

Kamehameha to Run in Dual Meet Against Punahou Today at Alexander Field.

Social Science Contest Week Begins Next Monday At School for Boys.

Health Week Planned By Soph Girls

Class Of '40 At K. S. G. Will Take Over Annual Job In Handling Gala Affair

The Kamehameha School for Girls will celebrate its annual health week with a program including skits on Friday, March 11.

Every year the sophomore class of the school for girls is in charge of the health program. The general chairman for this year's health week is WHO! WHO! WHO!

Each class will present a health skit and song. Skits will be judged by judges of the Kamehameha School for Boys, chosen by the sophomore class. The award given to the class winning the skit is a half day out.

Chairmen for the program are as follows:

Costume: Frances Nohoikau; food and skits, Abigail Bode; original songs, Pauline Mookini and Alice Chang; co-chairmen, Louise Akana and Sara Ann Hart; and pianist, Muriel Haia.

SCIENCE CONTEST BEGINS MONDAY

The social science contest representatives for each class will be picked on Monday.

"We will not give spell downs on the social science contest list in class this year," remarked Mr. Alfred M. Church, head of social science at K. S. B., "because we would like to have individual studies made by each student on the places and people with which he is not familiar with."

"Last year spell downs and various tests were taken before the contest between classes began. This year we are conducting it differently."

In order to be a representative of a class, each boy should be able to identify the person, place, or thing, and tell who, what or where. He must also be able to tell how the item has figured in the news recently, (unless his identification sentence tells or explains all).

These contest papers were handed out to the student body several weeks ago. Since then boys have been seen in corners or convenient places holding discussions and memorizing each item as it appears on the sheet. Most of the information gotten for the items has been found in the American Observer, which is a subscribed paper for only the two low-eleventh class sections.

JUNIOR GIRLS DO SECRETARIAL JOBS

Six junior commercial girls at the Kamehameha School for Girls are getting some secretarial practice by assisting a few faculty members. They do typing and simple bookkeeping.

The girls and the faculty they are assisting are as follows: Mae Bode and Dorothy Goo are assisting Miss Emma P. Garrison, instructor of sewing. Betty Stewart is assisting Miss Frances Scott White, nurse at the school's infirmary. Vivian Badger is assisting Miss Virginia Gentry, instructor at the senior practice cottage. Mabel Bode and Helen Boozer are assisting Mr. Clarence Baab, instructor of general science and the bookbinding shop.

RECENT INDUCTION HELD BY SOCIETY

A formal initiation of the new Quill and Scroll members of the Kamehameha Schools was held in the William Owen Smith hall at the Kamehameha School for Girls. The program consisted of an introduction of new members, acceptance of introduction and introduction to activities of the society to the new members. The honorary Quill and Scroll pins were given to the new members by the co-presidents, Sarah Henrickson and George Kekauoha.

To be a member of the society, one has to rate scholastically in the upper third of his class. He must be recommended by the adviser of the society and approved by the national officers, and he must do superior work in newswriting.

The old members who welcomed the new members into the club were David White, George Kekauoha, Herbert Hussey, John Fitzgerald, Harry Morse, Jonathan Kahanani, Idamae Sims, Sarah Henrickson, and Nora Stewart. New members are Barbara Leith, Margaret Dunn, Mabel Hitchcock, Louise Kauaihilo, Hannah Goo, John Naone and George Bartels.

CADETS DRILL IN HONOR OF WILSON

The Kamehameha School for Boys R.O.T.C. battalion had a review on Saturday in honor of Major Carlisle B. Wilson, who will take the place of Captain L. Q. McComas as P.M.S.T. at Kamehameha Schools. Major Wilson will take over his duties beginning this week so he may become acquainted with the R.O.T.C. unit on this campus.

Company A won top honors in the review in having the best line. Company B was second, followed by Company C.

The present R.O.T.C. standings for the companies at the Kamehameha Schools are: First, B Company, totaling 22 points; second, A Company with 21 points; and third, C Company with 10 points. First company is last with six points.

Cadet Major John Akana led the battalion with Cadet Lieutenant Adjutant Solomon Williams.

K. S. G. Sophies See Educational Movie

The sophomore class of the cooking division attended a movie in the study hall of Kekauluohi hale of the Kamehameha School for Girls. The movie consisted of three reels. Tableware was the first, refrigeration the second, and meat packing the last.

During the second reel the machine by some mishap did not catch correctly and resulted in the film rolling comfortably in a heap on the floor. This catastrophe was not discovered until half of the movie was over. The movie was then shown backwards so as to get the film back in place. "I felt something crawling down my leg but I thought it was just a centipede so I did not pay any attention to it," exclaimed Mr. Clarence Baab, movie operator.

New Work Schedule

The new work schedule for the Kamehameha Boys' School will change on March 12. Mr. R. H. Lowrie, mechanical drawing instructor, is in charge of making the new work list. This will be the last change for the school year.

Senior Girls Change Jobs

Emelia Akeo, Junior, Shifts With Six Of Class '38

The environment of eleven seniors and one junior of the Kamehameha School for Girls was recently changed.

The group that left the senior practice cottage to live in the dormitory was composed of Idamae Sims, Lulu Pali, Sarah Henrickson, Evelyn Dias, Anita Thompson, and Helene Cathcart.

The last group of the senior class to live in the cottage until school closes replaced the rooms of the previously mentioned seniors. The girls are Barbara Leith, Margaret Dunn, Bernice Mundon, Emelia Akeo, Helen Naumu, Frances Afat, and Thelma Haia from the former group who is living in the cottage until Easter vacation closes.

Agnes Payne and Evelyn Rabideau, both of the first group who lived in the cottage, will replace Emelia Akeo and Thelma Haia after Easter vacation.

The present jobs of the latter group mentioned are Barbara Leith, assistant cook; Margaret Dunn, housekeeper; Bernice Mundon, hostess; Emelia Akeo, waitress; Frances Afat, baby director; Helen Naumu, dishwasher; and Thelma Haia, cook.

Baby Donald Logan, baby of the senior practice cottage, who was staying with his parents, returned to the cottage Monday morning.

JUDGES ARE SELECTED BY ALUMNI COMMITTEE FOR ORATORY CONTEST

Judges for the annual Alumni Oratorical contest have been chosen by the alumni committee. The contest is to be held on March 12 in the new auditorium.

Judges for the essays are Miss Helen Pratt, department of education; Mr. Ted Rhea, department of education; and Mr. Gus Webling, department of education.

Judges for the presentation of the speeches are Mrs. Charmion Hancey, Dr. Miles Carey and Mr. Reginald Carter.

The topic on which the orators will speak is "Our New Building Program—How Shall We Justify It?"

INSTRUCTORS WIN ACADEMY AWARDS FOR ART EXHIBITS

Mr. John Olsen, instructor in art at the Kamehameha School for Boys, and Mr. Benjamin Norris, former art instructor at the school, won the Honolulu Art Society purchase prize Tuesday evening at the annual Honolulu Artists' Society exhibit. This means that both artists will be represented in the academy's permanent collection.

Mr. Olsen's painting is a water color, treated in a semi-abstract geometric style and is entitled "Koko Head III." Mr. Norris' painting is a composition in water color of large trees and rolling fields and is called "Sugar Country."

Another painting by Mr. Olsen was awarded the Patten prize as being "the best water color in the exhibit." This painting was tagged "Landscape V." It is a study of the mountains near the reservoir on the leeward side of the Pali.

Miss Evelyn Erickson, art instructor at the Kamehameha School for Girls, also had exhibited two paintings. One, a landscape called "View From My Lanai," is a water color painting of Honolulu Harbor as seen from Dormitory K. Her other painting is a study of some amaryllis and is a water color treated in her fresh and colorful technique.

Comments from various visitors to the islands proved that the exhibit was of the finest ever featured in Honolulu and was equal to many held on the mainland. Contributions from various artists in the islands made competition keener and the exhibit much more interesting than recent ones.

SOPHS IN BATTLE WITH MOSQUITOES

The tenth grade biology class, under the supervision of Mr. Donald Mitchell, biology and science instructor, will try to destroy the mosquitoes that are stationed on the campus. The boys will start from King street working all the way up to School street. Kerosene oil will be the method by which the boys hope to destroy the mosquitoes. Tin cans which contain water will be destroyed and pools that contain water will be drained.

ACADEMY OF ARTS TRIP IS PLANNED
Mr. John Warren Olsen, art instructor at the Kamehameha School for Boys, will take the low-eleventh art class to the Honolulu Academy of Arts on Monday of next week.

This class, which meets during the third and sixth periods on Monday morning, has shown a great improvement throughout the year in the handling of paints and the placements of various subjects on a sheet of paper.

During the past month some of the boys began to produce imaginary paintings that showed Mr. Olsen that they were acquiring techniques of their own which marked a great improvement in their paintings.

Every week the class has a discussion on the paintings that they have done and point out the defects and good qualities of each other's paintings.

This trip to the academy will probably be a great help to the boys because of the wide collection of different types of art at the academy.

REV. J. LESLIE DUNSTAN WILL LECTURE SUNDAY AT CHURCH SERVICES

"Two Names and Life" will be the sermon Rev. J. Leslie Dunstan will speak upon at the Bishop Memorial chapel this Sunday. Both the Kamehameha School for Girls' choir and the Kamehameha School for Boys' choir will sing at the Sunday service.

Program For Evening Is Announced

Mr. Howard Milholland And Miss Garcia, Distinguished Artists, To Entertain

Miss Eva Garcia, distinguished pianist, and Mr. Howard Milholland, entertainer and raconteur, will be featured at the new auditorium on Kapalama Heights on Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

These two artists present a program of musical and dramatic entertainment which is unique in its artistic achievement. Miss Garcia is a brilliant pianist who has made a special study of Spanish music and is particularly well equipped through ancestry and general musicianship to interpret these vivid and colorful compositions with authority.

Mr. Milholland, impersonator and raconteur, is a notably convincing actor, leading his audience along paths of romance, arousing their warm sympathy, convulsing them with laughter. He is a humorist and mimic. His deft characterizations bring their real prototype before the audience. He speaks verse without killing it by elocution, and he diffuses an atmosphere of social well-being.

The programs of Miss Garcia and Mr. Milholland are said to be musical and dramatic achievements of exceptional entertainment and educational value. Their programs offer a unique presentation of music and the spoken word. In addition to her solo playing, Miss Garcia supplies a musical background to many of Mr. Milholland's dramatic numbers. In private life Miss Garcia is Mrs. Milholland.

WARRIORS HI-Y HIKE IS PLANNED FOR SUNDAY

Twenty-five of the 30 members of the Kamehameha Warriors Hi-Y club are planning to take a hike in the wooded hills of Alapaki next Sunday morning. The hike will be similar to the one taken by the club last year with Mr. Daniel J. Stone, former adviser.

Mr. James C. Gilbert, agriculture shop instructor, is expected to accompany the group. The boys will take a bus from the school for boys to the foot of the trail at Kapalama on Sunday morning at 8:30. The hikers will trudge up to the Pali and descend by way of the Up-Side-Down falls.

The Kamehameha Hi-Y volleyball team has been victorious by winning its first two games held at Central Y. M. C. A. The Warriors are scheduled to tangle with the Viceroy of McKinley High school tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. After the games at the "Y," the members have free access to the swimming tank located there.

FORMER CADETS LEAVE ON TANEY FOR LINE ISLANDS

James Kamakaiwi, Louis Soares and James Kinney, former students at the Kamehameha School for Boys, sailed on the Coast Guard Cutter Roger B. Taney for the Line Islands on Sunday, February 27, at 5:00 p.m.

Colonization of the islands began three years ago this month. In three years 13 trips have been made to the islands.

The Taney took improved radio equipment for each island. Seismographs, used to record earthquakes, were also taken and might be placed on each island, also equipment to complete the lighthouses which have been started on each of the islands. The one on Howland island was named Earhart Light in memory of Amelia Earhart's attempted flight.

The Taney also took about a 1000 magazines which were accumulated by Mr. Donald Mitchell for the boys. Also a large amount of Anu Anu seed (dried watermelon seed) was sent to the boys by Mr. Mitchell.

The boys who are stationed on the various islands are as follows:

Howland—Joseph Anakalea, Jacob Haili and William Tavares.
Baker—Charles Ahia, Elmer Williamson and Teddy Akana.
Jarvis—Albert Akana, Eugene Burke and Charles Kaninau.

Recent radiograms received from the boy on the islands stated that all were well and none wanted to leave.

The expedition that left on Sunday was headed by Mr. Richard E. Black, field representative of the department of interior. The Taney will return in about two weeks.
