher every time I gain a pound) hack the whiskers from my classic map and force down a breakfast. Then I dash off to work, a mile an hour.

Arriving, breathless, at the office, I begin by tearing open all the mail, using only the brute strength of my brawny arm. This exhausting feat accomplished, I enter upon an endless round of smashing typewriter keys, shouting into the telephone and occasionally pushing a massive pen across the pages of a ledger.

Many is the weary day I have been able to sit down for only four or five hours at a stretch.

Meanwhile, how is The Boss passing away the time? Her trivial duties include only preparing breakfast, feeding The Heir, washing dishes, straightening up the house, bathing The Heir, preparing luncheon, feeding The Heir, washing the dishes, washing clothes, ironing, scrubbing, preparing dinner, feeding The Heir, washing the dishes and getting The Heir ready for bed. Occasionally, she helps fritter away the time by doing a little canning, washing the windows or some such simple chore.

The Boss is an extremely lucky woman. But sometimes I can't help wondering why I am the only person in the whole wide world who seems to realize that fact.

Harold Dixon and his grandmother, Mrs. Van Kirk, left Tuesday morning for Philadelphia, Penn. They have been vacationing for several weeks on Whidby Island.

Mrs. Odell Rogers returned to her home at Lodi, Calif., Monday morning. She had been visiting her sister, Mrs. George Muncester.

Festival Tickets Offered to Public; Parade Chairmen Announce Prizes

RESIDENTS RESPOND "IN SPLENDID WAY" TO ADVANCE SALES

Association Enters Float In Potlatch Parade At Seattle

COUPEVILLE—Luther Weedon, president of Coupeville Water Festival association, announced this week that Bill Howard has been appointed to have charge of gates at the ninth annual festival Aug. 12-14. Mr. Howard will appoint his assistants, with the approval of the festival executive committee.

Coupeville residents are responding in splendid fashion to the appeal to buy tickets, according to Mrs. Robert Cushman, in charge of advance ticket sales. Bette Miller and Eunice Vane, who are collecting the admission fees, report nearly 100 per cent sales.

Coupeville residents have their choice between purchasing tickets or membership cards. The price is the same and the membership card admits its owner to the festival.

G. W. Hesselgrave, vice president of the festival association, notified the executive committee Monday that he expects between 12 and 16 11-man canoes to be entered in the big race Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 13 and 14.

The events will be broadcast by an announcer car furnished through the courtesy of the Standard Oil company. F. T. Garesche will be the announcer. Additional publicity for the Coupeville festival was obtained Friday of last week when the association entered a float in the Seattle Potlatch parade. While the entry was not awarded a prize, it was among those selected to make a special appearance Friday night at Seattle civic auditorium. Previous plans prevented the festival association's being able to take advantage of the invitation.

BEETLE IS IMPORTED BY ROBERT Y. PRATT TO COMBAT EARWIGS

Zoology Student Describes Plans To Destroy Pest

COUPEVILLE—Holding forth a promise of relief for growers whose flowers have been attacked by earwigs, Robert Y. Pratt of Coupeville revealed this week that he has imported a new variety of beetle to Whidby Island which destroys the pest.

Thirty-two specimens of the "earwig beetle", scientifically termed Pterostichus (Omasus) vulgaris, were captured by Mr. Pratt on the University of Washington campus July 14. The next day, he liberated them on the Island.

An additional 18, also brought from the University campus, were released July 20.

Mr. Pratt, a 1937 graduate of the University of Washington, explained that the beetles were accidentally imported from Europe to Seattle. They were first discovered in Seattle in 1930, when it was noticed that they destroyed the earwigs.

Due entirely to the inroads of the beetle, earwigs are not nearly so common in Seattle as they were formerly, according to Mr. Pratt.

July is the only month in which they can be moved to a new habitat. It will be approximately two years, according to the zoologist, before they will be really established on the Island.

The earwig beetles also have been released in several other parts of Washington.

Coupeville Firemen Will Meet This Week

COUPEVILLE—Members of Coupeville fire department will meet Friday night in the fire hall, Chief Al Sorgenfrei announced this week. The firemen did not hold any meetings during July.

ANNOUNCER CAR TO BE AT FESTIVAL

This Standard Oil announcer car has been secured through the efforts of Al Sorgenfrei to broadcast events at the ninth Annual Water Festival August 13 and 14. F. T. Garesche is the announcer.

YOUTH HOSTELERS RETURN FROM HIKE TO B. C. AND BACK

Eileen and Patty Miller, Charles Ruthford Describe Trip

COUPEVILLE—Eileen and Patty Miller and Charles Ruthford, first youth hostelers to hike the distance to Victoria and first youth hostelers from Coupeville, returned from their trip Monday morning. The following account of their journey was written for the Island County Times:

By Eileen Miller

With fond goodbyes and numerous admonitions, we three young hopefuls left the fair city of Coupeville with Chuck Ruthford to Oak Harbor, where our journey really started.

The first sign of distress was a slight ache in our necks caused either by the weight of the packs or the stretching necessary to take in all of the beautiful Whidby Island scenery. (Chamber of Commerce take notice)

Noon found us nearing Deception Pass but lunch was held up until the park was reached, although it was a good thing we didn't have to wait much longer, for I don't think we would have lasted. About 1:30 we left and began the last lap of the first day's journey—the hike to Lake Campbell hostel.

FIRE HAZARD LESS, SAYS W. STODDARD

COUPEVILLE—Higher humidity and lower temperature this week has somewhat decreased the fire hazard on Whidby Island, according to Fire Warden Walt Stoddard. Mr. Stoddard requested, however, that residents continue to exercise extreme care in building bonfires during the remainder of the month.

One fire was burning this week at Port Nugent, covering an area of 35 or 40 acres. The property is owned by Judge Lester Still.

Two small fires at the extreme south end of the Island were brought under control Monday with the assistance of 20 CCC boys from Lynden.

CLARK RECOVERS STOLEN HARNESS

COUPEVILLE—Sheriff Tom Clark Monday recovered a set of harness, valued at $73.95, stolen five months ago from R. P. Engle of Coupeville. The harness was discovered at Everson by the sheriff.

In connection with the theft, Sheriff Clark has arrested Gerald Greeno of Coupeville and Frank Kennedy of Oak Harbor. They will be arraigned for hearing August 16.

Aileen Benson, Harold Dixon, Mrs. Van Kirk and Mrs. Thomas Merryman motored to Seattle Monday.

Gladioli Blossoms Displayed by Black

COUPEVILLE—J. M. Black is proudly displaying to visitors a garden full of beautiful gladioli in full bloom, ranging in color from pure white to deep reds and purples.

More than 25 varieties of gladioli are represented in the garden. One fleur-de-lis in the collection measured six inches across. Mr. Black, who has been growing the flowers for five years, has been rewarded by winning numerous ribbons and awards in flower shows.

DR. LESLIE CHAFFEE ASSUMES PRACTICE OF DR. MCCARTNEY

New Practitioner To Be Readily Available To Patients

COUPEVILLE—Coupeville's long-felt need for a resident doctor was realized Monday, when Dr. Leslie M. Chaffee of Bremerton assumed the practice of Dr. Roy McCartney.

Dr. Chaffee, who is unmarried, is residing at the Starwana hotel.

The new practitioner announced on Monday that his office hours will make him readily available to Coupeville residents at almost any time. Dr. Chaffee plans to spend a portion of every morning on calls and the remainder of the morning in his Coupeville office.

When the doctor is out on calls, he can be readily reached in an emergency by calling the Coupeville office, where his office girl will be on duty every morning.

In addition, Doctor Chaffee will be in the Coupeville office Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 2 until 4 p. m. and Friday mornings from 10 until 12 noon.

He will be at his Oak Harbor office Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

Rainbow Members Inaugurate Plans For Formal Dance

COUPEVILLE—Plans for a formal dance September 5 were discussed by members of Coupeville assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, at their meeting Monday evening in Masonic hall.

Muriel Pickard was appointed dance chairman. Other committee members are Terry Benson, Patty Miller and Eunice Vane, orchestra; Ruth Oldenburg and Gladys Hanby, refreshments; Janet Geib, Evelyn Parker, Bette Miller, Mildred Johnson, Marion Olson and Bonnie Spencer, decorations; Marjorie Vane, chairman; Patty Finley, Marjorie Maylor and Ardis Olson, tickets.

The girls also made final plans for entering a float in the Coupeville Indian Water Festival parade August 14. Their next meeting is planned for August 15.

Professor and Mrs. Francis Sherwood and their daughters, Martha and Marilyn, called on Mrs. Elida Aubert last week.

Minahan-Engle Wedding Rites Are Solemnized

COUPEVILLE—Iris Ione Minahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Minahan of Oak Harbor, became the bride of Robert Ernest Engle Saturday evening, July 23. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Fletcher Long at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Engle, parents of the bridegroom.

Before the wedding, Melvin Arnold sang Guy d'Hardelot's "Because" accompanied by Margaret Wayland Smith, who also played the wedding march.

Entering the softly candle-light room on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, the bride made an unforgettable picture in her gown of white imported net, made with soft v-shaped neckline, tiny puffed sleeves banded with silk and very full skirt with narrow silk bands. Her fingertip length veil was made in bonnet style and held in place by waxed orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet

COMMISSIONERS SET UP PROJECT FOR COURTHOUSE

County Engineer Authorized To Apply For PWA Grant

COUPEVILLE—Meeting Monday in the court house, Island County commissioners approved plans for the proposed new court house and authorized County Engineer L. A. Wanamaker to prepare an application for a PWA grant to finance building the structure.

Estimated cost of the new court house is approximately $100,000. If the grant is approved, the Public Works administration will furnish 45 per cent of the total. It is believed that the county may put a bond issue to vote at the general election, to provide the remainder of the funds.

The plans prepared by Architects William Mallis and J. H. DeHart of Seattle call for a two-story, U-type, reinforced concrete structure. The building would be fireproof throughout.

Dimensions of the building will be 125 feet by 80 feet. On the ground floor are provided separate offices for the assessor, school superintendent, treasurer, county agent, county commissioners and welfare department. Adjoining the auditor's office will be a working vault—fireproof but provided with windows for light and ventilation.

On the second story will be the sheriff's offices, including cells for 12 men, women's cells, a mental cell, work room, dark room, jailer's room and a jail kitchen. Other offices on the floor will be occupied by the prosecuting attorney, county clerk and engineer.

On the top floor also will be located the courtroom, adjoining the judge's chambers and a jury room.

In the basement will be fuel and boiler rooms and storage vaults. The building will be heated by steam.

The complete project was forwarded to the PWA Wednesday.

POSTOFFICE OPENS IN NEW BUILDING

COUPEVILLE—Coupeville postoffice opened for business Monday morning in the new building owned by Bob Cushman, assistant postmaster.

The new structure, on which work is not yet quite completed, was built by Contractor Ralph Ward at an approximate cost of $2,400. Its dimensions are 20 by 40 feet.

Postmaster E. L. Mudgett revealed this week that he plans to ask the postoffice department for new mail boxes. If the request is granted, it will give Coupeville residents a new and modern postoffice in every detail.

FESTIVAL PARADE PLANS DISCUSSED BY COMMITTEEMEN

Daughters of Pioneers Invite Exhibits For Display

COUPEVILLE—Looking forward to the largest festival parade ever staged in Coupeville, Miss Eileen Miller, chairman, this week announced that the following prizes will be awarded participants in the Aug. 14 event:

Indian crew making best appearance, $11; best Indian character, $3; best Indian dance organization, $3; best club or fraternal float, $10; second best club or fraternal float, $5; second commercial float, $10; second best commercial float, $5.

All Indians will be required to take part in the grand parade. Approximately 15 canoe crews are expected to be represented.

Mrs. Ralph Ward, chairman of the children's and pet parade, this week announced plans for that event, scheduled for 1 p. m. Friday, Aug. 12.

All children in the parade should be in costume, Mrs. Ward emphasized. An attractive list of cash prizes is being arranged and all mothers are urged to enter their children in the event, which will officially inaugurate the ninth annual water festival.

Anyone possessing pioneer relics, photographs of pioneer men and women or other photographs relating to the early history of Whidby Island is asked to enter them in the exhibit being arranged by Whidby chapter, Daughters of the Pioneers of Washington.

THREE CANDIDATES SEEK SAME OFFICE

COUPEVILLE—Only three additional candidates filed this week for Island County's primary election, but they all filed for the same office—county commissioner from the first district.

The men to declare their candidacy were the incumbent, L. S. Cunningham of Langley, Republican; Albert Melsen of Langley, Democrat; R. O. Frear of Langley, Republican.

So far, the county commissioner's office in the first district has been the only to develop any opposition for the primary nomination, with both Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Frear seeking to be the Republican party choice.

W. C. Snyder Purchases Prairie Center Tract

COUPEVILLE—W. C. Snyder of Coupeville Monday announced the purchase of the Jim Pagani place at Prairie Center. The five-acre tract, which includes a residence, was sold to Mr. Snyder for $2,000 by Peter Pagani.

Luther Weedon negotiated the transaction.

MANY AT 4-H CAMP AT DECEPTION PASS

Leaders Thank Legion, Auxiliary For Help

OAK HARBOR—Forty regular members of county 4-H clubs were in attendance at the 4-H camp held at the old OCC headquarters during the past week. Wednesday evening, the time set for a special program, saw more than one hundred friends and parents of the members present.

Leaders express their thanks to the George Morris post of the American Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary for the help given them in the matter of playground equipment.

In the project work for girls under 14 years of age, Phyllis Funk received first prize, Alice Magladry, Elaine Smith and Mary Ella Smith second, and Lucy Smith and Harriet Smith third.

Lillian Dean, Peggy Parker, Evelyn Parker and Ellen Van Wieringen tied for first place in the group of girls 14 and over. Muriel Pickard and Mildred Reuble were second.

In the life saving class conducted by Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Markuson, Billie Astel received a ribbon for boys. Mary Ella Smith, Vivian Franzen, Evelyn Parker, Phyllis Funk and Margaret Simmons were given ribbons for the girls' division.

On Wednesday, fifteen Camano 4-H club members made an all day stay at the camp.

DISCUSS PEA MOTHS AT MEETING SAT'DAY

Committee Appointed, To Meet With State Horticulturist

OAK HARBOR—Approximately seventy-five farmers were gathered at the Oak Harbor high school Saturday to discuss the important question of checking the pea moths or to place a quarantine on those sections infested with the insects.

It was revealed at the meeting that the moth which has been rapidly making inroads in the Cornet district, spreads on the average of from five to six miles per year. Unless this pest is stamped out, in a short time the entire pea crop of the island will be endangered. The moth has now traveled as far south as the Weidenbach farm.

County Agent LaVern Freimann, appointed a committee of farmers representing various parts of the island to meet with State Superintendent of Horticulture Griener to discuss means of halting this invasion of the dreaded moth. Those named on the committee were: W. A. Schenaker, Karl Henni, L. B. Loers, Glenn Darst, Justus Hancock, Laurin Power, Neil Koetje, Reint Borgman, Wm. Izett and Fred Arnold.

This committee will meet with Griener whenever a convenient meeting time can be arranged.

Oiled Roads Now Open on Camano Is.

OAK HARBOR—According to word coming this week from County Commissioner Mitchell Wagner, road work has reached a new peak on Camano Island. Approximately 12 miles in all have been receiving a healthy coat of oil mix and is now open for the public.

Stretches of highway receiving improvement are: six miles on the Stanwood-Mabana road; one and one-half miles on the Stanwood-Camano road; three miles on the Stanwood-Madrona road and one mile of the Juniper Beach road. Also some patch work has been done to create a better surface on those parts of the highway receiving rough treatment.

OAK HARBOR—Approximately 100 members of Juan de Fuca grange and their families picnicked Tuesday evening at Weidenbach beach.

Potluck supper was served to the guests, who gathered around a huge bonfire. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing. The grangers report that an enjoyable time was had by all.

More Trouble With Union On Highway Work

OAK HARBOR—The proposition of North Whidby men receiving their share of the labor appears to have fallen through to a certain extent according to word coming this week from those local men who have been employed on the road program. Whidby men were to have their share of the skilled and unskilled labor and Monday, on the morning shift, all union men were employed on the trucks, a share of which were to have been operated by local workers.

Workers on the road feel that they are slowly but surely being squeezed out of the picture by the unions, the contractor, or both. Of this we are not certain.

Monday afternoon three local men were at work on the trucks in the afternoon shift, but none in the morning as the agreement originally called for.

On the dragline job, on which a local man was employed, a union man was substituted, not only working the one shift but both shifts in one day.

If local men do not receive their share of the work, those workers say another mass meeting will be called and matters will be ironed out.

AIRPORT PLANNED FOR NORTH WHIDBY

Island Is In Need Of An Adequate Field For Landing

OAK HARBOR—The possibility of establishing an airport at Oak Harbor was discussed at the meeting of county commissioners Monday afternoon when that group sat in regular session at the court house in Coupeville.

Judge Lester Still has agreed to donate a strip of land suitable for an airport on his property at Oak Harbor if such an enterprise can be carried out. The first step was taken Monday when Mayor Ray Maylor of Oak Harbor met with the county dads to outline plans made by the city council of Oak Harbor.

Plans and figures drawn up by engineers were shown the commissioners who appeared to feel that a suitable landing field at Oak Harbor would be worthwhile. 6,000 cubic yards of dirt will have to be moved to create a level surface.

The following was inserted in the minutes of the meeting: "In the matter of the proposed airport at Oak Harbor, the Board of County Commissioners of Island County, on motion approved the plan as submitted and agree to assist in its construction." How much assistance the county will give is not known.

It had previously been planned that this be made a county project but the commissioners felt that it should be made a city project.

As there is no airport fund in this county, an equipment plan will have to be worked out by the commissioners.

ED JONES, WAR VETERAN, BURIED

Freeland Man Buried At Bay View Last Saturday

LANGLEY—Burial services were held at the Bay View hall last Saturday for Edward Jones who died in the Marine hospital in Seattle July 27. The services were conducted from the Bay View hall by the Rev. J. Fletcher Long of Coupeville under the direction of B. H. Swedberg.

Mr. Jones' death was due to complications ensuing from a wound received before the world war. He served overseas with the Canadian forces. At the time of his passing he was 49 years old. He was born at Redlands, California. He had been for the past 19 years, a resident of Whidby Island.

Surviving are his widow and daughter resident at the family home at Freeland, his father, also at Freeland, one sister and four brothers.

CHURCH INSTITUTE AT DECEPTION PASS

More Than 200 Are To Take Part In Program

OAK HARBOR—About one hundred and seventy-five were registered, Monday, the first day of the Epworth League Institute, held at the Deception Pass State Park. This gathering will continue from August 1 to August 6 inclusive and more than two hundred are expected to take part.

To make it possible for many to attend and to cause little inconvenience for those who have to travel some distance, a cot can be rented for the week at the slight cost of 25c.

The young people arise to reveille at 7 a. m. which is followed by breakfast at 8 a. m. After that, classes are held until 10:30 when a relaxation period is called.

Classes resume at 10:45 and continue until noon. These classes deal with the work in the church and personal problems of the youth.

To keep the program from becoming monotonous, choir and orchestra, and hobby groups take up considerable spare moments. Evening Fellowship is conducted at 7:30 p. m. Campfire and devotions take place at 9:30 and lights are out at 10:30.

Each League elected a representative to the council at dinner Monday evening. This council formulates rules and regulations for the institute.

The registration fee for the institute was $4. This included meals for the entire week. Ralph Simpson, representing the College of Puget Sound, gave an interesting talk. Other speakers were David Norcross, on world peace; J. Randolph Sasnett brought a message from the Wesley Foundation and D. N. Lacy told how to advertise the church.

How to make story scrap books, how to prepare dramatic stunts and leather work and block printing were shown to those members at the institute. Members were also instructed how to identify the birds and how to get snapshots of them.

Also a nurse was provided to take care of any sickness or injury at the camp.

ROTARIANS HEAR OF STEELE-HOSTAK FIGHT

Carskadden Present ed With Rabbit's Foot

OAK HARBOR—Fight fans who saw Al Hostak win the middleweight boxing championship of the world from Freddie Steele in Seattle last week gave their versions of the short-lived fight at the Rotary club's luncheon last Friday noon.

John Vanderzicht, Doc Carskadden, Dave Judson and Barney Nienhuis were some of those who saw the title change hands. Chet Adair presented John Vanderzicht with a picture of Freddie Steele with the photo pierced by a large fish hook, and intimated that John had hooked a number of local sportsmen on his sale of supposedly ring-side seats which turned out to be spots behind poles and such obstructions.

Jim Zylstra, much concerned over the run of bad luck which his fellow Rotarian, Doc Carskadden, had been suffering from, did his best to better the situation by presenting Doc with a rabbit's foot. Doc has been having a tough time indeed. On the golf course he has been having a hard time breaking par and is only able to play a par game once in a while. A few days ago he bought one 25c ticket on a $110.00 set of golf clubs and had the tough luck to win it on the one small chance.

Fred Kennedy, manager of the Washington Newspaper Publishers' Association, was present and formally presented publisher George Astel with the Schoenfeld trophy awarded to the Farm Bureau News for outstanding community leadership in the state of Washington.

COMMISSIONERS MAY CREATE GOLF LINKS

Property Provided For Eighteen Hole Course

OAK HARBOR—A large delegation of north Whidby business men and golf enthusiasts met Monday afternoon with county commissioners at the court house in Coupeville in an effort to secure a county-sponsored golf course on the Island.

The men argued that the numerous Whidby people enjoyed a golf game on mainland links and felt that an Island county course would pay for itself.

It was suggested that this be made a WPA project by the county and all that was needed was labor and a small rental of machinery.

Judge Still, it was pointed out, has agreed to give enough of his property at Port Nugent for a nine-hole course. This property has much natural beauty, the delegation said and would be ideally located for such a purpose.

The commissioners declined to take any immediate action but suggested that an organization be formed and a committee appointed to present more detailed information to the board.

COUPEVILLE WOMAN WINS $5 MERCHANDISE PRIZE IN SPAN OF LIFE CONTEST

OAK HARBOR—Mrs. E. E. Williams of Coupeville won a $5 merchandise certificate in the Span of Life contest conducted by the Puget Sound Power and Light Company with the cooperation of twenty prominent manufacturers and retailers. Four hundred ninety-five electrical merchandise prizes with a total value of $5,000 were awarded in the nineteen counties included in the company's operating area.

Missionary To Be Nazarene Speaker

OAK HARBOR—Mrs. H. A. Shirley, famed missionary, will speak at the Nazarene Church, Thursday, August 4 at two p. m. She will speak again the same evening at eight o'clock. All are invited.

Mrs. Shirley, who has given more than thirty years of her life in this work, having gone among the uncivilized at an early age, is well versed in her work.

It is a privilege, say members of the Nazarene Church, to have this missionary come into our midst.

Mrs. Shirley received her training in the same place as Stella MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. MacDonald of San de Fuca.

The Fisher, Powers and Darst families enjoyed a picnic dinner Sunday at work, having gone among the uncivilized at an early age, is well versed in her work.

of white rose buds, lilies of the valley,
white sweet peas and gardenias.

Mrs. Tom Stroops, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Her bridesmaid's gown of peach mousseline de sole was similar in style to the wedding gown. She carried peach-colored gladioli, with roses and sweet peas.

Little Joanne Engle, niece of the bridegroom, dressed in pale pink or-gandie, carried pink and white sweet pea blossoms in her pink flower basket.
William Engle attended his brother as best man.

The bridal party stood before the flower-banked fireplace and the service was read by the light of tall white tapers on the mantel, over which rose an arch of greens and trailing pink Dorothy Perkins roses.

The loveliness of the bride and the soft light of early twilight made the beautiful and solemn service doubly impressive.

Following the ceremony, 150 friends were received between the hours of 8 and 10. In the living room with the bride and bridegroom and their party stood Mr. and Mrs. Minahan and Mr.
and Mrs. C. T. Engle. Mrs. Minahan wore black georgette and lace and wore a corsage of gardenias and orchid sweet peas. Mrs. Engle, mother of the bridegroom, wore dark blue lace with gardenias and pale pink sweet peas.
Mrs. Herbert Hazen of Freeland and Mrs. John Eckstrom of Richmond, Calif., sisters of the bridegroom, assisted in greeting the guests.

In the dining room stood the beautifully-appointed reception table. Pink and white larkspur, with white sweet peas and white carnations in ivory white containers, decorated the lace-covered table.

Pouring were Mrs. Ralph Engle,
Mrs. J. W. Rosenfield of Seattle, Mrs.
Will J. Waldrup of Shelton and Mrs.
Will Jennings of Mount Vernon. Mrs.
Burton Engle cut the bride's cake.
Mrs. William Engle served punch. Miss Ellen Howell served the guests with the groom's cake. Assisting in the dining room were Lillian Stoddard, Alice Rodgers and Margaret Rosenfield of Seattle.

After the reception hours, the young couple left for a week's honeymoon trip. Mrs. Engle's going-away suit of black was worn with white lace blouse, white accessories and a corsage of gardenias which charmingly set off her dark hair.

On their return, the young couple will make their home in Coupeville.

Joe, daughters Goldie and Joyce came up Sunday to make the acquaintance of their new granddaughter and niece.

Mrs. Mamie Grasser is spending a few weeks with her daughter Mrs. C.
Keith of East Everett. She is not improving rapidly from her recent illness.

Mr. Fitzgerald was home for the weekend. He has been busy on the mainland, dusting peas.

Miss Myrtle Fitzgerald left Monday morning to enter the Skagit Business College in Mount Vernon. Her mother and sisters took her over.

George Morris is spending the week in Bellingham visiting his sisters, the Misses Dorothy and Frances Morris.

WALLGREN SEEKS FOURTH ELECTION AS CONGRESSMAN

Candidate Visits Newly Created Olympic National Park

Congressman Mon C. Wallgren filed with the Secretary of State at Olympia Tuesday as a candidate for reelection as the United States representative of Washington State's second congressional district.

That this second district, composed of the northwest counties of the state, has gained considerable attention during the past year is attested to by the fact that visits of leading people from eastern states have kept Wallgren so busy he couldn't file until this week.

In addition to a great many letters the congressman has received from people wanting to visit the new Olympic National park, he has taken several national officials to the park and to other sections of the district.

Congressman Patrick J. Boland was the first of these and now Wallgren has received a letter of inquiry from the president of the United States Civil Service Commission Harry B. Mitchell.
Mr. Mitchell plans to visit the State during the latter part of August. He wrote the congressman of his hopes to be one of the first United States government officials to visit the new park.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L.
Ickes made a flying trip to the park
this week and will return to the state for a further visit upon his trip back from Alaska. Wallgren, himself, just completed an inspection trip in the park, accompanied by National Park Service experts.

In filing this year the representative is seeking his fourth consecutive term in congress. Increased responsibility was placed upon Wallgren last winter because of his high position on various committees. This position made him eligible for the first time to serve on powerful conference committees which iron out the differences between House and Senate in regard to legislation.

A good many from here attended the Hickory Hat Days at Mount Vernon and report a good time.

FEW SECONDS FOR CHANGE FROM DAVENPORT, TO BED, TO DAVENPORT, IS RECORD

OAK HARBOR—Friends of Jack Meeter are thinking of asking the Amateur Athletic Union or something or other to recognize as a world mark, Jack's bed-davenport changing record established Monday morning.

Using one of the Oak Harbor Furniture store's new Bed-Davenports, Mr.
Meeter was able to change it from a davenport to a bed and back to a davenport in four and one-half seconds.

These bed-davenports are beautiful pieces of furniture, with many structural improvements not found heretofore in these combination sets.

In addition to this unit the Furniture Store has just placed on display a large array of beautiful new made-to-order davenports. Any lover of fine furniture will delight in viewing these davenport sets. The store's arrangement on these made-to-order sets makes it possible for you to have your choice of 25 different covers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Patmore and their sons, Walter and Charles, and house guests, Mrs. Al Bowers and Bettie and David; Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Capaan, Ralph Brown and Miss Edna Capaan picnicked Sunday at Libbey's beach.

Civilization

Japan and China are engaged in bitter, if unofficial combat; Germany is preparing to invade Czechoslovakia; Japan and Russia are going through all the motions of preparing for war; and observers predict a general European conflict within the near future.

Right now, these events do not seem to involve us greatly, but if the "war to end war" is any criterion, we probably will be drawn into any general warfare and again will enact the farce of spilling the blood of thousands of American youths on foreign soil.

The story of civilization has been a story of increasing our ability to get along with our neighbors. The first governmental unit was the family; sufficient unto itself and ready to exterminate any other family that ventured within range. As families mingled and intermarried, they formed tribes—a unit of government that still persists in primitive peoples.

Tribes gave way to larger units of government, the duchies and little monarchies of feudal days. These have largely been amalgamated into the monarchies of the present.

Combat, whether between individuals or groups of individuals, is usually the result of a sharp, blinding fear and an unreasonable inability to even attempt to see an opponent's point of view.

Few modern individuals even try to argue a defense of war. Most of us realize that it is the physical sign of a lack: Lack of self-confidence, lack of reasoning power, lack of the vital poise necessary both to individuals and nations.

If the history of man's beginnings is any criterion, we are headed for world-wide peace based on the forming of larger units of government as nations begin to understand each other.

But it's also only too apparent that world peace is nowhere near us now. It's pessimistic, but only too true, that many bloody centuries must come and go before man can honestly refer to his "civilization".

Weather

A Chicago miss swallowed poison last week in an unsuccessful suicide attempt. Queried by police, she remarked, "Oh, it was too hot. That's why I took it!"

By her act, the young lady made a sucker out of Mark Twain, who once complained that everybody talked about the weather but nobody ever tried to do anything about it. Incidentally, we advise the young lady to move to Coupeville, where the weather makes people glad to stay alive.

Hostelers

It was a footsore and weary trio that finally trudged into the yard at Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shull's, where the AYH banner waved a friendly invitation which was gratefully accepted. The houseparents were grand to us and the accommodations were comfortable if not luxurious.

On the wall of the kitchen were the names of the first hostelers through and the first boys. After careful inquiry, we found we had the honor of being the first hikers, so our names, in bright green paint, now adorn the kitchen wall along with the other "firsts."

Tuesday morning we eagerly accepted Mr. Shull's offer of a ride to Anacortes, as we had to catch our ferry at 8:45 and arrived three minutes before the boat pulled out. The trip was uneventful and cards took up most of our time until Sidney was reached at 1:10.

The day being Patty's birthday, we celebrated by hiking 15 miles to the hotel at Mount Douglas park on Cordova bay. The last few steps I hardly remember; we were all so tired and sore the restful park of trees and grass seemed a haven. Mr. and Mrs. Rogerson, the houseparents, were pleasant hosts and soon showed us the kitchen where we were to cook and the tents where we were to sleep. After a supper of corned-beef hash, which was partly burned, we were visited by our uncle and aunt, Captain and Mrs. Gadsden, who invited us to stay at their home in Victoria to see the Scottish games the following Saturday.

The next few days were spent in seeing Victoria, which Charles had never visited. Points of interest were the Parliament buildings and the museum, which houses a valuable collection of Indian relics, wild game and wild flowers of British Columbia. At the charming Japanese tea garden at the George Park, we had supper and went swimming. Because Captain Gadsden is an alderman, he obtained special permission for us to visit the drydocks at Esquimalt, where the C.P.R. liner "Empress of Russia" was being overhauled and the H.M.S. York, flagship of the British fleet stationed at Bermuda.

Both boats were very interesting and while aboard the York we saw some new British guns which have a very high firing speed and which no doubt will change the present gun design.

Patty and Charles attended the baseball game between Victoria and the African Zulus (from Detroit) and were thrilled to sit in the Mayor's and Aldermen's box, which was the best place in the park to watch the game. The Africans won and Patty and Charles haven't stopped talking about their merits as baseball players.

Festival Parades

Mrs. Nels Sill is in charge of arrangements for the display, which will be on view in the old postoffice building from Tuesday until Sunday evening the week of the festival.

Pictures of early captains and their ships are especially requested by the chapter members, according to Mrs. M. S. Lovelace, president.

All exhibits will be on the walls of the building, rather than in show-cases. On one side will be photographs of the early captains and their ships and photographs of sons of early captains, if they themselves were captains, and their ships.

On the other wall will be photographs of pioneer mothers of Whidby Island and their homes.

At the end of the building a pioneer interior scene will be arranged, probably of a kitchen. Mrs. Simonson of Oak Harbor has donated her spinning wheel for the display and will spin wool on the wheel some time during the festival celebration.

In the center of the building, chairs will be provided for sightseers who wish to rest or visit.

Mrs. Neil Lovejoy Watson will be in charge of the exhibit. She will be assisted by Mrs. James Stoddard, Miss Lela Lovejoy, Mrs. Julia Hancock, Mrs. Glenn Darst, Mrs. Carl Engle, Miss Margaret Power, Mrs. Sibella Fisher, Mrs. Frank Newberry and Mrs. Carl Engle. Mrs. Ollie O'Leary will be in charge of concessions.

According to Mrs. Lovelace, the Daughters of Pioneers plan to enter two floats in the festival parade: One float in which the pioneers and their daughters will ride and a second float in which the grandchildren will ride.

The Pioneer Sons have been invited to arrange for the floats. Carl Engle is chairman of the committee in charge.

Miss Slaughter, Ted H. Muncaster Marry In Seattle

COUPEVILLE—Miss Elizabeth Slaughter of Seattle and T. H. Muncaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Muncaster of Coupeville, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the University Lutheran church, Seattle.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. James T. Slaughter. Her attendants were the Misses Eugenia Cook of Sedro-Woolley and Pauline Nelson, bridesmaids; Mrs. Paul Lewis, matron of honor; and Miss Bettyanne Slaughter, the bride's sister, maid of honor. Genevieve Olwell was flower girl.

Sverre Omdahl of Sedro-Woolley attended Mr. Muncaster as best man and Gilbert Duffy, Bruce Smith, Jack Deleirle of Sedro-Woolley and Jack Davis of Burlington were ushers.

The Rev. Otto A. Bremer performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Kappa Delta Sorority house.

After a two-week motor trip to the south, Mr. and Mrs. Muncaster will be at home in Sedro-Woolley. Mr. Muncaster, a graduate of Washington State College, is superintendent of Sedro-Woolley schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Benson and two children were guests Sunday at the W. C. Benson home.

AGENT DESCRIBES CO-OP CONVENTION TO LION MEMBERS

Representatives From 40 States at Meeting Freimann Says

COUPEVILLE—Highlights of the 14th annual Institute of Co-Operation at Washington State College July 11-16 were described to members of Coupeville Lions club by County Agent LeVern Freimann at their weekly session Wednesday evening in the Starwana hotel.

Without exception, Mr. Freimann said, economic experts at the meeting declared themselves opposed to crop production control. No nation can become prosperous, the experts stated, except by producing all it can consume.

Representatives from 40 states and four foreign nations were present at the meeting, Mr. Freimann said.

Dr. E. C. Glossop and County Prosecuting Attorney Chester Adair were guests at the meeting. President L. A. Wanamaker presided.

At a directors' meeting after the regular session, the Lions went on record as favoring efforts to promote construction of a Whidby Island golf course. They also passed a resolution to seek aid of government officials in preserving the Deception Pass CCC camp and possibly having it turned over to the state park department.

Friendship Circle To Meet August 13

COUPEVILLE—Officers of Friendship circle have announced that the organization will not hold its next meeting until August 13.

However, members desiring to donate canned fruit for the Deaconess Children's Home at Everett have been requested to call at the home of Mrs. Frank Maxson for the fruit jars.

TRUSSELL CAR STOPS; WOOD BLOCK PREVENTS PLUNGE INTO SLOUGH

OAK HARBOR—Mark Trussell of Coupeville narrowly escaped death or serious injury Wednesday morning when the automobile he was driving halted just short of a plunge over the bank at Oak Harbor into the slough.

Trussell came sailing into town in his model T and swung the vehicle toward the parking lot across from the Maylor Motor company. Evidently his brakes were not up to par or else they were not applied, because the front end of the vehicle came to rest over the embankment.

All that saved the Coupeville man from a dip in the slough was a small block of wood that hooked his rear wheel.

Barrett Remodeling Milk Room At Farm

COUPEVILLE—Walt Barrett Coupeville milk dealer, is remodeling the milk room at his farm to give him double the floor space he had formerly. The new milk room will be 10 feet square.

The new room will have a concrete floor. Besides the remodeling work, Mr. Barrett is adding to the facilities of his business by installing new cooling and bottle-washing equipment. He expects to complete the work this week.

Miss Viola Slotfi of Mount Vernon spent the weekend at home.

FAIR MAY GET STOCK SHEDS

Propose To Erect Building About 40x60 Feet

LANGLEY—A stock shed may be erected on the Island County Fair grounds here in time for use this year. That is, plans are being drawn and materials gathered to erect one and it is hoped by the fair association officials that it will be ready in time for this year's exposition Friday and Saturday, September 16 and 17.

The matter was brought up at a meeting of the association members last Thursday night. Board members feel that stock exhibits are about all that is necessary to really round out the Island's only complete exhibition.

Work Started Sunday
Since the construction of the main building, dedicated last year, there remains a large stock of shake timber and it is felt by the association that this material would be best used for the purpose contemplated. While plans as to shape and size are somewhat embryonic, work started Sunday on the moving of the shake material to the Stover mill near Freeland. Shake sawing was started Tuesday.

Proposed plans call for a building of shake and pole construction to be about 40x60 feet. This is intended to be a first unit of a building which it is hoped will later be extended in size to accommodate all the stock which it is likely will be displayed here.

In anticipation of the completion of a building to house live stock the Fair has appointed R. O. Frear as a committee to ask stock raisers and breeders to exhibit this year. Frear is empowered to extend a special invitation to all such farmers, many of whom reside on the North End.
