Dedication

This book is dedicated to the long and outstanding service of all unselfish benefactors who have given of their time and resources that spiritual values might become a reality. But for those sacrifices and contributions many youths in South Western Virginia would have been denied the light of knowledge.

Founded as a primary school just after the Civil War the school was one of the first to offer instruction to the New Emancipated Slaves. Christiansburg Institute, over the years, has held a place of educational leadership. Serving many areas, the school has had an unique opportunity to influence the lives and activities of many people. Its great purpose has been to develop worthy citizens.

The Christiansburg Institute story is an unfolding program of student experiences. It is a science class or an English examination. A boy working in the shop. A student in the dark room in photography class or studying in the library. Boys singing or whistling on a repair job. Molding clay in the art class or typing letters in the business class. A hair trim in the barber shop, a facial in the beauty shop and a slice of pie in the Homemaking Cottage. The band marching in the Christmas parade and the candle light procession of the choir at the "Hanging of the Green". The Homecoming Coronation and the Varsity C Banquet. The laughter at a comic drama, the tempo of the ballet dance and "Gym Night" pyramid building. An assembly addressed by a great athlete. A football or baseball championship and winning a basketball tournament. Problems in the office, assignments by a frantic teacher, and questions asked by parents. These and the many activities of students and teachers make the Christiansburg Institute Story.

Science Club

The Science Club under the direction of Mr. L. D. Carr and Mr. L. L. Lee was organized in 1962. It was organized to help stimulate and develop student interests in scientific fields. All students in the Science Club have entered projects in the Montgomery County Science Fair and several have won prizes. The Science Club has participated in many activities. The members of the Science Club attended the Regional Science Fair at Roanoke College in 1963 with one member entering a project and winning an award from the U. S. Air Force. At this Science Fair the club members were taken on a tour of the General Electric plant in Salem, Virginia. The club was also responsible for taking a tour of the local telephone building which all members found exciting and educational.

This year the Science Club will lose four members. They are Sidney Lee, Jr., President, Douglas Brown, Shirley Carter and Sandra Johnson. These Seniors have found that being a member of the Science Club was a very rewarding experience, and hope that all future members will also find being a member of the Science Club is truly a very rewarding experience.
