

CEDAR KEYS, SUWANNEE & WACCASASSA RIVERS

NATURE COAST WILDLIFE EXPERIENCE

a celebration of natural diversity

OCTOBER 28-31,
2004

BIRDING FIELDTRIPS
PADDLE & WATERTOURS
PHOTOGRAPHY EVENTS
SEMINARS, WORKSHOPS
HIKING & CAMPING

www.NatureCoastWildlifeExperience.org

Discover the Difference...

NATURE COAST WILDLIFE EXPERIENCE

Join field trips with expert guides.

Listen to informative presentations led by knowledgeable professionals.

Explore old growth forest, preserved scrub, tidal marshes, coastal islands and cypress lined rivers, over 70,000 acres of protected unique habitats.

Enjoy birding, kayaking, hiking, boating tours, camping and photography at its best in the pristine old Florida wilderness.

Learn about the ecology of the estuary, ancient Indian sites and shell mounds.

Watch regal bald eagles, frigate birds, ospreys, pelicans soar and dive overhead, while dolphins splash in the Gulf of Mexico

Wonder at wildlife in all its forms.

Discover more about this wonderful educational event and the other nature based activities Cedar Key has to offer at our web site:

www.NatureCoastWildlifeExperience.org

or call: 352-543-0099

The timeless natural beauty of the Cedar Keys is home to a small historic community in Levy County on Florida's Nature Coast.

a Condominium Resort
in harmony with nature
and in tune
with old Florida charm

www.FenimoreMill.com
Reservations: 800-767-8354

Photo by Terry Hitt

A town of less than 1,000 residents,
Cedar Key is a great place to watch
the kites soar, enjoy seafood and fish
off the dock. 12

Yesterday in Florida™

Number 18 Summer, 2004

ISSN 1546-0061

President/Publisher
Mary Lou Merritt

Vice President/Associate Publisher
Grady W. Smith, Jr.

Editor
Sharon T. Lobello

Contributing Editors
Ken Brooks
Robin Sellers, Ph.D.
Clarissa Thomasson

Graphic Design
Chiaki Kinoshita

Vice President, Sales
Grady W. Smith, Sr.

Visit our web site: YesterdayinFlorida.com or call us at 850/878-2525.

The best game ever played 7

A classic American story about hard work and big business started with Henry Badcock.

The girls grow up 20

The college offered a protective environment at first, but the students soon clamored for more freedom.

The home run that changed history 30

With one swing of the bat in 1919 Babe Ruth changed the course of American sports history.

More stories & activities

Muir walked to Cedar Key	11
A community in transition	16
Harvesting clams to eat	19
Photo collection of FSCW	24
The Babe's love affair with Florida	28
Ice very nice	31
She paid what she could	32
Going floatin'	35
What more could a fellow want?	40
The mosquito wars	42
Get Florida sand in your shoes	44
Forgotten hero	46
A talk with a shell carver	48
Florida lives forever	51
Of ostriches	52
Death by derailment	55
S H A R K S	56
Fort Mosé and free Africans	58
Maybe it's a rip tide	60
Welcome to Tate's Hell	61
Find Florida Facts	62
Kids' page	63
Butterflies: brief beauty	65

Yesterday in Florida is published quarterly by Yesterday in Florida, Inc., Post Office Box 38546, Tallahassee, FL, 32315. Photos courtesy of Florida State Archives. Original material in this publication may be reprinted by schools without permission of the publisher, provided it is not reproduced for sale and is identified as a Yesterday in Florida reprint. Send two copies of each reprint to Yesterday. Opinions expressed by the authors are not necessarily those of the magazine or its publisher. ©Yesterday in Florida, Inc. 2004.