

With Loui Leong Hop's Tourists Boston Globe Plays the Role of Cupid

(This is one of a series of stories Miss Leong will write during the mainland travels of Loui Leong Hop's tourist party. The group went to San Francisco by air and will cross the continent twice, returning by air about mid-July.)

BOSTON, June 24.—The Boston Evening Globe played Cupid for one member of Loui Leong Hop's tourist party today and with perfect results. It united Dorothy Iara, 22, of Lisbon St., and her fiancé, Steve Mignol, also 22, of Honolulu, after a separation of eight months.

Steve left the islands on the Sinoona Victory last November, a few weeks after he and Dorothy were engaged.

When the Miss Leong Hawaiian travelers arrived at the Hotel Mowee this morning, Dorothy, who is a Globe reporter, asked Dorothy if the Globe's Mignol, a member of the merchant marine.

"How do you know Steve?" Dorothy asked. "Where is he?"

"He called the Globe several times yesterday afternoon, asking if the Hawaiian had arrived in the city," the reporter replied.

"He asked for you," we had to tell him.

"He asked for you," we had to tell him.

"He asked for you," we had to tell him.

"He asked for you," we had to tell him.

"He asked for you," we had to tell him.

COLONIZERS OF JARVIS, BAKER AND HOWLAND ISLANDS elected officers and drew up a charter Saturday for the club, Hui Punalua, which is literally translated "club of settlers of the southern islands." Seventy-two members elected officers including (from row, left to right), Walden Henderson, vice president; Herbert Hooper, president; Felicia Fawcett, secretary. Second row, Joseph Anahulu, recording secretary; Killianey Olopaia, director; Solomon Kalama, director; William Kalua, director and George West, treasurer.

The navy has come to the aid of the Honolulu fire department—offering equipment to replace that being recalled by the army.

The army has ordered the return of the equipment to the navy, which Fire Chief H. A. Smith says would force closing of four Oahu fire stations.

When 2500 miles is just around the corner

Wherever you drive in the Islands, you'll find Standard's famous Chevron Supreme Gasoline and RPM Motor Oil just around the corner...ready to lift you smoothly over the toughest hills, swiftly pull your car away from a traffic light, protect it from excessive wear.

That's because a fleet of ships from the mainland and a schedule as dependable as the sun makes sure you can swing right in and "fill 'er up," any time.

For more than 30 years Hawaii has relied on Standard fuels and lubricants to keep its boats moving, engines turning, wheels rolling. During those years a complete delivery system of tankers, barges and storage tanks has been perfected...spanning 2500 miles to make us near door neighbors.

Here in Hawaii, 2500 miles is just around the corner.

70% Started as Newspaper Boys!

Quiz of 100 Successful Business and Professional Men Reveals how They Earned Their First Money!

At an important dinner given for prominent business and professional men of a large city, each one present was asked to tell how he had earned his first spare-time dollars. No less than 70 of the first hundred said they did it by carrying or selling newspapers. What's more, they attributed much of their success in life to the early training or received or the practical experience they gained as newspaper boys.

Today, newspaper route work is a sure-things-bet for boys. For today's carrier-salesman is a young newspaper merchant in business for himself. Learning latest methods of delivery, collecting, selling, and pleasing people! Paying his own way with profits from his route! Saving much of his earnings for a college course! Developing character and ability, and in many other ways fitting himself for faster advancement in whatever life-work he undertakes.
