

as long as you're reflecting...

think about the kind of lifestyle you really want.

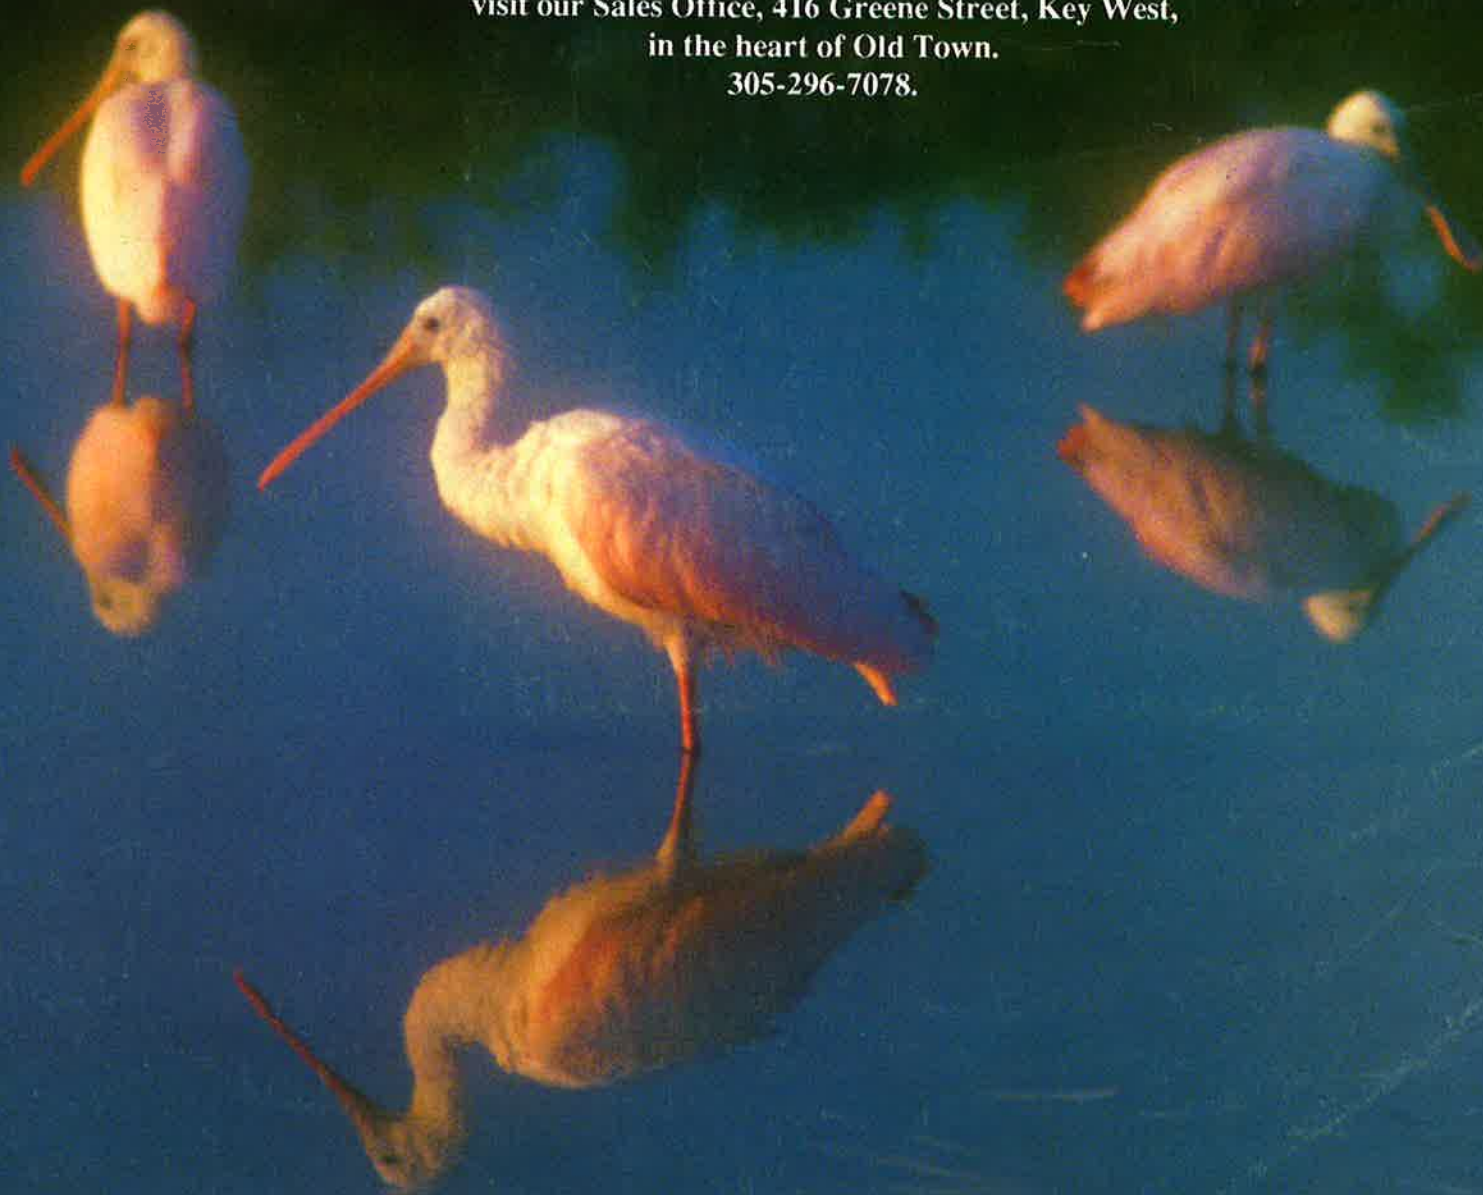

...think about a special community with the kind of neighbors who will soon be friends; a beautiful environment where old shady trees still stand and new flower laden parks have been added. Think about living amid reminders of our American heritage through the restoration of historical buildings and the preservation of a charming architectural era.

Imagine a place where you can dock your boat in a deep water harbor, sunbathe on pure white sandy beaches, browse through quaint little shops, visit with your neighbors on our post office porch and watch the world's most beautiful sunset secure in your own backyard.

Relax, enjoy the day, think lovely thoughts, then -
