

$4.95

Number 6

Yesterday in Florida

This photo was made in 1918 at Camp Joseph E. Johnston in Jacksonville. The camp was created as a Florida National Guard base and then converted for use as an army quartermaster training camp. It was renamed Camp J. Clifford R. Foster after WWI. This was their baseball team of that year. The team won the goat.

Step back in time and visit Florida in the “good old days” through our many stories and rare, vintage photos ... “like little windows in time”!