HEALTH FETE PLANNED BY SOPH GIRLS

Stewart Is General Chairman
Of Plans For Week; Girls
Work On Yells And Songs

The annual health week of the school for girls will be held from February 15 to February 19. The class of '39 is in charge.

Betty Stewart, president, is the general chairman, with Miss Evelyn Erickson, art instructor, advising. Other committees and their chairmen are as follows:

Eloise Akana, chairman of the decoration committee, with Ruby Pua, Mary Louise Cobb-Adams, Nancy Punohu, Elizabeth Cooper and Alma Brandt.

Minerva McNicoll, chairman of the food committee, with Elizabeth Hano, Loretta Ainoa, Mabel Bode and Emelia Akeo.

Dorothy Goo, chairman of the play committee, with Vivian Badger, Joan Chalmers, Sheba Cathcart and Dorothy Atcherley.

Winifred Cheong is in charge of the costumes and Joan Chalmers is in charge of the entertainment.

On Monday, February 15, Dr. N. P. Larsen of the Queen's hospital staff, will be the speaker, opening the first day of health week.

Miss Ruth Stickler will be the speaker on Tuesday, February 16.

The health skits are to be presented on Wednesday, February 17, with Stewart Markham, Charles Kaninau and Charles Mahoe as judges. The skits will be judged on originality and as to whether they pertain to health.

"General Health" is to be Mrs. Samuel F. Chillingworth's topic on Thursday, February 18.

The health play on Friday, February 19, will close the health week. Miss Frances White is to be guest of honor.

MR. SHEPARDSON TO ACT IN COMEDY

Mr. Rowland R. Shepardson, a former instructor of English and dramatics at the school for boys, is sharing the honors in that well-known J. B. Priestley's grand comedy, "Laburnum Grove."

Mr. Shepardson left K. S. B. in 1935 after being with the school for two years. During his stay, he built for himself a fond foundation with the students and faculty.

The comedy "Laburnum Grove" will show at the Dillingham hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8:15 o'clock.

Male Orators Are Selected

Jacobson, Fitzgerald, White,
Hussey, Lee In Contest

The annual Kamehameha alumni sponsored oratorical contest is scheduled to come off in March at the school for boys' gymnasium. Orators representing the different classes, 10th grade and above, have already been selected through the co-operation of official judges of the coming contest and the English department at the school for boys.

Those to compete for the three money awards are Victor Jacobson of the senior class, John Fitzgerald and David White of the high-eleventh grade, Herbert Hussey of the low-eleventh grade, and Wilfred Lee of the tenth grade. Following scrutiny of groups of essays by English instructors of the different classes at the school for boys, several themes were sent to a committee selected by the alumni. This committee, according to reports, will judge the essays on their comprehensive matter and upon the decision of this committee that finalists of the coming contest were selected.

The topic of the essays this year, a successor to last year's — "After Kamehameha—What?"; is "What Should Kamehameha Expect of Her Graduates." This topic was selected by the oratorical committee and centers about activities at Kamehameha.

Last year the competitors who finished in the money were William Toomey, Theodore Awana and Rose-Pearl Kinslea. Toomey scooped the $10.00 prize by winning first place. He was followed by Awana and Rose-Pearl Kinslea who captured the second and third places and $7.00 and $4.00 respectively.

GEORGE SAKAMAKI SPEAKS AT K. S. B.

Mr. George Sakamaki, head of the H.S.P.A. board of labor and statistics, spoke to the students of the school for boys, Tuesday morning. He told of the functions of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' association, their relation to the people of Hawaii, and the need of more "men of the soil" in Hawaii.

Too many of the students that leave the various schools of Hawaii enter fields of occupation other than that of agriculture, which is a very vital problem in Hawaii. The H. S. P. A. is very glad to have young high school graduates working for them. William S. Wise, former head football mentor of the Warrior grid machine, is the head of their employment agency, giving young men positions on the various plantations.

Also, many of these students leave the territory for other lands, expecting to prosper in various business ventures. There is hardly a man that can provide himself with as good a position in other countries as right here in Hawaii. Mr. Sakamaki has travelled extensively to the mainland and to the Orient. He has tried to establish himself in those places but finally felt that Hawaii was the only place for a Hawaiian born citizen.

The people of Hawaii should try to benefit their community. This may better be accomplished by promoting the growth of agriculture in Hawaii than by entering occupations that are already clogged with workers. The H.S.P.A. offers a fine inlet to any person that desires to get ahead. This concluded Mr. Sakamaki's lecture.

K. S. G. GLEE CLUB SINGS TWO NEW SONGS WITH PIANO ACCOMPANIMENT

The Glee club at the school for girls is coming along fine and learning many new songs. They have been practicing "The Mill" and "Passing By" and have come to know the songs quite well.

The ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades have been learning the "Lady of Shallott" by Wilfred Benda. It is a very beautiful and dramatic cantata. The song opens telling about the road to Camelot and below that an island on which stands four gray walls and four gray towers where the Lady of Shallott is imprisoned. She sings a song as she spins her magic web. The song echoes down to Camelot but only the reapers hear it. She weaves night and day and because a curse is on she has to look at the world through a mirror all year long. Through the mirror she sees everything from funerals to the moon overhead and lovers newly wed. Through the mirror she sees a knight pass and he bows to her when he sees her reflection in his shield. It is Sir Lancelot and he stops on the bank of the river to sing. When the Lady of Shallott sees him she leaves her loom and goes down and finds a boat and floats down the river on it. She is singing as she floats down and as she sings she dies. After she is found Sir Lancelot sees her and asks God in his mercy to lend her grace.

The girls have been very interested in this song and very eager to learn it. They are instructed by Miss Alice Kiewit, music instructor at K. S. G.

G. R. WEEK-END IS PLANNED UPON BY DAMSELS OF K.S.G.

The Girl Reserves discussed at their meeting on February 3, their week-end plans. The theme they chose to carry out at the camp is the hill-billies or country jacks. The food committee was chosen, Margaret Kalahui is the chairman; her helpers are Eleanor Horswill, Sarah Henrickson, Anita Thompson, Katherine Haake, Evelyn Rabideau and Louise De Arce. Catherine Sims is chairman of the work committee; her helpers are Elizabeth Stewart, Emelia Akeo, Barbara Leith, Rose-Pearl Kinslea, Elizabeth Hano, Lucille Barringer and Mabel Hitchcock. Margaret Dunn is in charge of games and equipment. The girls want the program that is to be given on one of the nights to be an amateur hour. The committees for the Sunday devotion is Louise De Arce, Lucille Barringer and Winona Kanahele. The reporter is Peggy Burkett.

Plans will be made with the Girl Scouts who will hold their week-end in joint meeting with the Girl Reserves.

'SMASH' HIT ON SKED FOR TOMORROW

"Simon Pures" To Stage "Big Broadcast"; Ebey-Triolo
Combine Directs Show

What possesses aspirations of being acclaimed the most tremendous "smash hit performance" of the current school year at Kamehameha will be audiened when the "super-colossal" Kamehameha Schools' production, "The Big Broadcast," formulated and directed by the famous combine, George W. Ebey and James S. Triolo, stages its initial and grand appearance on February 13 at the school for boys' gymnasium, opening immediately at 7:30 p.m.

This feature production, postponed on numerous previous occasions due to unavoidable conditions but now definitely slated to be staged tomorrow evening, boasts of an array of amateur performers who are judged by critics as harboring talent, which if capitalized on, would make them soar to stardom in the future. This entire program is centered about the individual and group acts of the "Simon Pures."

Some of the acts to receive attention are as follows:

Ernest Amona and his musical group, Daniels-Yim with their "Buckwheat" show, Jimmy Morita and his string instrument "Barber Shop" harmony gang, the school for boys' tumbling team, and scores of other entertaining groups.

LAUREN SHEFFER SPEAKS AT K.S.G.

On Sunday morning Mr. Lauren Sheffer spoke to the student body of K. S. G. on the subject "Be True To Yourself."

He opened his most interesting and entertaining sermon with several verses from the Bible concerning the change of names from Simon to Peter, one of Jesus' disciples. A name concerns a person's individual character precisely.

Character! Character as some people think it, is something one inherits from his parents or that one is born with. He emphasized it with an example such as this. Parents give their children monthly allowances but they cannot give their children character. Character must be earned as working wages are earned.

An interesting thought presented to the student body was that a baby had no soul until it could choose between right and wrong and that it was selfish. If it wanted something it would get what it wanted when it wanted what it wanted no matter what you were doing or where you might be.

He told a story about a Japanese stone cutter which illustrated the idea that whatever you are "be true to yourself" and you will achieve something greater tomorrow.

EUGENE BURKE WRITES OF EQUATORIAL ISLANDS

Mr. Don Mitchell, 10th grade biology instructor, received a letter from Eugene Burke, one of the Kamehameha boys in the South Seas, recently as the Coast Guard Cutter Duane arrived from the South Seas.

"Gabriel Victor, Albert Akana and I are on Baker Island, plus a Chinese boy," said Eugene. "We are making this island the best of the three."

"We are all writing letters tonight because when the ship arrives, we don't have the time to write. I've written quite a stack already and have still many more. I hope to finish all of them in a few days."

"I haven't seen a better place than Palmyra. It is so beautiful that I wouldn't mind being left there. If I had some Hawaiian salt, I could put some on the tails of the fishes that over populate the sea shore. Albert, Victor and I caught over 50 wholeholes in a small lagoon with coconut leaves. We also took from Palmyra 300 coconut trees to be planted on the islands."

"Jarvis island is a hot piece of rock, Howland is okay but I think Baker is the best."

"Piinaia and his crew built a cottage and an observation house. When we came, we built a tower, a kitchen and placed our supply tent so that the whole camp formed a three sided square overlooking the sea," said Eugene in his letter.

EIGHTH GRADE TO ESTABLISH PAPER

The eighth grade class at the school for girls have decided to begin a class paper.

Under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Dixon, a staff was appointed. Following are the members of the staff:

Godfreida Hatori, editor-in-chief; Ellen Miller, editorials; Winona Beamer, circulation editor; Ethel Chang, news editor; Helen Mortensen, cartoonist; Marjorie Morris, literature; Louise Federell, copy reading; Emelia Kaopua, printing; and Jennie Stewart, jokes.

The staff held their first meeting Wednesday, February 10. The name of the paper has not been decided yet.

NEW SET OF JUNIORS ATTEND CITY'S CLINICS

A new set of eleventh grade girls are now attending the various clinics in the city. These girls leave school at 12 noon in the station wagon, in order to be at their clinics at 12:30. The clinics close at 2:30 and the students return to school at 3 or 3:15 p.m. They go to the clinics on Wednesdays and Fridays. Girls going on Wednesday are Anita Thompson, driver, Waialae; Frances Afat, Waialae; Louise Kauihilo and Agnes Payne, Kauluwela; and Margaret Dunn, Na Lei.

The girls going on Friday are Sarah Henrickson, driver, and Maude Gonant, Palolo; Barbara Leith and Helen Naumu, Palama; Lilinoe Wilson, Kalihi; and Idamae Sims, Punchbowl.

WARRIORS TO PERFORM IN THIRD DRILL

Cadet Major V. Jacobson,
Adjutant Alex. In To Lead
Military Units On Sunday

Cadets of Kamehameha School for Boys' R. O. T. C. battalion will march in the third of a series of retreat parades for the school year 1936-1937 on February 14 at 4 p.m. The military organization will go through its movements and stage its featured pass-in-review march before the reviewing stand on the school for boys' parade grounds.

Cadet Major Victor Jacobson will be in full command of the battalion; he and Lieutenant Adjutant Alexander In making up the staff of the parading unit.

Captains in charge of the various companies are Charles Bailey of Company A; George Kahanu of Company B; James Morita of Company C; Acting Captain William Like of the First Company, and Leith Caceres of the cadet band.

The only division of the drill to offer competition between the different companies will be the pass-in-review department. The company annexing the top position when its column-of-squads line during the pass-in-review exercises is judged will capture five points. Second and third position companies will receive three and one point respectively. There will be no inter-company competition where the company commanders take their companies out and command movements to be judged.

The points won at this drill will be added to the company's total and will help determine the receiver of the Best Company trophy.

At the present time Company A is leading, having captured the most points. It is followed closely by Company B.

The cadets will be clad in their regular marching uniform, white trousers, cross belts, and white gloves being outstanding.

Dr. H. Barnes Visits School

Western Reserve Academy Is Former Home

Dr. Homer F. Barnes, principal-in-charge of the Kamehameha Schools, with Mrs. Barnes, spent the weekend of January 30 as guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kitzmiller of Western Reserve Academy, Hudson, Ohio.

Before coming to Kamehameha to administer his knowledge upon Hawaiian youths, Dr. Barnes was the former head of the Western Reserve Academy English department from 1926 to 1930.

Members of the faculty who were on the campus when Dr. H. Barnes taught there, held a dinner in his honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tilt.

Dr. Barnes and his family, Mrs. Barnes and their two daughters, Louise and Virginia, occupied the first floor of North hall while he was at Western Academy. When he left the academy, he presented the chimes now in Cutler dining hall of the academy.

Dr. Barnes left Kamehameha on December 29, during our Christmas vacation, to stay in the east until March, attending educational conferences and visiting private schools.

Contest Will Be Sponsored

Annual Social Science Quiz
Scheduled For Wednesday

The annual social science contest which is held annually at the school for boys will again take place this coming Wednesday under the direction of Dr. Paul E. Baker, social science instructor of the upper division of the school for boys.

Each class will be represented by two delegates. Some classes have already chosen their respective delegates.

According to the rules of the contest each person will be given a name or sentence in which he is supposed to tell how it figured recently in the news.

Keen competition is promised in this year's contest, because of the lot of preparation the boys have put into their work.
