Dear Chaplain Richmond:

It is always gratifying to an office on such a level as this to read words of commendation concerning our chaplains in the field. When something worth-while is spoken or written about one, a person truly is helped in being informed as to what has been said. Your last month's Chaplain's Report carried the following fine commendation from your Commanding Officer.

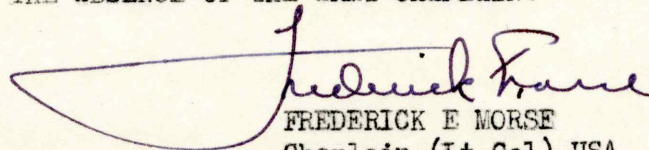

"Chaplain Richmond has performed an outstanding service in providing troops of this command religious services during this reporting period. This Regiment was in the process of moving overseas from 11 to 17 December 1951 with religious and Christmas services being afforded in camp and aboard ship without interruption.

"Since arrival in Korea, Chaplain Richmond has done a commendable job in conducting services for men in the front lines affording maximum religious coverage. His front line visitations during the week have contributed to excellent troop morale."
