The MAGIC AGE OF STEAM not only portrays the history of the Age of Steam in America, but is geared toward FUN for children and adults alike.

AUBURN VALLEY RAILROAD The smallest commercial railroad in the world features scale model coal-burning steam locomotives 1/8 actual size, which pull tiny trains of children and adults around the grounds of a Victorian mansion, over trestles, through a tunnel, past a lake, and over a turntable on a track only 7 1/2 inches wide!

MARSHALL MUSEUM OF STEAM MODELS AND STANLEY STEAM CARS Twenty steam-powered automobiles, including Stanleys of every model, are on display, along with stationary engine models, small locomotives, and steam toys, many actually running by steam. A steam roller, a traction engine, and a big Corliss Engine are on display outside.

STANLEY MOUNTAIN WAGONS AND THE TROLLEY TO TOONERVILLE Rides on these big Stanley Steamers 60 years old, and the bouncy little trolley are real favorites. And you'll be ready for that delicious steam-made popcorn!
