Flag salute

DEAN BARNES BUTTS, head of the Florida Keys Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and organizing regent Kay Wilkinson present a certificate to Upper Keys Humane Society representatives Mary Frances Dressing and Mardie Ingersoll for the society's continued display of the American flag at the animal shelter in Key Largo. The group plans to present certificates throughout the Keys to businesses and organizations which regularly fly the flag.

GRAND OLD FLAG

Members of the Florida Keys Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) Flag Committee are awarding those businesses in the Keys who routinely display the American Flag. The DAR stipulates that the flag must be visible from either the northbound or southbound lanes of U.S. 1 and that it must be flying on business days. So far, according to an interim report, they have located 'approximately 40' sites between Mile Markers 90 and 113. Eventually the program of awards will encompass the entire county. Above, (L to R) Jean Barnes Butts, Chairman of the Flag Committee, and "K" Wilkenson, DAR Organizing Regent, present Florida Keys Electric Cooperative General Manager, Ed Grant, a certificate of award outside the FKEC office in Tavernier, now undergoing expansion construction. Old Glory looks down.
