FEATURES

SEE HOW THEY GROW — LEE HOLMBERG

- 14 Everything that grows in Arline Wallace's yard has had her very personal attention since it was a seedling.

FRUIT FOR THOUGHT — LYNN-ROSS MICHAU

- 17 Pineapples used to be a major cash crop in the Keys. With care and patience you too can grow these fat, juicy treats.

SOUTHWEST MINIMALISM — CHARLES SULLIVAN

- 19 Chris Audley and Michael Duffy have taken their 1,000 sq. ft. garden apartment and created the space and time and mood of the American Southwest.

PRESERVING A LANDMARK — SARAH YORK

- 23 The Johnson-Albury house in Tavernier dates from the early 1800s. A painstaking and thorough renovation by David and Pam Lain has saved this important Keys landmark.

BREAKING AWAY — JOHN COLE

- 28 Where does creativity come from? Two extraordinary Keys' artists — Dalva Duarte and Roberta Marks — discuss their art, their inspiration and themselves.

NEW ENGLAND CONCH — JOHN COLE

- 38 Debbie Baldwin and Kirk Rynerson have renovated a Conch house and given it a special flavor with their collection of New England antiques.
