A young man who formerly lived in Bermuda and was educated at Salties Grammar School has won a $150 award for being the student with the second highest marks in the first year at Osgoode Hall Law School in Toronto.

He is Mr. Roger G. Doe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Doe of Toronto and a grandson of the late Mr. Edward Doe of Bermuda, and of Mrs. Doe, who now lives in Massachusetts. His mother is the former Miss Helen Franklin of Bermuda.

Mr. Doe, who is 22, obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree at London (Ontario) University before taking up law studies.

The Salties Old Boys' Association will have a Halloween party on Friday, October 21, in the school assembly hall. There will be ballroom and square dancing, light refreshments and prizes.

The Friday Night Club Association has cancelled two of the dances planned for tomorrow night—the senior group dance at the Whitney Institute and the intermediate group class and dance at White's Island. The association wants as many members as possible to attend the Grammar School to raise funds for school use.

Governor praises Bermuda leaders

His Excellency the Governor, Lt. Gen. Sir John Woodall, distributed prizes at Salties Grammar School Thursday and told the boys that if they did as well as today's leaders of Bermuda, who very largely come from Salties, they would not be doing badly.

The annual Prize Day was combined with a carol concert by the boys.

The Governor congratulated the management and staff on developing such a "magnificent" school, which after 87 years was one of the older public schools. He said many of the parents present seemed to be the same ones he had seen at the prize day of the Bermuda High School for Girls last Tuesday.

Addressing himself to the boys, he recalled his own distant school prize days and asked, "What can I remember that has been of any use? There were clever boys who spoke a Latin which I didn't understand and which I am equally certain no Roman would understand." There were other clever boys who carried away their prizes; some of them were successful later and some were not.

His Excellency remembered and passed on the advice given by one school speaker long ago, that life was in large measure a question of tenacity, and it was not in beginning an enterprise but in carrying it through that the glory lay. He congratulated those who got prizes and consoling those who did not with the thought that life was a long-distance race, and those with tenacity should not have too much difficulty in passing the leaders.

He advised the boys to keep trying to discover the truth in order to form their judgment, for though this was "jolly hard," most success turned on it. And he added, "For goodness' sake, keep your sense of humor and a certain amount of optimism."

The headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett, reviewing the year's activities, said it was felt that the school's site would permit of no addition to the present building, and any expansion would have to take place on another part of the property. A second school could be added, and it would be logical to build a junior school at the west end of the premises.

The Cambridge local examinations of 1954 had showed improvement in both number of certificates and quality of work. Both candidates for the higher school certificate were successful; one had covered the syllabus in a single year, and both were away in their second year at McGill University. Thirteen of 16 candidates took the school certificate with above-average standing, and three went to universities abroad.

Only one pupil sat for the higher certificate this year, but there would be four or five next year, indicating better appreciation of it as a preparation for university work. Of 17 candidates for the school certificate in 1955, one offered woodwork, an innovation in subject-matter.

In the junior school a record number of 35 passed the Royal Drawing Society examination.

The school had kept up a good standard in sports against stiffer opposition. A cadet camp was held in July and instruction in weapon training at weekly drills was provided by the Local Forces. The debating society and stamp club were popular and plays were presented this year for the first time.

The headmaster said Salties would try to enlarge its means for training useful, loyal citizens of Bermuda or other countries where they settled.

Two silver merit cups were awarded to boys who in the opinion of the staff did most in work, games and activities. J. R. Talbot won the senior cup and J. L. Lee the junior.

Academic prizes were awarded as follows:
Senior school: English and history, J. R. Talbot; Scripture, S. G. E. Grayston; geography, J. E. Smith; Latin, J. R. Talbot; French, 4S—G. G. Tharp; Upper 3rd—first, D. M. Goodner; second, M. S. Brewer.

3rd—K. H. Chiappa; Lower 3rd D—first, J. L. Lee; second, C. M. Colham; Lower 3rd L—first, R. O. Banyard; second, A. D. Frith.

2nd—first, M. D. Ashton; second, D. R. Anderson; third, D. M. Morris.

1st—first, D. G. Cooper; second, P. A. L. Vorley; third, P. L. Troake.

Reading lessons in hall—J. R. Talbot.

Among distinguished guests in addition to Lady Woodall and Miss Woodall, were the Bishop of Bermuda, Rt. Rev. J. A. Jago, and Mrs. Jago, and Sir John Cox, Speaker of the House of Assembly.

The school choirmaster, Mr. John Bridge, played piano accompaniment to the carols.

Senior school: English and history, J. R. Talbot; Scripture, S. G. E. Grayston; geography, J. E. Smith; Latin, J. R. Talbot; French, J. E. Smith; Spanish, D. D. Farre; reading, I. P. West; writing, S. F. West; literature and poetry, J. E. Smith; drama, T. H. Belvin; history, J. L. Lee; geography, R. O. Banyard.

Prizes: 6—first, J. L. Lee; second, D. A. Hollis; 5—first, S. H. Dallas; second, R. W. Kempe.

4L—first, A. D. Manual; 4L—first, A. M. Dixon; second, E. C. Outerbridge.

Schools give concert at Cathedral

Over 300 persons attended the Carol Concert last night at the Cathedral, given by the combined choirs of the Bermuda High School and the Saltus Grammar School.

The High School Choir was under the direction of Miss Gladys Tatem, L.R.A.M., A.R.C.M., A.R.C.O., and the Grammar School choir was under the direction of Mr. John R. Bridge, Cathedral organist.

The service was opened with the choirs and congregation singing "O Come All Ye Faithful".

The combined choirs sang "Puer Nobis", "Good King Wenceslas", "The Holly and the Ivy", "O Little Town of Bethlehem", "A Child this Day is Born", "In Dulci Jubilo" and "The First Nowell".

The Bermuda High School choir sang "Sussex Carol", "Poverty", "Masters in this Hall", "The Band of Children" and "God Rest You Merry". The Saltus Grammar School choir sang "Wassail Song", "The Old Year Now is Fled" and "Kings in Glory".

Both choirs and the congregation joined in singing the closing number, "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing."

Change Of Command Ceremonies Held Aboard U.S.S. Baltimore

Captain Scarritt Adams, U.S.N., of "Springfield," Paget East, Bermuda, assumed command of the heavy cruiser U.S.S. Baltimore in ceremonies aboard the vessel at Mare Island Naval Shipyard, Vallejo, California on December 20.

Captain Adams, who is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. Coolidge Adams, relieved Captain

Carl G. Christie, who had held command since June 18, 1954. Captain Adams is in the extreme right of the photograph above with Captain Christie on his right. A graduate of the United States Naval Academy (Class of 1930), Captain Adams came to the Baltimore after duty as Commanding Officer of U.S.S. Mount

Saltus Old Boys To Hear Their Master's "Voice"

Old boys of Saltus Grammar School will stop what they are doing and obediently take their seats when they hear the school bell on Wednesday.

Later many of them will see themselves as they were when this was a daily procedure in their lives.

This sharp tug at the memories of their schooldays is to take place, however, not in the classroom or yard but at the Elbow Beach Surf Club.

The occasion is the coming-of-age of the Old Boys' Association — its 21st anniversary.

The school bell will be rung to call the Association's annual meeting to order at 8.30 p.m. — rather late in the day to begin class, but they are big boys now. Sandwiches and milk of their boyhood will give way to canapes and cocktails after the meeting.

Then, when the old boys go to the Surf Club dining-room for the annual dinner, they will see themselves and their fellows as they were at school in photographs of Saltus activities to be used as table decorations.

MORE SALTUS OLD BOYS IN ASSOCIATION

Mr. Thomas Vesey praised the increase in the membership of the Saltus Old Boys' Association at the annual general meeting last night.

"Subscriptions have come up this year," he said. "We now have 240 members — a great improvement. I hope the incoming committee will do even better."

Nearly 100 old boys attended the meeting and the dinner which followed — an innovation. It was the association's twenty-first year.

During the election of officers the usual difficulty arose — whether to elect by show of hands, or by secret ballot.

The problem was solved in a different way by the association — or rather by three members.

One of the three was Mr. Bill Gady, who was nominated to the office of secretary. The other two were his proposer and seconder.

Mr. Horace Fith, vice-president (he was re-elected) proposed Mr. Gady. He said he understood that Mr. Nesbitt Doe (the retiring secretary) had other commitments and was overworked.

Mr. Doe was nominated. Asked for an expression of opinion, he said: "I have other commitments — granted. And if it is your desire that I continue I will continue." He had done a bit of grumbling about the job in the last couple of years, and he supposed that he would continue grumbling. But he was willing to serve.

The debate about whether to vote by ballot or by show of hands continued. Mr. Owen Darrell, the president (he was re-elected) said that the rules of the association called for voting by ballot which meant by secret ballot.

To vote by show of hands, said Mr. Darrell, would require a change in the constitution, and ten days were required for that.

The show-of-hands men claimed that their method would save time.

Then Mr. Gady got up — and stood down.

His proposer and seconder agreed — and Mr. Nesbitt Doe is secretary for another year.

Treasurer this year is Mr. John Chappa, who replaces Mr. Bill Brewer. Mr. Brewer retired voluntarily.

The association only nominated six men as members of the committee of management. They are Mr. Neville Conyers, Mr. Bill Cox, Mr. Nat Butterfield, Mr. Tony Brewer, Mr. Charles Wilson and Mr. Bill Brewer.

During his report to the association, Mr. Owen Darrell said he was sorry the endowment fund had remained static (it is now about £700), and suggested that an account should be opened in one of the banks to receive contributions.

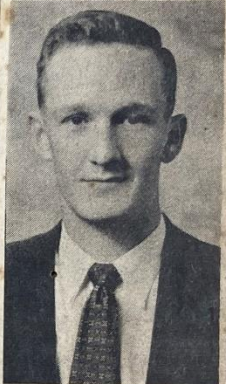

Mr. Henry Hallett, headmaster of Saltus, gave the old boys a report about the school year.

He added: "We of the school are grateful to this association which through its committee of management and other members has staged several functions of various types during the past year to raise funds to assist the school. These functions have also served to bring the old boys together in happy social gatherings, and to foster among them a spirit of corporate unity and interest. As long as we have an active Old Boys' Association, the school can face the future with confidence and overcome those obstacles which inevitably will arise from time to time."

The association plans to hold a Leap Year Ball at the Bermuda Hotel.

'Mudian Is Chartered

Information has been received here that Mr. Donald Peter Lines, son of Mrs. Ernest Bliss and the late Edgar Grenville Lines, has passed the final examination of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of the Province of Quebec.

Mr. Lines (above) was born in Bermuda and received his primary education at Saltus Grammar School, obtaining the School Certificate of the Cambridge Local Examinations in 1949. He emigrated to Canada in 1950 and enrolled at McGill University to study accountancy at its night classes.

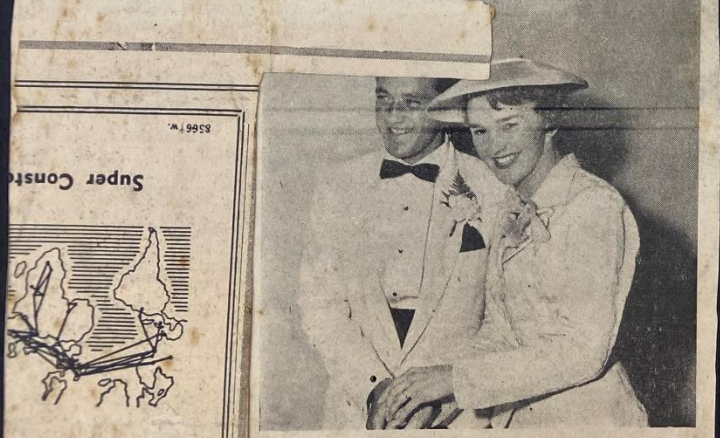

To be registered in Canada as a chartered accountant it is necessary, in addition to passing the recognized university's examinations, to serve with a firm of accountants for four years. This was done by Donald obtaining a position as junior clerk with Messrs. Creek, Cushing and Hodgson, a comparatively small but highly respected firm of accountants who audit many large accounts across Canada.

At the end of the 1954 term he graduated from McGill University. In October, 1955 he sat for the final examination of the Institute of Chartered Accountants and having passed this he is entitled to practise his profession with the degree of C.A. in Canada.

The success of this young Bermudian is notable as he graduated at the age of 23 years, which is quite young to receive this degree. Out of 350 candidates writing this examination in Montreal only 150 passed.

It is his intention at present to continue his employment with the Montreal firm with whom he served during his tuition.

Assembly Speaker's Son Called To Bar Here

Mr. William Milner Cox was called to the Bar in the Supreme Court yesterday.

On the bench were the Chief Justice, the Hon. Sir Trounsell Gilbert, and the Assistant Justice, Sir Allan Smith.

Mr. Cox, son of Sir John Cox, Speaker of the House of Assembly, and Lady Cox, was sponsored by Mr. D. C. Smith, M.C.P.

He was educated at Saltus Grammar School, Trinity College, School, Canada, the University of Toronto, Oxford University and the Middle Temple. He was called to the Middle Temple last June.

In presenting Mr. Cox to the bar Mr. Smith noted that he apparently did not intend to pursue a career in the law business but in the banking field.

Sir Trounsell said it gave him the greatest pleasure to welcome Mr. Cox to the local Bar.

Mr. Cox was one of the young Bermudians to whose hands the welfare of the Colony would be soon entrusted, Sir Trounsell said. His education would prove to be of great value.

Even though he did not intend to practise here at present it was a "very proper action" that Mr. Cox decided to enter the Bar here.

In welcoming Mr. Cox on behalf of the law officers of the Crown and the Bar in the Colony, the Hon. J. B. Pine, acting Attorney General, expressed the hope that Mr. Cox's decision not to pursue a law career was not an indication that he intended to pursue a lawless one.

Mr. Smith assisted Mr. Cox in donning his robes. Then, after adjusting his wig, Mr. Cox replied, thanking all for their kind words of welcome. He also thanked Mr. Smith as his proposer.

In donning his robes, Mr. Cox said, he felt "a certain sense of pride and realisation of an ambition."

He publicly thanked his parents for all they had done for him and closed his brief speech with a few comments on improvements and alterations recently made to the Middle Temple, London.

Saltus Old Boys To Play School XI's

The Saltus Old Boys will be fielding two sides this afternoon in a double-header at the Saltus School field when the Old Boys First XI play the School first team and their Second XI play the School second team.

The Old Boys are to wear white and are to be at the field by three o'clock.

The Old Boys teams:

First XI—W. Bardgett; C. Butterfield, G. Pantry; P. Welch, W. Cox, S. Outerbridge; H. Younger, W. Brewer, C. Rance, M. Cox, N. Conyers.

Second XI—R. Ferguson; W. Eve, B. Burland; D. Burland, B. Gray, D. Pedro; T. Terceira, T. Dunch, T. Brewer, R. Davidson, A. Barnes.

Trampoline For Saltus Grammar School

Gymnastic equipment at Saltus Grammar School has been augmented by a trampoline purchased by a group of old boys and friends of the school. The trampoline will be presented formally this morning.

Since the war the trampoline has become an almost essential piece of equipment in the modern gymnasium. Those who attended the Aqua Revue at the Eagle's Nest Pool last year will remember the many uses of the trampoline demonstrated by the Nissens.

The trampoline's origination goes back before the turn of the century when it was used in travelling circuses in Europe.

Trampoline is now an official sport in the United States and Canada where national and collegiate trampoline championships are held. It is also part of the Pan-American Games.

Those who subscribed towards the Saltus trampoline were Sir John Cox, M.C.P., Mr. Stanhope Joel, Sir Bayard Dill, M.C.P., Sir Eldon Timingham, Mr. H. St. George Butterfield, Mr. Vail Zull, Mr. H. J. Tucker, M.C.P., the Hon. A. J. Gorham, Mr. Myer Malloy, the Hon. B. T. Gosling, Mr. B. Milani, Mr. W. H. Hayward, Mr. Francis Gosling, Mr. Ross Doss and Mr. Leslie J. Robinson.

Saltus Old Boys Plan Many Varied Activities

A history of Saltus Grammar School is to be written. A proposal to that effect by Mr. Charles Wilson was unanimously agreed to at a meeting of the Saltus Old Boys Association's committee of management in the school library on Monday night.

It was also agreed that with the history there should be an addendum covering the work done for the school by the association during its 21 years of existence.

It was the second meeting this year of the newly-elected committee of management.

The meeting decided upon a programme of events that will have the threefold object of fostering the spirit of fellowship among old boys, stimulating further interest in the school and increasing the association's funds which are for the benefit of the school.

First major event of the year is to be the association's Leap Year Ball at the Bermudiana Hotel on Wednesday, February 29.

There will be two old boys' cricket elevens playing against the school on Founder's Day, June 14. The annual football matches with the school last month aroused so much interest that it is planned to have another two friendly matches against the school in the autumn term.

In the field of tennis the Old boys' team will play a combined team of present schoolboys and staff at a date to be announced. Interest in basketball is also growing and any old boys wishing to play should get in touch with Mr. Bill Brewer.

LUNCHEON PLANS

This year the Founder's Day luncheon on June 14 will be a departure from previous years. The committee is making plans for it to be held at the school instead of at a hotel. The custom of having an old boy as guest speaker is to be followed again.

Other events planned by the association are a bridge and canasta party in the school assembly hall on May 23, a joint meeting of the school's debating society, a showing of coloured slides of Oxford to older boys of the school and interested parents, and an annual dinner at the end of the year.

The endowment and contribution fund of the association, which is intended eventually to provide scholarships and to ensure that no promising boy will ever have to leave Saltus due to lack of means, at present totals £1,100. It is managed by the trustee department of the Bank of N. T.

Butterfield on behalf of the trustees of the school.

It is hoped to increase the fund considerably this year and as a first step a current account has been opened at the Bank of Bermuda. It is called the Saltus Old Boys' Endowment Contribution Fund. At the end of the year the balance of the current account will be transferred to the trustee department of the Bank of Butterfield for investment.

FULL OF THE JOYS OF SPRING? Hardly, James Smith, a pupil of Saltus Grammar School tries out the trampoline which has been given to the school by a group of old boys and friends. The trampoline was formally presented to the school yesterday morning on behalf of the donors by Mr. Leslie J. Robinson and Mr. Francis Gosling (standing on the extreme right). Also standing by the trampoline are Mr. Henry Hallett (headmaster) and Mr. R. Alger (gym master). "It is getting a great deal of use; the boys are very keen on it," said Mr. Hallett.

HEADS OR TAILS?—Jimmy Smith, pupil at Saltus Grammar School keeps onlookers guessing while he makes up his mind whether to come down head or feet first on the Trampoline presented to the school yesterday by a group of Old Boys and friends of the school. Standing behind the equipment are (l. to r.) Mr. R. Alger, Saltus sports master, Mr. Henry J. Hallett, Headmaster, Mr. Leslie Robinson, who made the presentation, and Mr. Francis Gosling, representing the Old Boys.

Saltus School Boxing

The Twenty-first Annual Boxing Competition of the Saltus Grammar School was held at the School last evening before a large attendance.

A programme of 13 bouts was thoroughly enjoyed by those competing as well as spectating and at no time during the evening was there a dull moment.

Watlington House were the eventual winners of the competition, compiling a total of 94 points against second place Butterfield House with 86; and Darrell House and Saltus House following close behind with 79 and 71 points respectively.

At the conclusion of the bouts the Mayor, Wor. E. R. Williams, distributed the cups to the winners but before doing so he congratulated all taking part on their excellent showing. He was introduced by Mr. Henry Hallett, headmaster, who, during a brief speech, remarked on the improvements which had taken place since the inaugural competition 20 years ago.

Winners of the various bouts are as follows:—

R. Steinhoff (D) 60 lbs. def. J. Gillan (W) 60 lbs.
D. Richeson (S) 81 lbs. def. C. Clark (S) 80 lbs.

SALTUS OLD BOYS GIVE AID TO SCHOOL

Saltus Old Boys have set themselves a £56 target to be added to their endowment fund for the school this year. At present the fund stands at £1,100.

Over half the money has already been raised from donations and from some of the proceeds of the recently-held Leap Year ball. A further £30 is to be set aside by the Old Boys' Association for drums and band equipment for the Saltus Cadet Corps.

Five books for the school library were bought as a result of a collection taken during a slide show given by Mr. William Cox.

The association also intends to buy all the books for the school's prize day this year and help towards the cost of furnishing apartments for the teaching staff.

Entertainment plans to bring old boys together include a card party at the school on May 23 and the annual founder's day luncheon on June 14.

in inter-school boxing contests

The Morgan Hall at Warwick Academy was packed tight with interested spectators last night for the 7th annual Inter-School Boxing Competition, which produced keen competition in all divisions with Saltus Grammar School and Warwick Academy each claiming four wins, one of the Academy's being a walk-over.

Dellwood School chalked up three victories and Whitney Institute one winner with its only competitor.

Among the spectators was H. E. The Governor, Sir John Woodall, who presented trophies at the conclusion of the bouts.

Results of contests:

Under 61 lbs.
There was no decision in this contest, which was boxed as an exhibition by two youngsters who were just above the weight limit. Keith Feakins (War) and John Gillan (Sal) gave a spirited display, with blond young Feakins following his red-headed opponent around the ring. But Gillan, though giving ground, was as game as they come and always willing to mix it.

Under 68 lbs.
Ronald Madeiros (Dell) gained the verdict over Glen Shorto (Sal) after a close bout. Shorto was the more aggressive at the outset but Madeiros came back in the next two rounds to land the more telling blows which earned him the points and the decision.

Under 75 lbs.
Frank Bento (Dell) defeated David Lonsdale (War) with a good margin in hand. He kept his opponent on the run and scored more freely. Lonsdale, though soon winded and arm-weary, continued gamely on, however, and though he lost the decision he earned the applause of the crowd.

Under 82 lbs.
Kenneth Hayward (Sal) won over Richard Pedro (Dell) after a close fight in which he held a 10-lbs advantage over Pedro. This was brought about because of the weight for age system of matching the boys. Pedro, despite his lower weight and height, was considerably older than Hayward. Although Pedro's blows lacked the added power of his opponent, he scored consistently and kept on even terms until the last round, when Hayward went slightly ahead to gain the decision.

the second and give as much as he received, the third was an excellent round, each boxer's face being claret-tinted after Menzies suffered a nose-bleed. Both boys were still fighting hard at the finish of the bout and received a great ovation from the thrilled spectators.

Under 140 lbs.
Donald MacPherson (Sal) won the vote of the judges over Jordy Walker (War). Walker was the aggressor until midway through round two when he was considerably slowed up with two hard rights to the head. The effect was seen in the final round, which found MacPherson in better condition and able to speed up his point-scoring to gain the decision.

Under 155 lbs.
Tommy Moss (War.) defeated George Cook (Sal) after a well-fought contest during which he waited for Cook's attack and neatly countered with point-scoring blows. Throughout the fight, Moss drew Cook's fire and met each attack in neat fashion. Cook was trying hard all the way, but rarely able to penetrate his opponent's guard.

Over 155 lbs.
Carmen Hayslette (War.) won by walk-over. No opponent was entered in this division.

Officials for the competition were: Referee—Mr. D. J. Williams; Judges—Messrs. S. Gascoigne, S. M. Paschal, P. S. Welch; Timekeeper—Mr. D. Measures; M.C.—Mr. F. B. Rogers; doctor in attendance—Dr. M. C. Fulton; Competitor Stewards—Messrs. R. S. Alger, M. Hankey.

Mr. Dave Kirwin, chairman of the Bermuda School Sports Association, expressed the thanks of his committee to Mr. Geoff Lamcraft, headmaster of Warwick Academy, and officials and helpers, for the smooth running arrangements made for the bouts.

Under 89 lbs.
Dennis Turner (Sal) was awarded the decision over Edgar Jowett (Dell) after the closest of bouts. Jowett had it all his own way in the first round and dominated the second. Turner came into his own in the third and piled up considerable points to get the vote of the judges, though it appeared Jowett had registered a good lead in the first two.

Under 96 lbs.
Raymond Hill (Del) won a fairly equal contest against John Couchman (Sal). Each round was similar in style. The first half minute was fought at terrific speed and the remainder in cautious stalking with occasional short flurries. There was little to choose between these two boys.

Under 104 lbs.
David Stubbs (War) scored a first round TKO over Thomas Dixon (Sal). Dixon was no match for his taller and longer-reached opponent, and did little but cover up. The referee stopped the uneven contest and awarded the bout to Stubbs.

Under 112 lbs.
Michael Mayne (Sal) won an easy victory William Perry (Del), coasting to victory with little opposition from his game, but less capable opponent. Mayne, who was without doubt the outstanding boxer of the night, fought from the opening second with a display of ringcraft which would be envied by many older and more experienced boxers. Perry was at a seven-pound disadvantage, but in a higher age bracket than Mayne.

Richard Petty (Whitney) won a 2nd round TKO over Peter Scupham (Sal). Petty, whose stature indicated that his weight exceeded that of his opponent's by more than the advertised five pounds, was too much for Scupham. Petty went all out with a two-fisted attack and early slowed down the lighter boy. Scupham was game enough but very tired and unable to keep Petty away. The referee rightly stopped the bout in Petty's favour.

Under 130 lbs.
Ross Menzies (War.) gained the decision over Roland Lines (Sal) after the best bout of the evening, fought throughout without let-up. Menzies took control in round one, but was surprised to see his opponent come up strong in

More Records Fall

Butterfield, Saltus Share Athletics Honours

Saltus House and Butterfield House shared the honours in the annual Saltus Grammar School Athletic sports day which finished on Saltus Field yesterday. Saltus took top honours in the senior division with 102 points while Butterfield had top points in the junior division.

Five records fell during the preliminary events held before yesterday, while yesterday seven more records were re-written in the school book.

Despite the cold wind and occasional light showers which swept the field, the performances were good and the competition was keen.

Senior individual prize was won by Jimmy Smith who established three new records — hop-step and jump, long jump and javelin — and won the high jump besides for a total of 20 points out of a possible 20.

The junior individual prize was taken by Scott Godet with 18 out of a possible 20 points.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the headmaster, Mr. H. J. Hallett thanked the judges and the parents — the latter for contributing cookies and breads and introduced Mr. C. Vail Zuill, an Old Boy of the school and one of its trustees, to distribute the prizes.

Mr. Zuill congratulated the winners and referred to the steady improvement in the athletic records since he had attended Saltus. He sympathised with the losers and exhorted them to keep trying.

ELEVEN RECORDS SET AT ANNUAL INTER-SCHOOL SPORTS

Hundreds of spectators were at the Saltus Grammar School field yesterday to see the youngsters compete in the annual Inter-School Athletic Meeting, which was run-off in excellent weather.

As had been expected, following various individual school meets in recent weeks, records continued to fall — on less than eleven new marks being set and two records equalled.

The Hon. Sir John Cox, speaking "as an old competitor of many years ago," congratulated all boys and girls on their fine showing, saying "you have set new standards for future competition." Sir John also paid tribute to the officials and all who had worked to prepare for the event.

He said it was remarkable that, commencing at 10.30 a.m. with over 90 events to be decided, the program should have been concluded only a few minutes after the scheduled time set.

Sir John, who presented the trophies, was introduced by Mr. Dave Kirwin, Secretary of the Bermuda School Sports Association.

In addition to the trophies won yesterday, the cups won during the soccer season were handed to the winning captains. The winners were:

Seniors — Mt. St. Agnes; Intermediate—Dellwood; Juniors—Mt. St. Agnes; Minors—Cavendish.

Complete results follow:

Bermudian Passes Bar Finals In England

Mr. Charles Collis.

Mr. Charles T. M. Collis, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Collis, "Sun Deck," Reid Street Extension, has passed his bar finals examination held in London last month.

Educated at Saltus Grammar School, he entered Dalhousie University in Halifax in 1949 and was awarded the Bermuda Government Scholarship for 1950.

In the spring of 1951 he was awarded a students' exchange scholarship at Dalhousie, tenable at any university in Canada.

Selecting McGill, Mr. Collis completed his third year at that university, returning to Dalhousie for his fourth and final year and graduating with a Bachelor of Commerce degree.

He was awarded the Rhodes Scholarship for 1953 and entered Corpus Christi College in the autumn of that year to begin his law studies.

In the spring of 1955 he received the degree of B.A. in law, with Class Two honours. In January, he began his studies for the English bar finals.

In addition to his academic career, he has fulfilled the all-round qualifications demanded by the selectors of the Rhodes Scholarship recipients.

In Canada, he was a member of King's College rugby and basketball teams, receiving his gold 'K' in athletics; he played with the McGill rugby team during his third year at that university and captained the King's College rugby team in his final year at Dalhousie.

At Oxford Mr. Collis was a member of the Corpus Christi soccer team and a member of Oxford University Dolphin S.C. (Oxford's second string) competing in fixtures in various parts of England during 1955.

The date on which he will be called to the English bar is not known but he expects to stay in England for the next six months to further his law experience.

Bermudian In Guard Unit At Royal Tourney

A Bermudian is a member of the Fort Henry Guard, a unique Canadian organisation dedicated to the visual re-actment of history, which is representing Canada at the Royal Tournament in England.

He is Guardsman Harold C. Anfossi, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Anfossi, Pembroke, who plays the fife in the guard's rifle and drum band.

Mr. Anfossi was born in Bermuda and attended Saltus Grammar School here before going to St. Andrew's College, Aurora, Ontario. He is now a medical student at Queen's University, Kingston, after three years of study in arts at McGill University, Montreal.

The Fort Henry Guard is the first Canadian group other than the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to receive an invitation to the Royal Tournament in London. The tournament is one of the Commonwealth's greatest spectacles of a military nature and is being held this year from June 6 to 23.

A request that the guard participate in the military display was extended as the result of a visit to Old Fort Henry last June by General Sir Gerald Templar, Chief of the Imperial General Staff. He inspected the guard and suggested that they should be seen at the great tournament.

Old Fort Henry at Kingston was built as a main defence point in Canada by the British during the War of 1812. It was restored in 1936 after falling into disuse, and is now operated by the Ontario Department of Highways as a tourist attraction. The Fort Henry Guard, comprised largely of Canadian university students, is famous for its demonstrations of century-old infantry and artillery drill and battle tactics, and rifle and drum band. Uniforms and equipment used by the guard is authentic for the period 1867.

Appeal For Books For Saltus School

Is your library too large? If it is, let it overflow into Saltus Grammar School. This appeal is being made by the Saltus Old Boys' Association this week — Founders' Day Week.

Writes Mr. Owen H. Darrell, president: "We are making a special appeal for used books, both fiction and non-fiction, suitable for boys from eight to 18. "There are over 300 feet of empty library shelves to be filled and even some of the full shelves could be improved by replacing 19th Century editions with more recently published works.

"For example, it is probably not generally known that the edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica in the school library was published in 1892. "Friends of the school who have no used books to donate to the library can order a new one from a list of acceptable books which is available at the Bermuda Book Store."

If there is trouble in getting books to the school The Smoke Shop on Front Street has agreed to receive books during the week.

The Founder's Day luncheon will be held at the Bermudiana Hotel on Thursday. Guests will include the masters and the school first and second cricket XI's, and — for the first time — fathers of present and past students. Mr. Colin Selley will speak on a theme of citizenship. After lunch the two Old Boys' cricket XI's will play the school 1st and 2nd XI.

The winners of the second XI match will receive a cedar shield made and presented by Mr. Bill Cox, a member of the committee of management.

Another presentation during Founder's Day Week will be that of an old map of Bermuda, published in 1876. It will be hung in the school library.

Urges pride in British Colonialism

The Chief Justice, the Hon. Sir Trounsett Gilbert, yesterday praised British colonialism while giving the traditional oration at the Saltus Grammar School founder's day service.

The service commemorated Samuel Saltus, through whose benefaction the site was acquired and the school built. Samuel Saltus was born on June 12, 1800 and died in 1880.

"We call ourselves British subjects. We do not call ourselves 'British citizens', Sir Trounsett stated. "The reason for that is of course, that we owe loyalty and allegiance to a King or Queen.

"At the present time, we are subjects of Her Majesty the Queen and we feel no sense of humiliation whatever in calling ourselves subjects — quite the contrary.

"It is a very important thing for human beings, with ordinary human feelings, who are members of a state or who are members, as we are, of a vast collection of states and colonies called the British Commonwealth, it's very important to have something definite and permanent on which to tie one's loyalty.

"And, I venture to say, that in having a sovereign person, at present our Gracious Sovereign Lady the Queen, on whom to concentrate our loyalty, we rather score over republics.

"She is in a real sense one of us, one with her subjects, in her family life with her husband and children. In another capacity, she is a dedicated woman — she embodies in a very high degree the concept or idea of service to others, especially service to her subjects.

"In another capacity, she is the supreme head of the British Commonwealth, freely and gladly recognized as such by all the peoples of the Commonwealth," he explained.

Although the sovereign has not exercised as usual political power, it would be untrue to say the sovereign is just a figure-head, Sir Trounsett said.

"Upon a sovereign person, one can focus loyalty more than one ever could for a president or a prime minister because the latter are in and out of power depending on what particular political party is the strongest.

Speaking of the Commonwealth and Empire, Sir Trounsett said Great Britain was at the peak of her fame, when he came to Saltus Grammar School as a new boy nearly 60 years ago. Queen Victoria was still on her throne.

England was still among the top nations of the world and the most important nation of the British Commonwealth of Nations, he said. Her imperial character changed during the last half century. Countries which were dominions, like Canada, Australia and New Zealand, have grown up and have themselves become nations, though remaining of their own free will within the British Commonwealth, and some of the larger Colonies "have now been granted a considerable measure of self-government."

Sir Trounsett said, "all this was planned and foreseen. It has for many years been the declared policy of the British Government to train up the various countries of the Empire in the art of government so that they might eventually be able to govern themselves, and this policy has been faithfully carried out."

"As a backward country of the Empire has developed, under British protection and supervision and with British help, political power has been deliberately transferred to the people of the country," he stated.

When thinking of British Colonialism, one thinks of places where justice and freedom were brought, where disease has been eradicated and living standards improved, agriculture developed, minerals opened, roads and railways built, and people given the benefit of education.

"I will tell you with conviction that British Colonialism has been a very great factor for human happiness and well-being," Sir Trounsett concluded.

Sir Trounsett was introduced by the headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett. After the service, the school paraded to the Pembroke Churchyard where Rev. E. Novel B. Chapman offered prayers and George Brown laid a wreath on the founder's grave. The wreath was inscribed "In grateful memory of our founder, Samuel Saltus."

Bermudian A McGill Graduate

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cook of Spanish Point have returned from abroad where they attended the graduation of their son, William, 28, from McGill University and visited their other two sons in Moncton and Toronto.

They also visited in Niagara Falls, Washington and New York.

Dr. Cooke (above) received the degree of Doctor of Medicine and Master of Surgery from McGill.

He received his early education at the Bermuda Grammar, Dellwood and Saltus Grammar Schools. After serving in the medical department of the U.S. Army he received his Bachelor of Science degree, cum laude, from St. Michael's College, Winooski Park, Vermont, in 1952. The same year he entered the Faculty of Medicine at McGill.

Dr. Cooke in 1954 was given the opportunity to spend a summer in pharmacological research at McGill. A summary of the results of this work was published a year ago in the Journal of the Canadian Medical Association with Dr. Cooke as co-author. Last summer he obtained an appointment in the department of medicine of the Montreal General Hospital and was able to undertake simultaneously a research project in the hospital's sub-department of allergy.

Dr. Cooke led his class in his medical course. He has begun his internship at the Montreal General Hospital and when it is completed plans to take a four-year post-graduate training programme in internal medicine. He will seek certification by the American Board of Internal Medicine and the Fellowship of the Royal College of Physicians of Canada before returning to Bermuda to practice.

In Moncton Mr. and Mrs. Cook visited their son, John, who was graduated from Dalhousie University in Halifax last year and is currently under articles in preparation for a chartered accountancy degree. In Toronto they spent some time with a third son, Robert, who is studying McGill for a degree in architectural engineering. Robert is spending the summer with the Canadian Officers' Training Corps at Camp Borden, Ontario.

Youth must be interested in chances here: Selley

Young Bermudians should be shown the many business opportunities which exist in Bermuda and be taught to develop interests in activities outside the Colony, Mr. Colin Selley said yesterday, during the annual Saltus Old Boys Association luncheon held at the Bermudiana Hotel.

Mr. Selley is manager of the Bermuda News Bureau. Attending the luncheon were 134 persons including association members, school masters, the school's first and second cricket XI's and fathers of students.

"Something must be done to make our young people aware of the many opportunities which exist in Bermuda," Mr. Selley stated. "We must do everything possible to widen their interest in current events to include many activities outside of Bermuda," he said.

Bermudians were not taking advantage of job opportunities, especially in the fields of journalism, hotel management and governmental departments. "There is no apparent interest at all" in these phase of work, he said.

For a number of young Bermudians, eventual success will come in a manner similar to which a successful businessman was able to retire with $100,000 in the bank.

When asked, this man replied he was able to retire with such a large bank balance because after 30 years of work spent in close application to duty, pursuing a policy of strict honesty and rigorous rules of economy, a rich uncle died and left him $98,000. Some Bermudians will gain eventual success in this manner, Mr. Selley said, "even though they may spend years working at something which holds no real interest for them."

Though many of the senior boys may continue their education abroad, a lack of the knowledge of opportunities available to them might cause some to waste their time on "snap subjects" because they don't know in which field to major.

Still others, who are interested in a specialized field of work, would rather carry on in the family business rather than risk branching out on their own.

To teach students local business practices and opportunities, Mr. Selley suggested that "perhaps once a week, for a half hour, the senior classes could hear men from various businesses outline the work that they do and the openings that do exist."

"You are then accomplishing two objectives," he stated. "Interest is being stimulated in the minds of the boys and to a great extent a future supply of manpower is assured."

Because Bermuda is a tourist-

ist attraction, young people should be taught to develop interest in world-wide current events, he suggested. "Keeping ourselves informed on what is happening in the world around us is especially important here in the Colony, for we all are individual information bureaus," Mr. Selley stated.

"We have a parental responsibility to see that good books and magazines are available to children, and that dinner table conversation creates an interest in current events," he asserted.

"We hear daily, plenty of theories of how to improve and correct Bermuda's problems, but the real need is for young men and women with the interest and educational background to be able to practically apply these principles," Mr. Selley concluded. The guest speaker was introduced by Mr. Owen Darrell and thanked by Mr. Horace Frith.

Mr. Darrell, president of the Saltus Old Boys Association, spoke of a need for further benefactions. He displayed a Mid-Ocean News Basketball Trophy presented by Wor. S. S. Toddings, M.C.P. in 1953.

Saltus was the first school team to win the trophy, and Mr. Darrell pointed out that the gymnasium, completed in 1950, played a large part in the winning of the trophy.

The gymnasium, he said, was the last major benefaction since the founding of the school in the 19th Century. Within the past several weeks, an exploratory committee had been formed to investigate and advise on ways to increase the school's endowments. Committee members were Mrs. Rendall Arton, Mr. Billy Wilson and Mr. Nesbitt Doe.

An endowment fund of $55 was opened at the Bank of Bermuda to augment the invested endowment funds which now stands at $1,100. Headmaster Henry Hallett was presented with a silver memento on behalf of the association for 25 years and the 75 school terms he has served at Saltus.

Seated at the speaker's table were: Mr. William Frith, the Rev. E. N. B. Chapman, Sir John Cox, Mr. Colin Selley, Mr. Owen Darrell, Mr. Henry Hallett, Sir Trounseil Gilbert, Mr. John Hillier and Mr. Horace Frith.

Dr. Frederick Anfossie, B.Sc., D.D.S., (above) has recently returned to Bermuda to commence practice. He has been licensed to practise in the Colony and will continue the practice of Dr. R. A. Wheatley, of Church Street, Hamilton, who has gone away for several months.

Dr. Anfossie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Anfossie of "Hillside," Pembroke. He received his early education at Saltus Grammar School and at St. Andrew's College in Aurora, Ontario. He entered McGill University, Montreal, in 1948, and was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in zoology and chemistry. In 1952 he entered the Faculty of Dentistry of McGill, graduating in May of this year. He led his class with first-class honours in four subjects—orthodontia (clinical and written), radiology, periodontia and clinical gold work, and in his final year received the prize given by the American College of Dental Medicine for excellence in the course.

While at McGill Dr. Anfossie was appointed resident dental intern at the Montreal General Hospital for 1955-56. He also took part in many extra-curricular activities, was a member of Kappa Alpha Society, and was class president during his first two years of dentistry.

Local boy works way 12,000 miles to visit homeland

Gerald M. Franklin, 20-year-old resident of New Zealand, financed his passage half way around the world to visit Bermuda, his native land, paying his way from point to point and working during each stop to pay for the next leg of his 12,000-mile voyage.

Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Franklin, who emigrated from Bermuda in February, 1949. The family, which also includes David, 23, and Mary Lou, 11, now make their home in Raumat Beach, New Zealand.

Gerald was only 13 when he left Bermuda, and a desire to see the Colony again, combined with an itchy foot, prompted him to start saving for the long voyage.

He worked under his father as an apprentice in carpentry and joinery, and saved enough money for a round trip to Vancouver, B.C.

The first leg of the trip was a 600-mile trip to Auckland, where he boarded the Orient Lines ship Osorva.

They stopped at Hawaii, and there he ran into the first Bermudian — Mrs. Patsy Roach, daughter of Mr. Bert Roach, proprietor of Roach's Self-Service grocery at Cox's Hill.

Both being natives of Bermuda, they naturally compared notes on Hawaii's famous Waikiki Beach, and agreed that it did not compare "in any way" with Bermuda's pale pink coral sands.

When the Osorva left for Vancouver, Gerald was aboard, and arrived in the Canadian West Coast city on February 13.

He needed more money to complete the trip, so he took a job as a steward at a private lodge in the foothills below Lions Peak, north of Vancouver.

He worked there until the end of June, when he found he had enough money to get him to Toronto, and return to Vancouver.

He met another Bermudian in Vancouver — his own brother, David, a globe trotter by inclination himself. David was also working his way around part of the world. Gerald boarded a Greyhound bus in Vancouver for the long cross-country trek to Toronto, arriving on July 8.

Two days after his arrival there, he found a job as a carpenter, and he found another Bermudian.

He became friends with the family of Mr. Sidney Ray, in Peterborough, Ontario, who left Bermuda nearly 12 years ago.

On August 11 his savings had grown sufficiently to pay for a round-trip ticket to Bermuda — so his way back home to New Zealand was assured.

On August 11, he boarded a TCA flight for Bermuda, and a few hours later he stepped on his native ground.

Nobody knew he was coming, and his arrival at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. C. G. Franklin, Pitts Bay Road, Pembroke West, was a surprise.

PIPES FOR CADETS

Staff Sergeant George Cook of the Bermuda Cadet Corps puts together a bagpipe — one of four which arrived in Bermuda yesterday. Next to him is Mr. John Fountain, B.O.A.C. manager in Bermuda, who paid for air freight of the pipes from Scotland as a donation to the Cadet Pipe Band fund (which still needs more money). Standing are Mr. Denis Stuart, pipe instructor, and Captain Arthur Card, officer commanding the Cadet Corps.

Saltus Old Boys' Activities For School

As a result of an appeal made earlier this year by the Saltus Old Boys' Association for books for the Saltus Grammar School library to fill some 300 feet of library shelves, over 200 used books have been donated. They are both fiction and non-fiction, suitable for boys from eight to 18.

In addition, a donation of £10 has just been received by the association for the purchase of new books.

The committee of management of the association has met twice this autumn and made the following arrangements, although some of them are tentative.

On Thursday, November 1 (kick-off 3.30 p.m.) there will be two friendly football matches with the school. Earlier this year the annual football matches for first eleven and shields resulted in the Old Boys' first XI drawing 2-2 with the school team and the Old Boys' second XI winning 3-0.

The two games for the school are to enable a number of old boys who could not play in January to have an opportunity to do so. Old boys interested in playing should contact Mr. Bill Brewer.

On Thursday, December 6, Mr. Harry Cox has promised to show some of his colour slides of historic points of interest in Bermuda to the school. Interested parents and old boys will be able to attend. This date is subject to alteration due to the very heavy school examination schedule for this term.

It is expected that another debate will be held with the school's debating society, but this will definitely be held over until the Easter term in view of the work which the older schoolboys at present are doing for the Cambridge local examinations, which begin on Monday, November 26.

DARRELL WIN SR. HOUSE SWIMMING COMPETITION

The annual inter-house swimming competition of Saltus Grammar School was held on Friday afternoon at the Eagle's Nest Hotel pool. It resulted in a victory for Darrell House in the Senior division and Butterfield in the Junior. There was one new record set up. It was made by Moss in the 100 yards freestyle event.

The results:
A 25 yards freestyle: 1. Vorley (B), 2. Ferguson (B), 3. Brown (B). Time 19 secs.

Banquet Closes Snipe Championships

Prizes Are Presented On Saturday

22/10/56

One of the most important incidents in the lives of Eugene Simmons and John Shirley took place on Saturday night at the Elbow Beach Surf Club when Mr. E. R. Williams, Mayor of Hamilton and an ardent yachtsman, placed in their hands the silver bowl that is emblematic of the western hemisphere Snipe championship.

The presentation was the climax of an excellent dinner and a fine week of racing and for the winning team, a very satisfying conclusion of years of hard work and preparation for such an occasion.

Simmons and Shirley have sailed together for a number of years; each understands the other's movements and the pair function like a well oiled machine. Skipper Simmons is shy almost to the point of its being painful, while Shirley, a jovial type, is a perfect balance. Neither has much to say to the other when they are sailing — "It isn't necessary," Shirley explains. "We know what we want to do and we just do it."

As far as Bermudians are concerned, the championship couldn't have gone to a finer pair. They are good sailors, keen sportsmen and are quiet and unassuming.

CLEAN SWEEP

Bermuda made a clean sweep in the championships, and while it was expected that Simmons and Shirley would do well and it was not too surprising to see them finish up at the top, the fact that Allison to participate in the second place went to Ronnie

S.O.B.
EUGENE SIMMONS (centre) winning skipper of the western hemisphere Snipe championship, receives the championship trophy from Mr. E. R. Williams. His crew John Shirley, holds the silver salvers which become the property of the winners.

S.O.B.
Strange and George Brown came as a surprise bonus to the Colony's yachting aspirations. Strange and Brown are also a good team, but they are not as consistent in their sailing as are the champions. It will be recalled that in the tuneup race, Ronnie Strange fouled out through carelessness; therefore when he finally finished in runner-up position after a brilliant piece of sailing, Bermuda's cup was running over.

The result must have been doubly pleasing for Strange, for he obtained leave from Mount Allison to participate in the racing.

The Bahamas pair, Godfrey Lightbourn and Geoffrey Johnstone, took third place in the championships after a good effort, while fourth were the Thompson brothers, Jerry and Lee who might have been champions were it not for the fact that they were a little over-zealous in the fourth race and ran into two protests, one of which stuck.

The Surf Club was decorated with signal bunting and behind the head table the flags of the three clubs composing the Bermuda Snipe Associates — St. George's Dinghy and Sports Club, Spanish Point Boat Club and the Sandys Boat Club — were prominently displayed.

WARNING GUN

Warning "gun" of the dinner was sounded by the president of the Associates, Mr. Reggie Tucker, who used a fairly large dinner bell for the purpose.

The toast to the visitors was proposed by Mr. J. Henry Masters, chairman of the Protest Committee to which Mr. Theodore A. Wells, member of the Board of Governors of S.C.R.A. replied.

Freer Cox dies after brief illness

Funeral services for Mr. Freer Cox of "Mayflower," Devonshire, will be held at Christ Church, Devonshire, tomorrow at 11 a.m. There will be no cortege.

Mr. Cox died at home on Sunday after a brief illness. He was 68 years of age.

Surviving Mr. Cox, who was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Cox, is his wife, Mrs. Kate Langdon Cox, one brother, Dr. Ralph Cox, residing in England, and a sister, Mrs. John Grey, also in England.

Mr. Cox was born in Bermuda and attended Saltus Grammar School where he was later teacher and assistant master for 18 years.

He was a Church Warden at Christ Church, Devonshire, for 26 years.

A keen horticulturist, Mr. Cox was the first President of the Garden Club of Bermuda. He was also a member of the Rhodes Society and a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society.

Brigadier J. A. M. Rice-Evans presented the prizes at Saltus Grammar School yesterday. Receiving cup is Robert Wallick. School headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett, in background.

Outstanding Year For Saltus Is Reported

Saltus Grammar School has had an outstanding year Mr. Henry Hallett, headmaster, said at the annual carol concert and prize-giving yesterday.

"An important change in the facilities of the school has been the provision of a physics lab," he said.

During the year an entrant for the higher school certificate gained his certificate and 13 boys took the school certificate. "I think it should go on record," Mr. Hallett said, "that our entry for woodwork in the school certificate — the first in Bermuda — obtained a high credit. This candidate was trained in the necessary practical work at the Nicholl Institute and our grateful thanks go to the instructors there for their valuable assistance."

This autumn four candidates sat for the higher certificate, and 18 for the school certificate, Mr. Hallett said. This was a record number.

Saltus boys won the two Board of Education scholarships available for the five schools which combine elementary and secondary education.

A Saltus boy also won the Cradock Scholarship, and another, J. R. Talbot, the Bermuda Scholarship.

Mr. Talbot, Mr. Hallett said, entered directly into his second year at McGill University after leaving Saltus.

In sports Saltus won 10 out of 12 finals in inter-school boxing; two group cups, 13 events, and established five new records in the track and field inter-school competition, and won 11 out of 16 football matches played so far this autumn.

Saltus continued to provide much of the strength of "A" Company, Bermuda Cadet Corps, Mr. Hallett said. A number of cadets had joined the pipe and drum band and others were interested in learning to play the bugle so that Saltus can have a band once more.

"The (Old Boys) Association has been most active this year," Mr. Hallett continued. "... as well as providing funds for today's prizes and for the reduction of the debt on the master's houses, it has purchased some new equipment for the school band, made a most generous donation to the library book fund, and also has plans for improving the layout of the library."

He thanked parents who had donated books to the library and subscribed to the fund to buy a trampoline.

The guest speaker yesterday was Brigadier J. A. M. Rice-Evans, officer commanding at Prospect, who discussed some of the qualities needed for officers. He based his talk on his experience as a member of a War Office selection board.

The qualities needed were: ability in personal relations, sufficient educational standard, level of ambition, effectiveness, responsibility, initiative, practical ability, social interest and liveliness.

DISTURBING TRENDS

"The majority of candidates were very good indeed," Brigadier Rice-Evans said, "but I did notice two rather disturbing trends."

One was a tendency for people to think they could start where their father left off. These were the pleasure-seeking ones. They did not really have much responsibility. Brigadier Rice-Evans suggested there was a danger of too much pleasure seeking in Bermuda, which depended on the tourist trade.

The other tendency was to ask "What can I get out of it?" instead of "What can I put into it?"

During the programme Saltus choir sang 11 carols, which were C. Profit, D. R. Anson, P. W. Profit, P. N. Perincherry, V. Murdock, M. Brewer, N. W. Franklin, W. R. Haywood, S. Brewer, G. M. Titterton and R. Marsden.

Prizes were presented by Brigadier Rice-Evans.

Subject Prizes, Junior School — R. A. Ferguson, S. L. Connors, L. Troake, P. D. Mace, J. W. Webb, G. F. Short, P. D. Tringham, R. Maycock, G. A. Yates, R. B. Linn, G. A. Yates.

Form Prizes, Junior School — Form I — J. W. Wallick, K. Linn, tall, F. Wilkie. Form II — Troake, D. G. Cooper, R. C. Smith, Form Lower III M — G. A. Yates, R. B. Leman. Form Lower III — R. E. Wallick, M. D. Ashton.

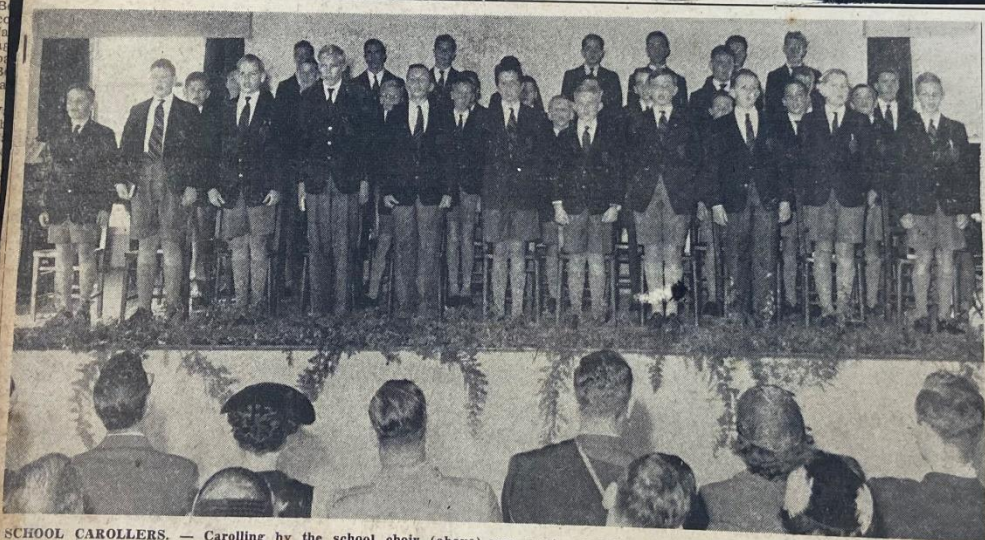

Subject Prizes, Senior School — G. L. Cook, G. R. Couchman, Smith, M. S. Godel, J. F. McGee, H. Chiappa, A. M. Dixon, P. A. Linn, P. W. Profit, J. A. E. Gillan.

Form Prizes, Senior School — Form Upper III A — J. V. Mace, G. M. Titterton. Form Upper III — I. R. Waterson, R. O. Banyard. Form IV — M. S. Brewer, K. H. Chinn, Form V — A. M. Dixon, B. M. Cann. Form VI — I. W. Mack, H. P. Patterson.

In the report of Saltus Grammar School speech day it stated that Saltus won 10 of 12 finals in inter-school boxing. In fact the school was represented in 10 out of 12 finals in the School Boxing Competition and won four.

The recently formed pipe and drum band of the Bermuda Cadet Corps, Company A, received a Christmas present yesterday as they paraded through Hamilton accompanied by Santa Claus on a fire engine and Mrs. Claus in an Irish jig cart.

The gift presented to the band was a drum major's baton, given by the officers and men of Prospect Garrison. The presentation was made by the officer commanding the Garrison, Brigadier J. A. M. Rice-Evans, to Drum Major Jeremie Durrell.

Brigadier Rice-Evans congratulated the band on their excellent work and urged them to keep it up.

Hundreds of Thursday afternoon shoppers were entertained by the parade as it wound its way through Hamilton streets.

Endowment Fund For Saltus; Too Beholden To Government For Aid

An endowment fund has been opened for Saltus Grammar School and last night Mr. Owen Darrell, president of the Saltus Old Boys' Association, handed over a cheque for over £250 toward it.

Mr. Darrell asked the old boys to sign pledges to give to the endowment fund.

Later during the meeting Mr. John Barritt said he was rather exercised about the endowment.

He believed that Bermuda had the best possible form of Government and he suggested that it was up to the business community to help it by supporting such projects as the fund.

The Association had to bring out the best possible attack on the business community, he felt, and he suggested that Sir John Cox, Speaker of the House of Assembly, and Sir Eldon Trimingham, should help to raise funds.

He then discussed scholarships. He did not think people should ask for help in doing things which they could do themselves. He did not think their boys should give up their scholarships, though.

"I do think, if they can, that they should pay a certain amount into the endowment fund," he said.

He did not suggest that the whole amount of the scholarship should be paid into the fund, but he felt an equitable amount should be paid. He also thought the scholarship winners themselves should, when they could, make material contributions.

REVENUE DETAILS

Later in the evening, during the old boys' banquet, Sir John, chairman of the administering body of the school, said it received £4,000 a year in fees, from £15,000 to £16,000 in Government grants, and about £1,000 from funds in the hands of the Saltus trustees.

"We are very much beholden to the Government for a substantial grant of funds for running the school," Sir John said. "There is an evident interest on the part of the Association in improving the endowment position of our school. May I say to all our old boys that no more worthy object of your beneficence can be found."

Contributions would help to ensure the continuance of the institution, he said. At the present time the school was in a vulnerable position through being dependent on Government support. "That, gentlemen, I think is one of the most serious challenges we have collectively to face," Sir John said.

During the meeting members of the Association agreed that the committee of management should look into the possibility of a memorial to the late Mr. Henry Cox and Mr. Freer Cox.

GARDEN, OR BOOKS?
Mr. Charles Pearman-Wilson, who brought the proposition forward (originally for Mr. Freer Cox alone) suggested having either a garden or buying additional books for the Saltus library. During the year's operations the Association gained a surplus balance of £45. Funds came from various activities and were spent to a great extent on things for the school.

During the meeting Mr. Horace Frith was elected president of Association, Mr. Charles Pearman-Wilson, vice-president, Mr. Neville Conyers, secretary, and Mr. John Chiappa, treasurer.

Members of the executive committee are Mr. Tony Brewer, Mr. Nat. Butterfield, Mr. Charles Collis, Mr. Bill Cox, Mr. R. A. Ferguson, and Mr. Colin Selley.

During the dinner Mr. Darrell proposed the toast to the Queen and Mr. Sydney Spurling, the oldest old boy present, proposed the toast to the school.

Mr. Henry Hallett, the headmaster, replied to the toast. He said the average enrolment per term over the last 10 years was 173.85 boys. The lowest enrolment was in 1954, with 164 boys. There was an average enrolment of 184 in 1956, and of 187 this term.

Mr. Pearman-Wilson proposed the toast to the trustees. Sir John Cox replied and told about the early history of the school.

Mr. William Cox gave the toast to the teachers, and Mr. F. L. Stevenson, a master, replied.

The dinner ended with the singing of the school song.

Rhodes Scholarship Winner To Continue Medical Studies

Dr. John Stubbs, winner of this year's Rhodes Scholarship, will go to Oxford next autumn to continue his medical studies. The Royal Gazette learned last night.

Dr. Stubbs took his M.D.C.M. and his B.Sc. last year at McGill University in Canada. He was in Bermuda during the summer being the first two months of his interne year at the King Edward VII Memorial Hospital, before going to Montreal General Hospital to complete the year.

Dr. Stubbs will return to Bermuda next summer to visit his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stubbs, of Shelly Bay, before he goes to Oxford.

Dr. Stubbs received the Bermuda Scholarship in 1949. He won a University Scholarship while he was at McGill.

Also at McGill he received the Gold Award for showing his executive ability in organising the University's first open house. This was the top award for extra-curricular work.

In Bermuda Dr. Stubbs was educated at the Whitney Institute School and at Saltus Grammar School, going directly from Saltus to McGill.

During his summer vacations he worked in Bermuda with the Health Department and the King Edward VII Memorial Hospital.

Old Boys and School to play at Saltus

This afternoon at 3.30 the Saltus Old Boys are fielding two sides to play against Saltus School, at the School fields.

It is hoped that as many Old Boys as possible will turn up to watch the games.

Those Old Boys selected to play are asked to wear white shirts, and to be at the School at 3.00 p.m.

Old Boys 1st XI — Morris Adderley, Brian Smith, Gerry Smith, Peter Welsh, Bill Cox, Charles Collis, Vivian Siddie, Ronald Barnard, Bill Brewer, Mike Cox and C. R. Terceira.

Reserve will be John Gilbert.

Youth To Rescue Of U.S. Navy

Fourteen-year-old Nigel Prescott on Saturday rescued the U.S. Navy — or, at least a part of it.

While cruising in Hamilton Harbour in his small outboard motorboat, he took in tow a motor-whaleboat with nine American sailors aboard which had developed engine trouble and was drifting helplessly.

The whaleboat — from the destroyer U.S.S. Rooks — contained six passengers and a crew of three. They were on their way from Hamilton to the U.S. Naval Station when the engine began to smoke. It was immediately cut off.

Nigel, seeing their trouble, towed them to Darrell's Wharf. A U.S. Navy crashboat towed them the rest of the way.

Voorhees Ward dies suddenly
13/3/57

Mr. Voorhees Ward, well known advertising leader in Bermuda, died suddenly last night at the home of friends with whom he has recently been residing. He was about 50 years of age.

No funeral arrangements have yet been made pending cables from Mr. Ward's family abroad, but it is expected that services will be held Friday afternoon.

Born in Pembroke, Mr. Ward was educated at Saltus Grammar School before going away for his higher education. After returning to the Colony, Mr. Ward was employed by the Bermuda Press, the Mid-Ocean News and the Rego Agency, among other firms, and he spent some time with the Gleaner in Jamaica.

He returned a short time ago from a trip to the United States where he had gone for treatment of a heart condition.

He was the son of the late F. Gibson Ward, a member of Colonial Parliament, and the late Mrs. Ward.

Surviving Mr. Ward is an older brother in Jamaica, Stephen, two sisters in England, Lady Malden of London and Lady Raw of Surrey, an aunt, Mrs. W. J. Young of Bermuda, and three cousins, Mr. John Gibson Young, Mr. Horace Ward and Mr. Mercer Ward, all of Bermuda.

Inter-School Finals Held Last Night

The finals of the inter-school boxing competition of the Bermuda Schools Sports Association — their eighth annual — were held at the Saltus Grammar School auditorium last night and resulted in a fine victory for Warwick. Warwick had competitors in twelve finals and of these they won seven. Dellwood had four entries and won three for the best percentage among the schools participating last night. Saltus which had entries in 12 finals won four.

Last night's bouts saw the successful conclusion of Michael Mayne's school boxing career. This is the last year that Michael will be in school and after a brilliant career in which he was never defeated, Mayne won his last inter-school final in the under 128 pounds class.

The bouts were all well fought and only two failed to last the full three rounds. Ross Menzies, known for his track exploits was given a T.K.O. victory over Barry McCann of Saltus in the first round while the heavily muscled W. Moss of Saltus was awarded a technical knockout over J. Giacomelli of Warwick also in the first round.

At the conclusion of the boxing, Mr. David Kirwin of the Inter-School Sports Association thanked the Headmaster of Saltus for permitting the bouts to be staged in the school auditorium. He also thanked the judges, the participants and their parents.

INTRODUCES BRIGADIER

Mr. Kirwin introduced Brigadier B. E. Luard who presented the prizes. Before presenting them he spoke of the fallacy of thinking this was an age of push-button warfare and automation where everyone stood back and let the machines do everything. This was not the fact at all, he declared.

"It's only the people who take strenuous exercise and keep themselves fit that keep the world going," he said in support of boxing as a sport.

The results:

of hard blows. McCann is the Saltus champion.

Under 145 lbs.—Harry Powell of Warwick, got off to a fast start with a good straight left hand and a hard right hook. He was pushed to the floor in the second round and beat G. Morrison of Saltus, Morrison, a heavy swinger failing to connect with his round-house right.

Under 135 lbs.—J. Soares of Warwick, after being downed from a combination of bad footwork and a hard left hook, came back to outlast B. Franklin of Saltus in a close bout.

Over 155 lbs.—W. Moss of Saltus earned a T.K.O. over a game but under-gunned J. Giacomelli of Warwick, a heavy left hook to the ear leaving Giacomelli groggy after the impact in the first round.

The officials — referee, D. J. Williams; judges, S. Gascoigne, S. M. Paschal and P. S. Welch; time-keeper, Douglas Measures; master of ceremonies, R. S. Alger.

Under 95 lbs.—D. Moran of Saltus, a clever fighter and a good left hand, knocked C. Simons of Cavendish, knocking him down in each round.

Under 105 lbs.—Roger Mello's two round victory over M. Birdeau of Warwick, Mello slipping to the canvas in the second.

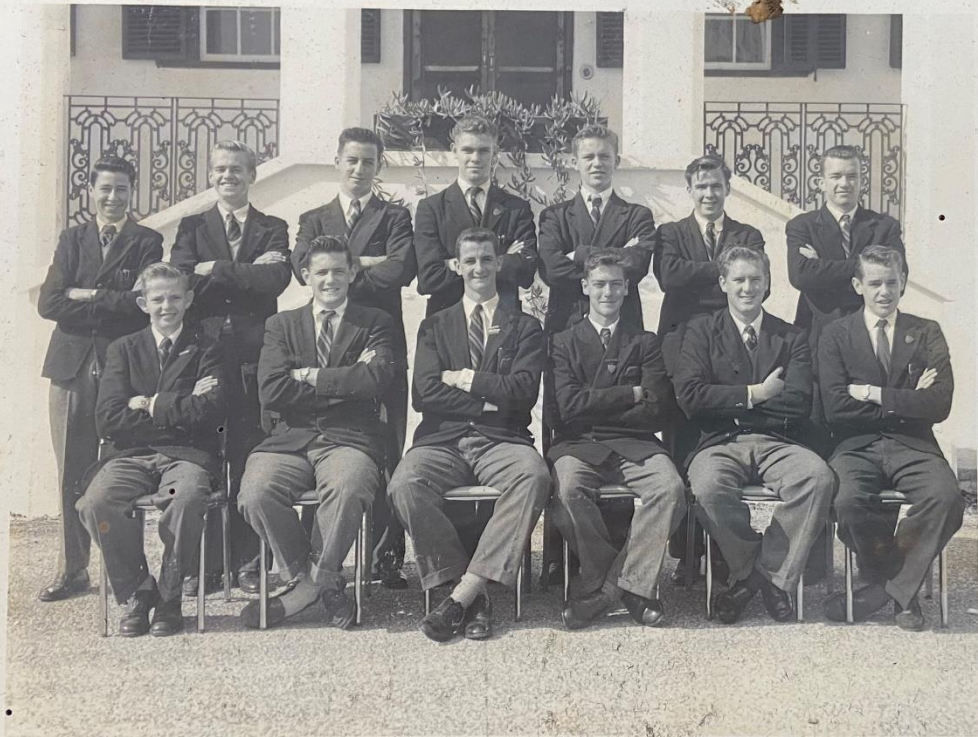

Under 110 lbs.—R. Hill of Dellwood, a hard fighter, won his first round by sending E. Owen of Warwick after the second.

Under 115 lbs.—E. Gauntlett of Warwick, bore the initial "T.K.O." on his back, earned a decision and a pair of bruised hips in beating D. White of Saltus.

Under 120 lbs.—R. Stone of Warwick, out-sawng R. Doe of Saltus.

Under 128 lbs.—Michael Mayne of Saltus, after being slowed with a hard right hand, won convincingly over A. Ferreira of Warwick.

Under 136 lbs.—Ross Menzies of Warwick, who fought infamously, had Barry McCann of Saltus, who had early in the first round, sending him to the canvas with a hard left hand to the pit of the stomach. The bout stopped when another barrage from McCann ran into another barrage

The Editor,
The Royal Gazette.
Dear Sir,

I am enclosing a copy of a letter in The Philadelphia Enquirer of March 13th contributed by me. This little article is entitled "England's Record," and I feel sure this will interest you.

As you know I am an old Bermudian — one of Mr. Thomas Waddington's boys of the old Saltus Grammar School. There I learned some facts about English history of which I always have been proud. It has occurred to me recently that some of these facts would bear re-stating in fact that the times and what others were leaving unsaid demanded the restatement of some of these facts.

I thought you might like to re-publish my letter since some of my old friends in Bermuda would be pleased to know I have not forgotten.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM H. WOLFF.

ENGLAND'S RECORD

To the Editor of The Inquirer:

Ghana's president, Mr. Nkrumah, in announcing the national freedom of his new African commonwealth, is said to have told the people, "Now move about with your chests out." From the television pictures shown us it looks as if they did this and enjoyed themselves to the limit. However, it occurs to me that we have partly overlooked the long record of England in helping develop and bring about this happy freedom and in preparing these folks for it.

As we all know England has made some terrible mistakes in the past, but it is also well to remember she has also been a leader in many ways; she has since very early times been a good friend to black people. For instance, England abolished the slave trade in 1806. That was long before we did. After this date no English merchant was allowed to engage in the slave trade nor were English ships allowed to transport slaves.

Again in 1834 the English Parliament appropriated two million pounds — a lot of money in those days — to free all slaves in the British West Indian islands.

It seems that Ghana's new authorities appreciate English friendship and helpfulness since they want to remain a part of the Commonwealth.

WM. H. WOLFF,
Springfield, Pa., March 7.

Death Of Ex-Colonial Secretary Here

The death of a former Colonial Secretary of Bermuda, who received his early education here and then became a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, has been reported from London.

Sir John Waddington, G.B.E., K.C.M.G., K.C.V.O., died on January 18 in a London hospital, according to The Times. He was 66.

Eubule John Waddington was born on April 9, 1890. He was the son of Thomas Waddington, one of the early headmasters of Saltus Grammar School. Both he and an older brother became Rhodes Scholars, the older brother in 1908 and he a year later.

Sir John completed his education at Dulwich College and Merton College, Oxford, and entered the Colonial Service in 1913. In East Africa from then until 1932, he served as provincial commissioner of Jubaland, senior assistant secretary in the Kenya secretariat, and later as resident commissioner at Mombasa.

Appointed Colonial Secretary of Bermuda in 1932, he served three years before being transferred to British Guiana for three years.

In 1938 he became Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Barbados, and he also assumed the duties of the Governor of British Guiana a few months later when that Governor was absent on medical advice. Becoming Governor of Northern Rhodesia in 1941 he served an extended term and retired in 1947.

Sir John was appointed chairman of a commission in 1950 to review British Guiana's franchise and other constitutional questions. A report was made the next year, and in 1953 a constitution closely following the commission's recommendations was introduced. In 1923 Sir John married Edith Galloway, daughter of Mr. George Galloway. They had two sons.

Four New Records Set At Saltus Sports Day 4/4/57

There were four new records set yesterday at the Saltus Grammar School sports day, held at the school field, and one record was equalled. Perhaps the best record of the entire afternoon was that set by Roger Mello in the pole vault. Mello, vaulting in Group C — the 12-14 year group — set a new standard of 7' 8" which even the bigger boys of the older group could not equal. Olander in the Group D discus had a similar achievement.

The events proved exciting during the afternoon and particularly attractive was Redding's running in the Group D events.

Yates of Watlington House set a new standard of 78' 7" in the javelin for Group B bettering the old mark of 72' 9" set by G. Woolfsten. Scott Godet set up a new mark of 14.4 seconds in the 100 yards hurdles for Group E the old mark being 14.6 seconds.

A new record was set in the 75 yards hurdles for Group C by Henry, his time of 12.9 being the best recorded in this event while Butterfield House equalled the record of 57.1 seconds in the 4 x 110 yards relay.

Butterfield House won the junior shield with a total of 84 points. Darrell were second with 43 and Watlington were third with 40.

Watlington House finished first in the senior division with 104 points. In second place were Darrell House with 83 while third were Saltus with 54.

BISHOP PRESENTS PRIZES

At the conclusion of the sports, prizes were presented by His Lordship the Bishop of Bermuda, the Rt. Rev. Anthony L. E. Williams. He was introduced by the headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett, who thanked the mothers of the boys for providing the teas and his staff for the cooperation they had given in running the Sports Day.

KITSON EXCELS AS RIDLEY TRIUMPHS

Bermudian Hits 111 Not Out

A hometown boy, Kirk Kitson, led his Ridley College team to victory in the first match of its Bermuda tour yesterday.

Kitson, a former student at Saltus Grammar School, enjoyed a splendid knock of 111 not out and took five wickets as Ridley defeated the Pick of the Bermuda Cricket Association Juniors by three wickets at B.A.A. Field.

The cricketers from St. Catharine's, Ontario, showed to good advantage. Their fielding was excellent and their department on the field good at all times.

The B.C.A. Juniors batted first and scored 169 all out. One of the batsmen, Stanley Mocklow, retired after hitting for 28.

The top scorer for the local eleven was opening bat Peter Grayson who had a well played innings of 32. Gerald Fisher had 24, Graham Tavares 17, David Fisher 14 and W. Young 10.

Kitson took his five wickets.

Founder's Day At Saltus

Funds Needed To Preserve School's Individuality

Endowment is the only way to preserve the individuality and character of Saltus Grammar School in the future, Mr. Thomas W. P. Vesey told the Old Boys Association at the Bermudiana Hotel yesterday.

Mr. Vesey was the speaker at the luncheon held to commemorate Founder's Day. He said that Saltus must be financially equipped to turn out men who are capable of coping with the advancing times. Higher standards are needed for this and it is the duty of the alumni to see that the school is well taken care of financially.

The old boys have started an endowment fund and this is not the first of its type for the school. The school's founder, Samuel Saltus, endowed the school and the proceeds did a great deal for the community from 1887-1920. Saltus has had as its pupils the men who are steering Bermuda's destiny today, Mr. Vesey added.

Mr. Vesey also traced the help which the Old Boys' Association has been to the school throughout the years.

Mr. Vesey, a trustee of the school and former president of the Old Boys' Association, was introduced by Mr. Horace Frith, the present president, and thanked by the vice-president, Mr. Charles Pearman Wilson.

Founder's Day was celebrated at Saltus in the morning and past and present pupils joined in honouring Samuel Saltus.

The headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett, said, "The past is the province of the old boys. They by their efforts helped to build up the reputation which the school enjoys. The present and the future is combined in you, the pupils, to whom we are looking for the maintenance and every effort to improve upon the standards set by the old boys."

The Founder's Day speaker was Dr. Howard Dickinson, a former Bermuda and Rhodes Scholar at the school.

"Although this school bears the sole name of Saltus, there were and are many other men but for whose efforts it would neither have come into being, nor continued to exist," Dr. Dickinson said. "This chain of thinking has suggested to my mind two further considerations: First, that in honouring the name of Saltus we should also remember and pay tribute to all those others whose names are unknown to us; and second, that the initiation and continuance of any project to benefit humanity will ultimately only succeed if those whose names will never be remembered by succeeding generations are willing to give faithful service."

"One wise man has said recently that one of the greatest needs of the world today is for men who are ready to play second-fiddle! The challenge is often made today for men to be leaders. I believe there is another challenge which has not been made as it should, and that is that men should be backers-up of the leaders, that men should not be too anxious to assume the leading posts, to have their name in the headlines, to stand in the full light of public recognition and acclaim, but rather that they should be those who will work faithfully, in the background if necessary, to ensure the success of worthwhile undertakings."

Following the addresses there was a brief ceremony and the laying of a wreath on the grave of Samuel Saltus in Pembroke Churchyard.

Cadets Go Through Full Programme Despite Rain

In spite of rain "A" Company of the Bermuda Cadet Corps managed to get through their entire visiting day programme yesterday. Rain, however, reduced the number of parents who attended, according to Captain Arthur Card, the cadets' commanding officer.

The cadets will receive more visitors on Saturday when they will run through various displays, concluding with the Pipe Band "Beating Retreat."

Winning yesterday's father and son shooting match was Mr. Billy West, of Shelly Bay, and his son. The guard mounting competition was won by No. 2 Platoon under Sergeant Godet, with Lance-corporal Patton in charge of the actual guard.

The competition was accompanied by the Pipe Band. After it was over the guests, who dodged squalls during the afternoon to see the programme, were served tea.

The cadets will receive prizes for various competitions. These will be presented on Saturday by Mr. S. S. Teddings, M.C.P., chairman of the Local Forces Board.

Saltus And Warwick Share Sports Cups

Saltus Grammar School and Warwick Academy shared the group trophies in the Bermuda School Sports Association's inter-school sports meeting held yesterday after two previous attempts to run it had been rained out. The meet was held at the Saltus Grammar School Field.

Saltus and Warwick divided four cups between them while Gilbert Institute, Cavendish and Sandys Grammar School each had one.

In the girls' events, the Bermuda High School won four of the five cups in which they had placed competitors and turned in two exceptional record-breaking performances. Joan Hollis had a discus throw of 105 feet in the 14-16 years old class which bettered by four feet eleven and one-half inches the best throw made by any school girl. Sandra Turney added another one foot one inch to the old Bermuda school girls' long jump record of 15 ft. 1 in. for another outstanding performance.

Exceptional performances among the boys were provided by Ross Menzies of Warwick Academy, who won the one mile run in the record breaking time of 4:47.4 shattering the previous record by 13.8 seconds. Second in this notable effort was David Saul of Mount St. Agnes, who also broke the record in finishing second.

Menzies won the 440 yards for Warwick in a tight finish with Winky Moss of Saltus. Moss however took first place in the 100 yards, eight-tenths of a second slower than the record of 10.8.

Tim Holmes, the sky-scraping performer in the pole vault, set up a standard of 9 ft. 6 3/4 in. which will be difficult to beat. Holmes, who also plays winger on the Barbarians' rugby team, took up vaulting in Vallejo, California, prior to moving to Bermuda. He has been helped on his search for new attitudes by his Whitney coach Gregory Lane and by Director of Education D. J. Williams.

PRESENTS PRIZES

At the conclusion of the meet, Col. Philip H. Best, commander of the Kindley Air Force Base, presented the prizes to the winners. He was introduced by Mr. David Kirwin, Sports Master of Warwick Academy.

As the Bermuda School Sports Association discourages the use of the name of the individual athlete and will not provide them, it has not been possible to list the names of the winners except in isolated cases where the Sports Department has been able to track down this information.

The group cup winners:

Group A, Boys under 10, First Division—1, Whitney 15 pts.; 2, Dellwood 12 pts. This included a new record in the high jump event of 3 ft. 9 in. won by Whitney.

Second Division—1, Gilbert 18 pts.; 2, Cavendish 13 pts.

Group B, Boys 10-12, First Division—1, Warwick 20 pts.; 2, St. George 9 pts. One record was set in this group. The 75 yards dash was won by Warwick in the record time of 10.1.

Second Division—1, Sandys 17 pts.; 2, Gilbert 15 pts.

Group C, Boys 12-14, First Division—1, Saltus 19 pts.; 2, Mt. St. Agnes 16 pts.

Second Division—1, Cavendish 28 pts.; 2, Sandys 26 pts.

Group D, Boys 14-16—1, Warwick 31 pts.; 2, Saltus 30 pts.

Group E, Boys over 16—1, Saltus 39 points; 2, Warwick 35 points. Warwick Academy had a record in this group through Ross Menzies in the one mile run; Whitney Institute's Tim Holmes set another record with a pole vault height of 9 ft. 6 3/4 in.; Saltus set a record of 121 ft. 8 in. in the discus.

Group F, Girls under 10, First Division—1, Warwick Academy 15 pts.; 2, St. George's 13 pts. St. George's had a new record in the long jump in this class, a distance of 10 ft. 11 1/2 in. being recorded.

Second Division—1, Port Royal 15 pts.; 2, Gilbert 13 pts. Port Royal set a record in the long jump in this class with a distance of 12 ft. 0 1/4 in.

Group H, Girls 12-14—1, B.H.S. 18 pts.; 2, Warwick 15 pts.

Second Division—1, Cavendish 17 pts.; 2, Sandys 16 pts.

Group J, Girls 14-16—1, B.H.S. 28 pts.; 2, Dellwood 22 pts. Bermuda High School set a new record in the discus through Joan Hollis with a throw of 105 feet.

Group K, Girls over 16—1, B.H.S. 30 pts.; 2, Dellwood 16 pts. Bermuda High School had a record in the long jump through Sandra Turney with a jump of 16 ft. 2 in. Mt. St. Agnes produced a record of 75 ft. 1 in. in the javelin throw.

CAPT. J. D. M. CAVANAGH

Captain (S.) John Duncan Macaulay Cavanagh, C.M.G., died at Walmers, Kent, 75, of a long illness. He was 75. The son of the Rev. J. Cavanagh, R.N., he was educated privately and at Saltus Grammar School, Bermuda, before entering the Royal Navy. He was at the Admiralty during the First World War as secretary to Vice-Admiral Sir Alexander Duff, Chief of Naval Staff, and was made C.M.G. in May, 1919, for valuable services in connexion with the anti-submarine and convoy organizations. Later he served as paymaster commander in the monitor Erebus, the battleship Ramillies, the aircraft carrier Eagle, and was for two years Paymaster of the Bermuda Dockyard. He retired in 1931 with the rank of paymaster. He married in 1915 Gladys, daughter of Captain F. T. Barr, R.N., by whom he had a son and a daughter.

A MID-OCEAN NEWS, Wednesday

New record set in 100-yard freestyle swim

Two and a half seconds were trimmed from the 100-yard freestyle record at Saltus Grammar School during the swimming meet held Monday.

Moss, of Watlington House, set the new record when he churned along the 100-yard course in 58.2 seconds. Previous record was set by W. Bargett in 1948, with a time of 60.7 seconds.

Saltus House swam off with the senior house honors, and Darrell House with the junior house honors.

Saltus buys Westward Ho for masters

Saltus Grammar School has purchased "Westward Ho," Cavendish Heights, at a cost of £12,000 to be used as housing for its teaching staff, it was learned yesterday.

About 50 persons attended the public auction on the grounds at 4 p.m. Thursday, according to Mr. Benjamin Rego, auctioneer.

The property was purchased by Saltus Grammar School through Mr. Thomas Vesey, a member of the Saltus Old Boys' Association.

Mr. Vesey said the school had considered building a housing unit on the school grounds to accommodate the teaching staff because good housing conditions were essential in getting the highest quality teaching staff possible.

When Westward Ho, consisting of three modern apartments, a three car garage and ample tankage, became available it was decided that property would suit the school's future needs better than housing on the school grounds, Mr. Vesey said.

The Cavendish Heights property is situated on about one acre of landscaped grounds overlooking the surrounding area and Hamilton Harbour.

"We want to get the best teachers we possibly can and be able to offer them an incentive to come to Bermuda," Mr. Vesey stated. The three apartments could accommodate three married teachers and their families, or even more if the teachers are single, he said.

It was hoped the apartments would be ready for use sometime in November, he said. The Saltus Old Boys' Association will work hand-in-hand with the school officials in raising the money, he added.

Obituary

Dr. Ralph Cox

Dr. Ralph Cox died at his home in Oxford, England on November 25 after a long illness, it was learned recently. He was 74 years old.

Born at "Westfield," Pembroke in Bermuda, he was the third son of the late Mr. William Cox and the late Mrs. Leonora Jane Cox.

Part of his early education was received at Saltus Grammar School, from which he went to Bromsgrove School in England. From there he went to Caius College, Cambridge, where he obtained his medical and surgical degrees.

Returning to Bermuda in 1912, Dr. Cox was associated with the late Dr. Dudley Cox Trotter. He then returned to England and took up practice in Yeovil, Somerset.

At the outbreak of World War I in 1914, he enlisted in the Royal Army Medical Corps and served with it until the end of the war in 1918. Part of the time he was aboard R.M.S. Aquitania when she was a hospital ship in the Mediterranean, and part of the time he was in Flanders.

In 1912 he married Dorothy Victoria, youngest daughter of the late Dr. Joseph Harper of Barnstable.

He is survived by his widow, his son Mr. William Joseph Cox, his daughter, Mrs. James Capper, his sister, Mrs. John Gray, and by several grandchildren.

Hundreds pay respects to Mr. Talbot

Between 400 and 500 persons attended funeral services for the late Mr. Charles Archibald Darrell Talbot yesterday afternoon at St. John's Church, Pembroke. The services were conducted by the Rev. E. Nowel B. Chapman, rector of Pembroke, assisted by Canon William Manning, Canon Residentiary of the Cathedral.

The graveside Masonic rites were conducted by Worshipful Brother Darrell Dickinson, chaplain of Atlantic Phoenix Lodge. Mr. Talbot had twice been master of this lodge, and had belonged to it for more than 50 years.

Mr. Talbot, who died of a heart attack on Wednesday night, was 79 years old. He was with the Currency Control Board from 1939 to 1955, and was awarded the Civil Division of the Most Excellent Order of the Empire for his work.

He was Grand Inspector of English Freemasons Lodges in Bermuda and Grand Inspector of Royal Arch Lodges here.

Hymns sung at the funeral yesterday were "Abide With Me" and "Days and Moments Quickly Flying." The Twenty Third Psalm was also recited.

Pallbearers from the house to the hearse were Messrs. T. F. F. Wyatt, C. M. Wells, Bernard E. Irvine, Leon Perinichief, T. M. B. Godet, and Eugene R. Burgess.

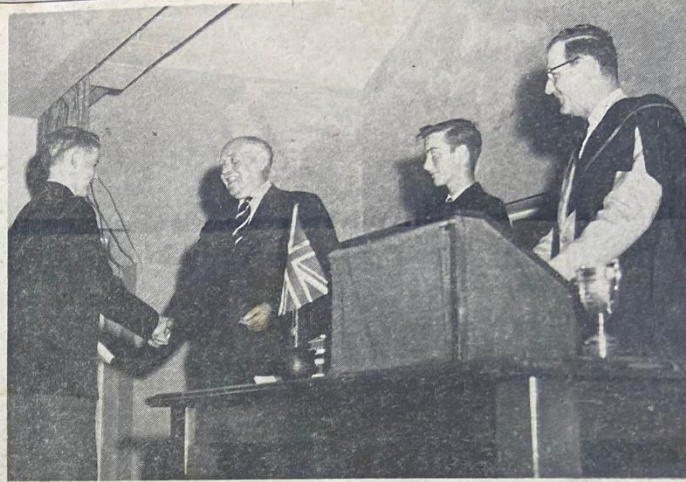

From the hearse to the church, the pallbearers were Messrs. James Parker, Sydney C. Spurling, G. A. Price, G. C. Roberts, J. D. Jolley, and A. D. Hill.

Pallbearers from the church to the cemetery were Messrs. R. L. Gauntlett, Gordon Ashford, Bernard B. Brown, S. L. Perinichief, H. S. Atwood, and Leon Barnes.

The three groups of bearers included past masters of all lodges operating under the English Constitution in Bermuda. They are Loyalty, formerly located at Ireland Island and now in Hamilton, Broad Arrow, St. George's, Prince Alfred, Somerset, and Atlantic Phoenix.

High ranking Freemasons from the three Grand Lodges of England, Ireland, and Scotland were also represented among the pallbearers. Garrison Lodge, under the Irish Constitution, was represented, Mr. Talbot having been a founding member of the lodge and one of its past masters.

The Governor (Sir John Woodall) presented prizes to the senior scholars at Saltus Grammar School yesterday afternoon. Mr. Henry Hallett, the headmaster, looked on.

Saltus holds prize day for Jr. Division

The first annual prize day in the 70-year history of the Saltus Grammar School Junior Division was held yesterday afternoon, featuring almost an hour of traditional Christmas carols by the treble choir.

Mr. Henry J. Hallett, headmaster, explained that the Junior School was having their prize day separately in order that adequate accommodation could be provided in the Assembly hall. Prizes were presented by Rev. Murray Gawne, curate of Pembroke Parish.

In his annual report to parents and friends, Mr. Hallett made note of the departure of Miss Edith Smith who had been in charge of Form II since 1939. He also praised students for their excellent showing in the Royal Drawing Society Examinations last spring, and Master R. A. G. Lines for winning the 1957 Bermuda Scholarship.

He also related the year's sports accomplishments of the Junior School, and thanked members of the treble choir for their assistance in conducting the daily assemblies.

Included in the headmaster's report were the achievements of the Saltus Old Boys' Association. Mr. Hallett remarked on the two new cedar tables provided by Old Boys' donations, and paid tribute to Association members for the prizes presented later in the afternoon. Old Boys have also made donations in the past year of football jerseys, books for the library, and financial assistance for a new house for teaching staff.

Mr. Hallett introduced Rev. Gawne who presented the awards following a brief, humorous address to the boys. Prizewinners were:

Support for Endowment of Saltus Urged

At last night's meeting of the Saltus Old Boys' Association Mr. Horace Frith, the president, said in his report that the association had failed in its goal last year to raise £5,000 for the school endowment. He would, however, present a cheque for £900 to the trustees. Later in the meeting Mr. Roderick A. Ferguson made a plea for support of the endowment, saying there was a need for leadership from the wealthier members of the community. However, he asked, could one expect other members to support the endowment if the wealthier ones did not set the example?

He said there was also a lack of support from the larger businesses in the community.

The association has recently acquired "Westward Ho," a building about one mile from the school, to be used for a teachers' residence. The purchase price was £12,000. It was originally intended to construct a building containing two flats behind a house on the school property; however, the acquisition of "Westward Ho" was found to cost less and would provide a third flat.

The newly-elected officers are: Mr. Charles Pearman-Wilson, president; Mr. Colin Selley, vice-president; Mr. William Cox, treasurer; and Mr. Charles Collis, secretary.

Elected to the executive committee were: Mr. Roderick A. Ferguson, Mr. Archie Hooper, the Hon. Sir John Cox, Mr. Clarence Teixeira, Mr. Andrew Trimmingham and Mr. John H. Watlington.

SALTUS MEET OLD BOYS

A strong appeal is made to all Saltus Old Boys to support the two annual matches at the School field this afternoon against School teams.

Players and all possible reserves are asked to be at the field by 3 "to safeguard against defaults through famine, fire, flood, pestilence or other catastrophes."

Old Boys First team: W. Bardgett, W. Mayor, B. Burland, T. Brewer, B. Cox, C. Collis, A. Younger, B. Brewer, M. Cox, P. Welch, S. Outbridge.

Old Boys Second team: J. Gilbert, R. Kempe, J. Moss, W. McBeath, R. Ferguson, J. Valle, T. Dunch, D. Pedro, J. Koffman, A. Gurr, J. Ashton.

Butterfield Win House Boxing

Butterfield House won the inter-house boxing competition of Salties Grammar School, the finals being held in the school hall on Friday night. Ten points are awarded to the winner's house while the loser gets five points. Butterfield held a slight lead at the start of the evening by virtue of bouts completed prior to Friday night. This lead was dissipated during the evening with Salties holding a slight edge at one time, but the later bouts finally established Butterfield as the winner.

The house shield was received by Peter Scupham, house captain.

Presentation of prizes were made by Commander W. G. Jack, British Resident Naval Officer who praised the quality of the bouts. "I thought the way in which the fights were fought were full of keenness, good spirit and good sportsmanship" he said, "I thought the standard was extremely high."

The Commander referred to the wild swinging engaged in some of the bouts by commenting that some of the lads must have forgotten their geometry theorems, particularly that one which declares that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points.

Special awards were made. The award for the most improved boxer went to Dick Kempe of Darrell House. W. G. Jack of Darrell House, won the Crawford award for the best loser. Skarohild's exhibition against Rose in the first bout of the night gained him praise from the referee, Mr. D. J. Williams, as did the showing of W. Kerr against R. Steinhoff.

Fifteen bouts were fought, one more than scheduled on the programme. One finished within the three round limit. It was in the under 155 pounds class and was won by L. Davis of Watlington, whose right to the jaw in the third round momentarily stunned T. Newkirk into helplessness. The referee stopped the bout immediately. Up until that point the bout was fairly even.

The results:

Under 60 — E. Rose (D) beat G. Skarohild (D)
Under 95 — L. Maxfield (W) beat D. McCann (S)
Under 75 — G. Rothwell (B) beat P. Farge (B)
Under 145 — B. McCann (S) beat G. Repper (W)
Under 85 — S. Cook (B) beat G. Shorto (W)
Under 115 — P. Profit (S) beat C. Clark (S)
Under 65 — B. Hetzel (S) beat J. Warwick (W)
Under 128 — T. Hetzel (S) beat M. Burns (S)
Under 70 — R. Steinhoff (D) beat W. Kerr (W)
Under 190 — M. Haynes (D) beat G. Haycock (W)
Under 80 — P. Brown (B) beat Tom O'Brien (S)
Under 120 — P. Scupham (B) beat Roger Mello (B)
Under 105 — K. Hayward (B) beat M. Doidge (B)
Under 155 — L. Davis (W) beat T. Newkirk (B) T.K.O. 3
Under 90 — B. Groves (W) beat S. Perinchief (W)

Previous bouts:

Under 126 — B. Bridges (B)
Under 110 — T. Belvin (D)
Over 155 — R. Kempe (D)
Final House standings: 1. Butterfield, 153; 2. Salties 127; 3. Watlington 120; 4. Darrell 96.

THE ROYAL-GAZETTE WEEKLY, MARCH 16, 1958

Ninth Annual Inter-School Boxing Held

The ninth annual inter-school boxing competition was held Friday night at the Warwick Academy Hall, 17 bouts being staged—all of them good.

The calibre of the performances and the usefulness of the sport were subjects of comment by the Rt. Rev. the Lord Bishop of Bermuda who presented the prizes at the conclusion of the competition. In a short introduction to the prize giving, His Lordship spoke of his son who had been a boxing champion at his college for every year except one, when he was not permitted to box as he had struck an opponent so hard he was 20 minutes retaining consciousness.

This boxing training stood him in good stead later. His Lordship said. During World War II when he had been stationed in Egypt, an Egyptian attacked him "with a long dagger." His son "gave him one in the proper place—right on the point of the chin—and he was still sleeping peacefully on the pavement when my boy rounded the corner."

His Lordship was introduced by Terrance Barclay, chairman of the Bermuda School Sports Association.

Mr. Barclay congratulated the schools for their fine turnouts and made particular mention of the work Mr. Rogers had expended at Warwick.

Two exhibitions were put on. The first was between J. Patton of Warwick, winner of the 105-110 pounds class and as no opponent could be found from another school, R. Arscott gave him some competition.

OUT FOR SICKNESS

Sickness forced L. Davis of Salties out of the final and he therefore defaulted to J. Soares of Warwick in the 145-155 pounds class. Harry Powell of Warwick, was unable to box because of a pole vaulting accident which injured his eye, and he had to default to R. Kempe of Salties. Kempe and Soares boxed in an exhibition as the last bout of the programme.

It was explained to the Press before the start of the programme that while this was an inter-school boxing competition, schools did not score points for winning, for in effect, where larger schools could put more boys into boxing than the smaller ones, a competition based on a points system would be unfair.

The entries from Salties were the most successful. Of the nine bouts in which they had competitors Friday night, they won eight of them.

Warwick had two very good winners. Dellwood had two. Cavenish had one and Whitney had one. L. Kidd of Whitney, has his bout put on earlier than scheduled as his father had to leave the boxing earlier. Kidd opened up cuts on the eye, nose and mouth of E. Gauntlett of Warwick in the first round. The bout was stopped in the first and Kidd and his father were able to get away early.

The results:

Under 60 — R. Roberts (Cavenish) beat S. Messemer (Sandys)
60 and under 65 — E. Rose (Salties) beat G. Conly (Dellwood)
65 and under 70 — R. Steinhoff (Salties) beat D. Faries (Warwick)
70 and under 75 — P. Pedro (Dellwood) beat K. Kempe (Whitney)
75 and under 80 — P. Brown (Salties) beat R. Gaglio (Whitney)
80 and under 85 — I. McDonald (Dellwood) beat S. Madeiros (Sandys)
85 and under 90 — R. Pedro (Dellwood) beat J. O'Connor (St. George's)
90 and under 95 — M. Haynes (Salties) beat S. Brown (Warwick)
95 and under 100 — K. Hayward (Salties) beat P. Truran (Warwick)
100 and under 105 — L. Maxfield (Salties) beat R. DeSilva (Dellwood)
105 and under 110 — J. Patton (Warwick) vs. R. Arscott (Warwick), exhibition
110 and under 115 — P. Scupham (Salties) beat E. Owen (Warwick)
115 and under 120 — R. Mello

(Salties) beat R. Hill (Dellwood)
120 and under 128 — L. Kidd (Whitney) beat E. Gauntlett (Warwick), fight stopped first round

128 and under 136 — D. Stubbs (Warwick) beat R. Petty (Whitney)
136 and under 145 — A. Ferreira (Warwick) beat B. McCann (Salties)

J. Soares (Warwick) winner of 145 and under 155 pounds weight, boxed an exhibition with R. Kempe (Salties) winner of over 155 pounds class.

The officials were D. J. Williams referee, S. Gascoigne, S. M. Paschal, P. S. Welch judges, C. Williams, timekeeper, Mr. David Kirwin was the M.C.

Explorer Gives Show for School Group Benefit

The Saltus Old Boys' Association last night presented the explorer, Mr. Quentin Keynes, who gave two of his African exploration films, "Journey to Skeleton Coast" and "Rare Scenes of Rare Animals," with his own commentary at the Little Theatre, Hamilton.

Mr. Andrew Trimmingham introduced Mr. Keynes, a young Englishman.

Mr. Trimmingham welcomed the guests on behalf of the association and thanked the Bermuda General Theatres for their co-operation in making the showing possible.

The film of rare animals was a collection of Mr. Keynes's favourite and unique photographs of animals, and was put together at the expense and at the request of the New York Zoological Society.

Both films, in colour, delighted the audience which filled the house.

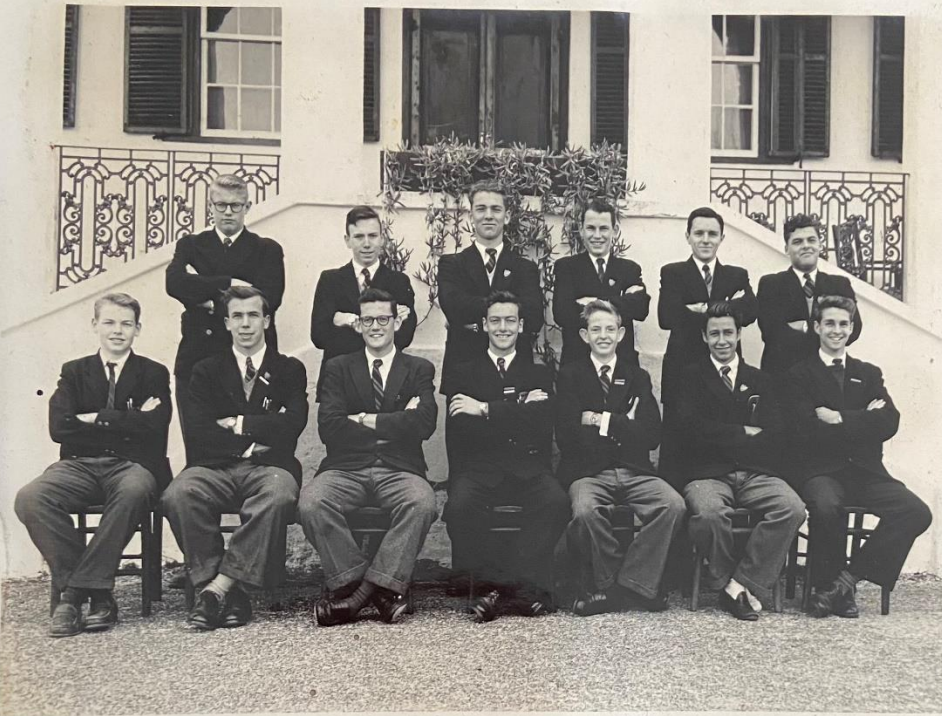

Mr. C. Pearman-Wilson, president of the Saltus Old Boys' Association, was present.

Others present were Brigadier Macconachie, the Hon. Hereward Watlington, Dr. H. Wilkinson and Sir John Cox.

DAVID SAUL winning the one mile race in the Johns Grammar School annual track and field meeting Thursday established a new record. He became the first Saltus athlete to run the mile under five minutes. Saul will be competing in the Bermuda track and field championships which are to be held soon.

NEW MILE RECORD was set on Sunday by David Saul who clipped 2.3 seconds off the old mark of 4:45.5 which had stood for 12 years. He is shown here before breaking the tape at the end of the race.

DAVID SAUL of Saltus, second from right, starts off in the lead at the beginning of the mile run which he won yesterday at the Inter-School Sports Association Athletic Meeting.

Saltus And B.H.S. Top Track Winners

Although the Bermuda School Sports Association does not recognise a champion as emerging from their annual inter-school athletic meeting, top school performances were turned in by Saltus in the boys' events, and Bermuda High School for Girls in the girls' events. Of the group cups open to competition, Saltus took five of them. Bermuda High School for Girls won four of the same group cups for which they competed.

There were eight records broken or equalled in the boys' events and seven in the girls'. The meet, which was postponed from Thursday because of the inclement weather, was run in perfect weather conditions. There was just enough wind to make the hot sun bearable and there was a chain of activity which held the attention of the thousand spectators and participants who attended the meeting.

The organization of the meeting was perfect. The events went off as scheduled and at 4:45 when the 104th event of the day was due to be run the starter's gun was fired for the last time.

His Excellency the Governor presented the prizes at the end of the day, after impressing upon the group that the important thing about competitors of this kind was in competing.

Most attention was centred around the one mile race, which was won by David Saul of Saltus in good time, but not in record breaking time. He set a hot pace for the first 400 yards then eased off and came home without any pressure.

Sandra Turney of the Bermuda High School set up an impressive record in the long jump. Her distance of 17ft. 9 1/2 in. will be a difficult one to surpass.

Mr. Terry Barclay, chairman of the Executive Committee of the B.S.S.A. thanked the members of the B.S.S.A. for their help in running the meeting and made particular reference to Mr. Henry Halliell, headmaster of Saltus Grammar School who had permitted the use of the field.

'Mudian Research Doctor Defends Nuclear Tests

The son of a Bermuda resident is now director of plans for the Canadian Defence Research Board. He is Dr. John C. Arnell, son of Mrs. K. C. Arnell, of Paget.

A recent issue of The Ottawa Citizen describes a speech he made at a meeting of the United Nations Association of Ottawa. Dr. Arnell was defending nuclear tests.

"We have to weigh the hazard of nuclear tests against the hazard of natural radiation and other artificial radiation," Dr. Arnell said, according to the report.

The risks, he said, were slight. He said the hazard was less than the hazard of wearing a luminous wrist watch.

Dr. Arnell said the tests were necessary to perfect weapons for tactical use and as a defence against long-range missiles. Tests were no longer designed to produce the biggest possible explosions, but rather, smaller ones.

He said the United States had gone a long way toward producing a clean bomb. The latest blasts were not 100 per cent radio-active, but only four per cent.

Also speaking at the meeting were Dr. E. A. Watkinson of the Canadian Department of National Health and Welfare, and Dr. R. B. Newcombe, head of the biology branch of the Atomic Energy Commission in Canada.

Dr. Arnell last visited Bermuda in 1949 or 1950.

Harold C. Anfossi, (above), second son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick V. Anfossi of "Hillsca," Pembroke, graduated as a Doctor of Medicine and Master of Surgery at the spring convocation of Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario.

Dr. Anfossi received his early education at Saltus Grammar School and at St. Andrew's College, Aurora, Ontario. He entered McGill University in 1949 and transferred to Queen's University in 1952 to commence the study of medicine. While at Queen's he was a member of the University Pipe Band and was on the swimming team for three years. He was also a member of Medical House.

During the summer of 1957 Dr. Anfossi interned at Belleville General Hospital, in Belleville, Ontario, and is now interning at Hamilton General Hospital, in Hamilton, Ontario.

Two Local Birthday Honours

Queen's Birthday Honours came to two men in Bermuda, one of them the former Senior Magistrate, Mr. H. Martin Godet, the other Mr. Athol J. C. J. Moulder, head signalman at Fort George, St. George's, since 1928.

Mr. Godet was made an Officer of the Civil Division of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire and Mr. Moulder was made a Member of the Civil Division of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire.

A member of an old Bermudian family, Mr. Godet retired last August after almost 23 years on the Bench. He had been Senior Magistrate since 1948.

New System of Education Needed, Says Dr. Masters

A new system of education for the Colony, which "is facing the greatest challenge in education in its history," was advocated yesterday by Dr. W. H. C. Masters, M.C.P., at the Saltus Old Boys' Association luncheon at the Bermudian Hotel.

Dr. Masters suggested a compulsory examination throughout the Islands at the age of 13. He said that this would indicate how the schools and pupils compared and would break the pupils into three categories: those who should have secondary education; those who should go on to technical education; and those who should go no further as "it is a waste of time to teach them."

Bermuda is facing the challenge in education, said Dr. Masters, because of a larger population in a country of limited size. While the economy is expanding there is nowhere to put the people who run the economy so that they can live and breathe.

It is important to accept the challenge to educate Bermudian youngsters so as to cut down on the number of people that had to be imported, the doctor said. It was not purely a question of birth control to limit the population but also one of producing people capable of cutting down on the number of people imported.

PRIMARY EDUCATION

Dr. Masters felt that a lot of emphasis had been given to secondary education but that the emphasis should be put on primary education.

"We are playing around for one or two years before we start to educate our children," he said. He felt that children should start school seriously at the age of five. Accommodation had to be found to stop children not being able to start school when they should because there was no room for them.

To provide accommodation, he advocated a "stagger" system, at least at the younger level, and said it might be necessary to open schools in the summer and have more teachers to cope with the plan.

Bermuda needed better trained primary teachers and they should be better paid so as to attract teachers in that group of the best type and well trained.

LESS HOMEWORK

He also suggested more teaching during actual school hours and less homework — "more teaching by teachers and not by some tired parent."

Of technical education, Dr. Masters said that a great many people could only use their hands and they should get a good technical education.

Dr. Masters added that those who went to secondary school should all, at the age of 16, sit for a school certificate or some other examination — and "you will see what you are producing." The six, eight or ten students judged best by the schools were not enough to run the Colony in the future. By having the examination compulsory, the schools would be placed in competition and every one would be judged. "That's the only way you can progress," Dr. Masters concluded.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Charles Pearman Wilson and thanked by Mr. D. Colin Selley.

Saltus Observes Founder's Day For 23rd Time

The 23rd celebration of Founder's Day was observed by pupils and old boys of Saltus Grammar School yesterday. The day was marked by the traditional lunch for old boys and fathers of pupils, cricket matches between the school and the former pupils, the procession to the founder's graveside and a service and oration in the school hall.

The school founder, Samuel Saltus, was born in 1800 and died in 1880. The headmaster, Mr. H. J. Hallett, opened the school service by reminding the boys:

"This is a day when past and present meet together to join in honouring our founder. The past is the province of the old boys. They built up the good reputation of the school. The future depends upon you, the present pupils.

"It is expected that you will make every endeavour to maintain the standard set by your predecessors and, if possible, to improve upon it."

HISTORY OUTLINED

The oration was delivered Mr. William Cox, the school's 1951 Rhodes scholar. He traced the history of the founding of the school and the part played by Mr. Saltus.

Although the school itself was not founded until 13 years after Mr. Saltus's death, it would not exist if he had not lived, said Mr. Cox.

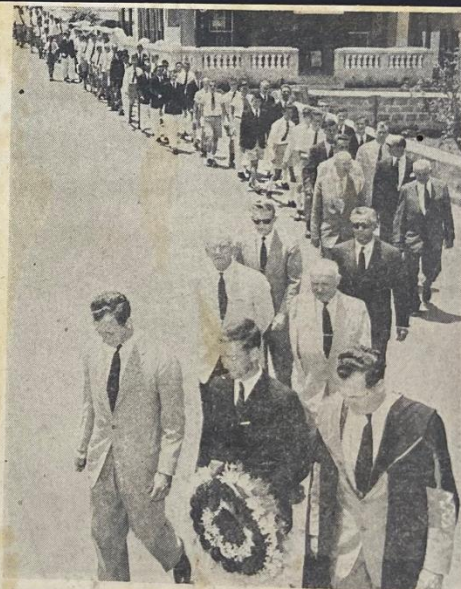

Mr. Saltus left the bulk of his estate on trust to build a school. To this sum was added money gathered from the sale of the former Devonshire College land in 1870.

After the service, the schoolboys walked over to St. John's Church, where the vicar, the Rev. E. N. B. Chapman, conducted a short service at the founder's graveside.

A wreath was laid by the head prefect, Scott Godet. The wreath was inscribed: "In grateful memory of our founder, Samuel Saltus."

"IN GRATEFUL MEMORY OF OUR FOUNDER" — Head Prefect at Saltus School, Scott Godet, lays a wreath on the grave of Samuel Saltus, after the Reverend E. N. B. Chapman conducted a short service in honour of the Founder of the School.

A procession moves from Saltus Grammar School to St. John's Church, Pembroke, in celebration of Founder's Day yesterday. Short services were conducted at the graveside of Samuel Saltus by the Rev. E. N. B. Chapman. At the head of the procession are Mr. William M. Cox, who delivered the Founder's Day oration; Mr. Scott Godet, head prefect, who placed a wreath on the grave; and the school's headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett.

Mr. Reginald Trimmingham Dies; 86 Years Old

7/7/58

Mr. Reginald Trimmingham of "Crown Hill," Middle Road, Devonshire, died early yesterday morning at the King Edward VII Memorial Hospital. He was 86 years of age.

Mr. Trimmingham was one of the early members of the staff of the Bank of Bermuda and was connected with the bank for over 40 years.

For many years Mr. Trimmingham was assistant manager of the bank under the late Mr. J. D. C. Darrell. At that time the bank was located at the Front Street, Hamilton site now occupied by Powell and Co. In the early 1930's the bank opened a branch at the Western end of Front Street where the present head offices are located and Mr. Trimmingham managed that branch until 1936 when he retired. Subsequently the bank's head offices moved entirely to that location.

Mr. Trimmingham was very interested in sailing and in the 1920's he was active with punt racing in the Colony. He was also a keen and avid gardener being particularly interested in roses.

He was born in Bermuda in October of 1872 the son of the late James Trimmingham and his wife Helen Melvina (nee Darrell). He attended the Saltus Grammar School.

Death occurred after an illness of some ten days from influenza complicated by pneumonia.

Mr. Trimmingham is survived by his wife, Lucy Russell Trimmingham.

INTER-HOUSE COMPETITION

SALTUS HOLD AQUATIC MEET AT EAGLE'S NEST

Saltus Grammar School held an inter-house swimming meet at the Eagle's Nest pool yesterday afternoon with top honours going to Darrell House in the junior division and Butterfield House in the senior.

Only Haynes was able to chalk up two victories in the junior section, winning both the 50 yards freestyle and the diving titles.

Mr. Ted Cassidy, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cassidy of "The Lone Palm," Pembroke, has received his Bachelor of Commerce degree from Mount Allison University. He was elected president of the freshman class in 1954, was a member of the varsity rugby team, and earned a place on the track team. For the next three years he played on the three-time Maritime Intercollegiate Champion Soccer team. In his senior year he was again a member of the track team. He received the Mount Allison silver award for sports and administration.

Mr. Ted Cassidy
The Cassidy's younger son, Clive, is a student at Northrup Aeronautical Institute, Inglewood, California.

Rhodes Scholar For 1959 Chosen; Mr. Colin M. Curtis

The Bermuda Rhodes Scholar for 1959 is Mr. Colin McKenzie Curtis, of Tucker's Town, it was announced on Saturday by Mr. Michael Misick, secretary of the Bermuda Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee.

Mr. Curtis, 20, is the son of Mrs. Clare Cooper and the late Captain Paul Curtis, who died during the war. Captain Curtis, who was then attached to the British Command at Prospect, was a big game hunter and wrote extensively on the subject.

Mr. Colin Curtis is now reading law at Queen's College, Oxford, and will be there for another year and a half. After taking his bar finals in London he plans to return to Bermuda to practise law.

Previously he had been a student at Saltus. He studied for four years at the Governor Dummer School in New England and then went to Harvard University for two years.

David Macky, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Macky, of Berry Hill Road, Paget, will be designated an Alden scholar at an honours convocation to be held at Allegheny College tomorrow. The designation recognizes high academic achievement for the year 1957-58. The name Alden commemorates Timothy Alden, first president of the college in 1815. He was a lineal descendant of John and Fricella Mullins Alden of Plymouth Colony.

Death Of Brig. T. T. Waddington

The son of the first headmaster of Saltus Academy and the brother of a former Colonial Secretary here died recently in London, according to information reaching The Royal Gazette yesterday. He was Brigadier Thomas Thelwall Waddington of Cheshire, England, and he died on October 26. His father was the late Mr. Thomas D. Waddington, and his brother was the late Sir John Waddington.

An Outstanding Son of Bda. Dies: Hon. F. G. Gosling

A distinguished son of Bermuda who through the years developed an unrivalled knowledge of Bermuda's Constitutional and Parliamentary history died early yesterday morning when the Hon. Francis Goodwin Gosling of Paget, passed away at the age of 85 after a long illness.

Mr. Gosling

He played a notable part in the Colony's growth as a tourist resort, being largely instrumental in the founding of the Trade Development Board as well as the originator of the Colony's first aquarium on Agar's Island.

An Outstanding Son of Bda. Dies: Hon. F.G. Gosling

Later he helped to establish the Bermuda Biological Station, and it was through his efforts that the Rockefeller Foundation gave $25,000 as an endowment for the station.

Apart from his Legislative activities, Mr. Gosling's contribution to his native land was of considerable magnitude.

Most important was his part in the development of Tucker's Town. He it was who persuaded the Furness Withy and Company to undertake this project, and in 1920 he became a director and secretary of the Bermuda Development Company — the instrument which created the Mid Ocean Club, the Castle Harbour Hotel and the Bermudiana Hotel. He sold his own property to the company, and smoothed over many difficulties.

In 1923 Mr. Gosling became a member of the House of Assembly with the principal object of furthering the Bermuda railway. He saw in the railway a means of postponing indefinitely the general use of motor cars. It was he who drafted the Railway Act. He also drafted the Hospital Bill which the then Attorney General, Sir Reginald Gray, termed "a masterpiece for a layman."

Mr. Gosling was appointed a member of the Legislative Council in 1932 for life, under the old system, but he resigned in 1954 because of illness.

He was the seventh child of the late Mr. Charles Gray Gosling and his wife Elizabeth. He was born on Easter morning, 1873, at Strawberry Hill, Paget. One writer says of his childhood:

"Those were the days of big families. The 10 little Goslings grew up with the 10 little Trimminghams of Inglewood."

LITTLE FORMAL SCHOOLING

Surprisingly for a man of Mr. Gosling's later attainments, his formal schooling was not extensive. He went first to Miss Conyers' dame school in Paget, then to Saltus Grammar School. He left Saltus at the age of 13 but was back there — this time as a master — at the age of 18.

He read omnivorously — friends say he often was reading six books at one time — and developed such a photographic memory that his wide-rung reading interests brought him a vast store of knowledge of people and events.

From earliest childhood he had a great love for natural history and, mostly self-taught, he acquired easily much knowledge of the flora and fauna of Bermuda.

This knowledge he gladly shared with two well-known American scientists, Dr. Mark of Harvard and Dr. A. E. Verrill of New York University, who first came here at

It was in 1895 that Mr. Gosling first entered public service — as an assistant clerk to the House of Assembly. Thus began his close association with the Colony's Parliament that continued almost unbroken throughout his life. Mr. Gosling remained in Government service until 1920, eventually becoming Assistant Colonial Secretary.

Whilst in this office he acted several times as Colonial Secretary. Mr. Gosling resigned from Government service to further the development of Tucker's Town into what is now — a pre-eminent centre for the Colony's tourist industry. He was given the post of secretary of the Bermuda Development Company, of which he also became a director. He worked closely with Furness, Withy in the great change that took place in this part of Bermuda.

He had helped found the Trade Development Board in 1913 and became its first chairman.

Up to that time tourism had not been a Government-sponsored and backed industry as such. In 1913 the late Mr. Carlyle Darrell and the late Hon. A. W. Bluck made a visit to the U.S. to study tourist prospects, and when they returned they presented a gloomy report to Mr. Gosling. This prompted him to prepare a memorandum to the then Governor, Sir George Bullock, recommending Parliamentary approval for a Trade Development Board which was speedily formed.

LACK OF SHIPPING

During the First World War Bermuda was in danger of starvation through lack of shipping. The Trade Development Board was given the problem and a delegation — Mr. Gosling, Sir Stanley Spurling and the late Hon. J. P. Hand — were sent to Washington. There they interviewed Lord Northcliffe and persuaded him that a damaged British cruiser lying at H.M. Dockyard — the Charvdis — was useless for warfare but could be converted for civilian needs.

The ship was handed over to Bermuda and fitted with passenger accommodation, chill-rooms and cargo space in the U.S.A. She made many voyages between Bermuda and New York before she was returned to the Admiralty.

Another of Mr. Gosling's projects was a housing scheme. He forwarded a memorandum to the Governor in 1930, but the scheme never came to fruition.

Mr. Gosling was awarded the C.B.E. (Commander of the Order of the British Empire) in the New Year's Honours, 1953. He had received the O.B.E. in 1920.

On his retirement from the Legislative Council Mr. Gosling was given permission by the

Mr. Gosling amongst other things drafted an Act for the better preservation of the Islands' amenities, and at the request of a former Governor he wrote a plan for improving the system of Government of the Colony which displayed his great knowledge of the subject.

He was an advocate of the holding of international conferences in Bermuda, the first of these of importance being the Refugee Conference held here in 1943 — when the conference delegates arrived on his 70th birthday. The Telecommunications Conference after the Second World War was another result of his advocacy of such gatherings.

In his youth Mr. Gosling rated as one of the strongest swimmers in the Colony. He was the holder of the Royal Humane Society's parchment for saving the life of a coloured child off No. 7 Shed in 1918. The boy had fallen into the water there and had gone down for the second time. Mr. Gosling, fully clothed and with gold watch and chain in his pocket, dived to the rescue.

Mr. Gosling served for five years in the Assembly after election at a by-election. He was appointed to the Legislative Council in 1932 and on his retirement in 1954 warm tributes were paid to his long public service.

He is survived by the widow a sister, Mrs. E. W. Appleby, Miss Elsie Gosling (daughter), Mr. Frank Gosling and the Hon. Bernard Gosling (sons), Joanne Williams (who lives in England), Bernard T. Gosling Jr. and Lucinda Gosling (grandchildren). The last-named, who is attending a school in the U.S., arrived home yesterday.

Children were always in Mr. Gosling's life until his last illness. He was regularly visited by his young friends in his study on Sunday mornings, and kept them in rapt attention while he either read or told stories.

FUNERAL SERVICE

Bearers at the funeral at St. Paul's Church, Paget yesterday were Dr. the Hon. G. A. Williams and the Hon. B. C. C. Outerbridge, from the Legislative Council; the Hon. James Pearman and the Hon. H. T. Wallington from the Executive Council; and Sir John Cox, Speaker, and Major J. B. Tucker from the House of Assembly.

Family bearers were the Hon. Ambrose T. Gosling, Mr. K. F. Tringham, Mr. Duncan Gosling, Mr. H. G. L. Tringham, Mr. John Gilbert and Mr. John Burland.

Among those attending the funeral were the Governor, Lt. Gen. Sir John Woodall and Lady Woodall, the Chief Justice the Hon. Sir Newnham Worley; the Hon. Sir Nevinham Worley; the Hon. J. W. Colonial Secretary, the Hon. J. W. Sykes; the Attorney General, the Hon. J. C. Horton; the American Consul General Mr. S. K. Lafoon, and the Assistant Justice, Sir Allan Smith.

Others present included the Hon. Edmund Gibbons, the Hon. Dudley Spurling, Lt.-Col. J. C. Astwood, Deputy Lt.-Col. of the House of Assembly; Mr. G. A. Cooper, M.C.P.; Mr. N. H. P. Vesey, M.C.P.; Mr. H. B. L. Wilkinson, M.C.P.; Mr. C. V. Zull, M.C.P.; Sir Eldon Tringham,

Mr. W. E. S. Zull, Dr. H. W. C. Masters, M.C.P.; Mr. E. P. T. Tucker, Mr. H. Martin Godet and Dr. M. E. B. Nash.

The House of Assembly adjourned at 4.15 p.m. especially to allow members to attend the funeral which was conducted by the Bishop of Bermuda, the Rt. Rev. Anthony L. E. Williams and the Rev. Peter C. Evans, rector of Paget. The Bishop read the lesson from the Book of Revelations and gave the blessing; at the graveside he read the entire committal service.

During the service the 23rd Psalm "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and the hymns "Jerusalem the Golden" and "Abide with Me," were sung by the congregation.

Pilot Tells of Fire-Fighting In Alberta

The timbered wastes of Alberta are a far cry from the sandy beaches of Bermuda, but the distance was closed last night during an illustrated lecture given by Mr. Hugh Watlington.

For the past three-and-a-half years Mr. Watlington has been flying planes of various types for Pacific Western Airlines with headquarters in Edmonton.

His earlier work involved transportation of equipment and supplies to various Distant Early Warning (DEW) Line stations strung across the western top of the continent.

This past summer he began new work — fire-fighting. During last night's lecture at the Little Theatre he talked of both phases, using coloured slides he took himself as illustrations.

Some slides were outstanding: sunrise over a DEW Line camp, the eye-tugging expanse of muskeg wastes, the awesome fury of a forest fire out of control.

And accompanying it all was the commentary of the former owner of Bermuda Air Tours — known affectionately as "Bermuda's Barefoot Boy With Cheek."

During a brief intermission, Mr. Watlington's wife modelled parka, gloves and Eskimo "mukluks."

Mr. Harry Cox assisted Mr. Watlington with projection of the slides.

The only disappointing feature of the talk was the sparseness of the audience, a fact credited to the simultaneous presentation of an Audubon Tour at the Bermuda High School for Girls.

Mr. Charles Pearman-Wilson, who introduced Mr. Watlington, explained it was the only night the speaker had free.

A similar presentation will be given at the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club tomorrow evening for members and guests.

Junior Prize Giving Held At Saltus

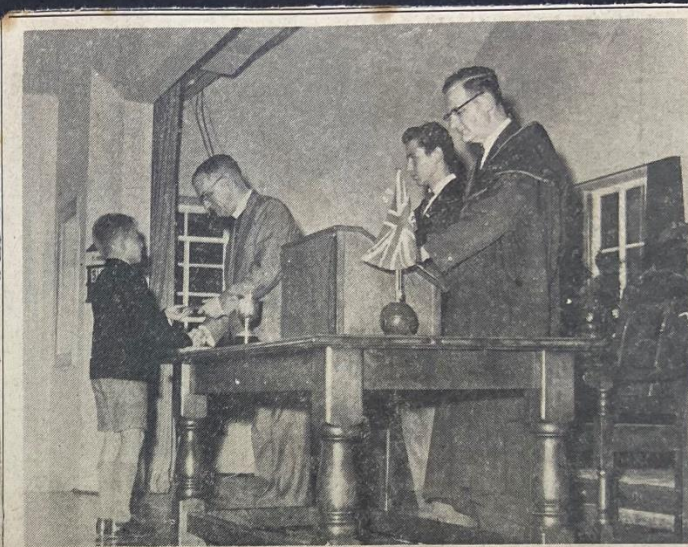

A junior prize-giving and carol concert was held at Saltus Grammar School yesterday afternoon.

The headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett, delivered the report and the speaker was the Rev. Peter C. Evans, rector of Paget. The senior prize-giving will be held today.

During the afternoon visitors viewed an art exhibit in the library and a demonstration of gymnastics in the gymnasium.

Prize winners were: Arithmetic and spelling, N. P. Trott; English composition, G. M. Henry; English grammar, G. C. Skarohlid; English literature and poetry, W. T. Andrews; reading, J. M. F. C. Ross; scripture, A. S. Clark; history and geography, J. E. Wallick; art, T. R. Smith; writing, J. R. Warwick.

Boys Warned Against Holiday Spirit In Colony

"I find there is a surprising lack in Bermuda of suitably qualified candidates for the Civil Service and for public life generally," the Chief Justice said yesterday at the Saltus Grammar School's senior prize distribution.

The Hon. Sir Newnham Worley said it was "inconsistent and inconceivable" to grumble when others are brought in from outside to fill positions when Bermudians are unqualified or unwilling to take those jobs. He suggested that students cultivate a high sense of public duty and esprit de corps and lead young men and women into public life and the Civil Service.

In what Sir Newnham called the serious part of his speech, he quoted the phrase "Our people have never had it so good," which he said "is so beloved of politicians." He called it a vulgar and ungrammatical phrase.

He added that no matter what one thought of the phrase it seemed from what he had learned as a newcomer to Bermuda to have been the condition here for the last 20 or 30 years. Lady Fortune has turned her face to Bermuda and with the help of judicious propaganda and highly coloured posters we have here "The isles of rest, or so the post office tells us."

BENEFITS AND DANGERS

Bermuda, the Chief Justice said, is a tourist attraction and the haunt of honeymooners and holiday makers, and now it is the haunt of "mysterious corporations." He added that this has undoubtedly brought great material benefit but it has also brought dangers.

"Isn't there a danger to the youth who might well absorb too much of the holiday spirit?" he asked. He added that it has been possible for almost any boy to get well paid work on leaving school without further qualifications and too many have been satisfied with that.

"But can you be sure that this easy life, and it has been an easy life, will continue indefinitely?" he asked. He told the students they might find in the changing conditions of the world — and it changes with incredible rapidity and in very frightening ways — that life for them would be more competitive.

"You will have to equip yourselves more thoroughly and completely than has been necessary in the past. I impress on you the advisability and necessity of continuing the education you have started and equipping yourselves with technical or professional qualifications so far as you can with your abilities and your parents' purses."

Sir Newnham added that they and their parents should press for more local opportunities for higher education. He told them that in seeking higher education they should have more than one objective. They should not only equip themselves for better living but also seek the broadening of the mind and the fuller intellectual life which is one of the choice fruits of learning.

PUBLIC LIFE

He urged them to be ready to take their part in the public life of the community. The Chief Justice then made his remarks about candidates for public life and the Civil Service.

With regard to esprit de corps in the Civil Service, he felt it harder to achieve here than in larger places where there is a loyalty to the Service and the country and a sense of doing important work. He said that the corporate spirit and sense of belonging went far in those places to offset hardships of life in out of the way places and compensated for the knowledge that financial riches would never come.

He said Bermuda has many men who have benefited Bermuda with the advantages they have gained through the scholarships they were awarded. He asked the students to keep these examples before them and to serve the community in the manner these men have done.

In thanking the Chief Justice for his remarks, Mr. Henry Hallett, headmaster of Saltus, said, "It is a good thing for Bermuda to have someone come from abroad take a good look at Bermuda, and tell us what they see."

The prize giving was preceded by a carol concert. There was also an art exhibit in the library and a demonstration of gymnastics.

PRIZEWINNERS

The Chief Justice presented prizes to the following students:

Subject Prizes: English, M. W. Mair; history and Latin, S. H. Dallas; French, B. M. McCann; Spanish, H. A. Whitecross; mathematics, D. G. Cooper; shorthand, R. P. Shean; chemistry, J. R. School choirs give annual carol concert

Last night's downpour failed to prevent parents and friends of the students of the Bermuda High School and Saltus Grammar School from enjoying their annual musical treat.

Undeterred by the continuous rain, they flocked to the Wesley Church in Hamilton for the yearly Carol Service by girls and boys of the two schools.

An excellent program was presented and thoroughly enjoyed by an almost filled church. Items were sung by the individual choirs and by the combined groups.

The High School girls sang five carols, the Grammar School three, and seven others were by the combined choirs. An opening and closing Christmas hymn was joined in by the congregation.

Miss Gladys Tatem directed the girls' choir. Mr. John Bridge, organist of Wesley Church, directed the boys.

The service was conducted by the Rev. S. G. Woodrey and a collection at the close of the service was to be donated to the Society for the Blind in Bermuda.

Ninety at Saltus Old Boys Meet

Ninety members of the Saltus Old Boys Association attended the annual general meeting and dinner at Ariel Sands Beach Club on Tuesday.

Elected to the Committee of Management for 1959 were Mr. Charles Pearman-Wilson, president; Mr. Colin Selley, vice-president; Mr. Charles Collis, secretary; Mr. William Cox, treasurer, and six other members: Messrs. Roderick Ferguson, Archie Hooper, Andrew Trimmingham, Henry Masters and Llewellyn Vorley and Dr. C. R. Terceira.

The Hon. F. C. Misick, principal speaker, recalled his own schoolboy experiences and pointed out the contributions made by Saltus men in all fields of public life in Bermuda.

Other speakers were the headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett, who replied to Mr. Misick's toast to the school; Mr. Roderick Ferguson, who proposed the toast to the trustees; Sir John Cox, M.C.P., who replied on behalf of the trustees; Dr. Clarence Terceira, who proposed the toast to the staff, and Mr. Robert Alger, who replied for the staff.

Saltus Old Boys In Final Matches

The Saltus Old Boys will be playing the school teams in their final matches for the season at Saltus field this afternoon.

As always, it is hoped many spectators will attend, but it is also hoped that some Old Boys will arrive prepared to play as there are far too few to make up two complete teams at the present time.

The following players and others are asked to be at the field at 3.00 p.m. with white shirts.

Former Saltus Student Weds In Pennsylvania

Word has been received here from Philadelphia of the marriage on February 7 of Miss Margaret Ann Cavanaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pierce Cavanaugh, of Rosemont, to Mr. Pierce Arthur Ross Baugh, of Wayne, Pennsylvania, son of Mr. Pierce A. Baugh of New York and Wayne, and the late Mrs. Phyllis S. Baugh. Mr. Baugh is a former student of Saltus Grammar School, and is a nephew of Captain and Mrs. W. V. R. Winter of "Trade Winds," Hinson's Island.

The wedding took place in St. Thomas of Villanova church. The Rev. William T. Cavanaugh, uncle of the bride, officiated. The reception was held at the Bellevue-Stratford.

The bride, escorted by her father, was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Charles I. Jamieson, matron of honour; Mrs. George Shafer, jr., Mrs. Francis Prial, Mrs. Chester Harrington, jr., Mrs. Francis X. Diebold and Miss Nancy MacCalla. Mr. Henry W. Breyer III was best man.

After a Porto Rico honeymoon, the couple will live in Wayne. The bride, a portrait artist, graduated from Trinity College, Washington, and attended the Art Student's League, New York. Mr. Baugh is a University of Virginia alumnus.

Personal and Social

Among the 228 young men who matriculated on Tuesday at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., U.S.A. was Cummings V. Zull, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Vail Zull of "Channelway," Smith's Parish.

Freshmen who successfully complete the first semester are admitted to "honours and privileges" at a service held by the college for the past 136 years. The ceremony itself is more than five centuries old. It originated with the Trinity Colleges of England from which Trinity in Hartford took its name.

When the freshmen signed the matriculation register, they became members of the colleges and future alumni for life.

Annual Boxing
At Saltus School

The twenty-fourth annual boxing competition of the Saltus Grammar School was held yesterday afternoon at the school hall. The afternoon finals was a departure from the usual Friday night shows held by the school and was planned by both Headmaster Henry Hallett, and Stanley Gascogne — who later presented the prizes — as a move to get the entire school see the boxing finals. There were a few parents who attended the finals.

The bouts were keenly contested and only one failed to last the distance of three rounds. This was the match in which Roger Mello, who is extraordinarily well developed, scored a TKO in the third round over B. Lukroka.

Best match of the afternoon appeared to be that in which Michael Haynes calmly weathered Kenny Hayward's opening assaults and went on, just as calmly and efficiently to win the 105-110 pounds class.

Watlington House won the boxing shield with 232 points; Butterfield were second with 216; Saltus third at 172 and Darrell fourth at 158.

The Dr. T. I. Crawford Cup for the best loser was presented to G. Rothwell who lost a close decision to R. Steinhoff in the 75-80 pounds class.

The Critchley Cup for the most improved boxer was handed to Roger Mello.

There were two bouts which could not be held because of injury — that in the under 60 pounds class and that between 136 pounds and 145 pounds.

- The results:
- 75-80 lbs.—R. Steinhoff (D) beat G. Rothwell (B).
 - 60-65 lbs.—P. Muggleton (D) beat M. Meeker (B).
 - 120-128 lbs.—G. Shorto (W) beat J. McCane (S).
 - 120-128 lbs.—S. Hollis (W) beat P. Profit (S).
 - 85-90 lbs.—G. Conly (B) beat J. Wallick (W).
 - 145-155 lbs.—G. Reppert (W) beat T. Henry (B).
 - 128-136 lbs.—R. Mello (B) beat B. Lukroka (S) TKO 3.
 - 70-75 lbs.—I. Mills (S) beat B. Hetzel (S).
 - 95-100 lbs.—S. Cook (B) beat B. Lemman (W).
 - 100-105 lbs.—C. Haycock (W) beat M. Doidge (B).
 - 80-85 lbs.—D. Fanchaud (W) beat I. Couper (S).
 - 110-120 lbs.—B. Groves (W) beat D. McCane (S).

105-110 lbs.—M. Haynes (D) beat K. Hayward (B).

Over 155 lbs.—L. Davis (W) beat P. Zabel (B).

An exhibition between Bill Gascogne and Stephen Outerbridge was boxed. This was very well received by the school and the parents.

The officials:
Referee — D. J. Williams
Judges — F. Capstick, J. Drewery, D. Measures, Timekeeper — R. S. Alger.

The headmaster thanked the staff, particularly Mr. Alger, for their hard work in arranging the boxing.

There will be a debate today at 3.30 p.m. in the Assembly Hall at Saltus Grammar School on this motion: "This House approves the proposal to increase the area of Bermuda by claiming land from the sea."

Speaking in favour of the motion will be John Gilbert and Martin S. Brewer. Speaking against will be William M. Cox and Ian Mills. Mr. J. C. Lester, a teacher at Saltus, will preside and act as master-of-ceremonies. Those interested in the subject of the debate will be welcomed.

Records Fall at Saltus Meeting

The records fell at the annual athletic sports meeting at Saltus Grammar School, held yesterday in perfect order on the school field. The meet was witnessed by a gathering of parents and friends of the school. A tea served during the afternoon.

Wattling House won the Junior Shield for the athletic events while the Senior Shield was taken by Wattling.

At the conclusion of the meeting, prizes were distributed by Mr. Chester Butterfield, an old boy of the school and a member of the Board of Trustees.

INTER-SCHOOL SPORTS MEET HELD; THREE MARKS SET, ONE EQUALLED

The Bermuda School Sports Association held their annual inter-school athletic meeting at the Saltus Grammar School field yesterday before a large crowd of students, parents and friends. Three new records were set while a fourth was equalled.

As this is strictly a school meet, there were no individual winners but Gilbert Institute and Warwick Academy shared top honours among the group winners with three firsts apiece, Port Royal, St. George's and the High School each had two.

At the conclusion of yesterday's meet, prizes were presented by the Governor, Lieut-General Sir John Woodall who termed the meet a "great success."

School meets seem to be getting "bigger and better every time," Sir John added and noted that the only thing yesterday's meet failed to provide was "a relay race for the masters, mistresses and officials."

The complete results:

Death of Bermudian in New York

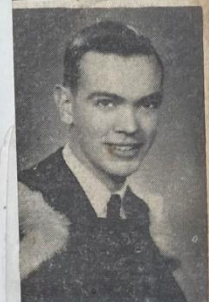

26/5/59
Mr. John C. Wilson of Brooklyn, younger son of the late Mrs. Charlotte C. Wilson and brother of Mr. Hector A. M. Wilson, was buried at the Evergreens cemetery in Brooklyn yesterday.

Mr. Wilson died last Thursday after being in hospital for five weeks. His funeral service took place at the Gates Funeral Home on Sunday. Funeral and burial services were conducted by the Rev. William J. Miles.

Educated at Saltus Grammar School, Mr. Wilson emigrated 40 years ago. He revisited the island many times during his life, his last trip taking place two years ago, when he attended a service dedicating a stained glass window in Devonshire Church to his mother.

Mr. Wilson is survived by his wife, a daughter, and two grandchildren. Other survivors are his two brothers Mr. Ronald C. Wilson of Bronx, New York, and Mr. Hector Wilson, and his sister, Mrs. Charlotte C. Madison of Flushing, New York.

Mr. Wilson was in the restaurant business at the time of his death.

Mr. John R. Talbot
Mr. John R. Talbot (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Talbot, "Alton," Pembroke, and holder of the Bermuda Scholarship, graduated from McGill University, Montreal, on May 23, with a bachelors of Commerce degree. Mr. Talbot gained distinction in the general course and was awarded the F. W. Sharp prize in accountancy and mathematics.

Saltus fantasy wows delighted audience

By MARIAN ROBB

Students and staff of Saltus Grammar School last night took a delighted audience off into a three-way fantasy, and showed what might have happened if Bermuda's fates had drawn the Romans, the Normans or the Martians here to colonize the islands. All three possibilities turned out to be quite piquant. The script, by schoolmaster J. C. Drewry assisted by P. Capstick and J. C. Lester, was titled "Caesar, Serfs and Satellites," and lightly spanned the centuries from shortly before Christ to well into the Space Age. Handsome sets of seashore and future metropolises were designed by Edwina Drewry, and it was not stated who was responsible for the excellent costuming and make-up, including Roman toga, medieval armor and regulation space-suits on creatures whose faces were re-drawn into taut and eerie lines.

Among the intriguing props were space-age drinks imbibed through straws zigzagged like lightning forks or TV aerials. A ripple of amusement greeted every appearance of the tiny slave who served as cup-bearer or page from age to age.

An overwhelming sound effect was the ear-splitting thrum and whine of an offstage jet-like engine, immediately followed by an individual space-coaster skidding to a stop on stage.

All the boys performed with credit as early Romans, middle Normans or far-off Martians. Continuity was cleverly established by a recurrent theme as two leaders in each age eyed the island's marketing possibilities and decided to team up as "Partners." In each age the newcomers, at first disappointed at finding no inhabitants, soon look on the bright side and plan to exploit the island as a colony. One Martian asks another, "Do you suppose the Earthmen have abandoned it?" "Maybe they don't know it's here yet," is the reply.

Earlier, Caesar remarks, "I can see this as being quite a productive little spot so the garrison should be self-maintaining." When the Roman colony is a going concern, the big debate is over whether to introduce chariots — perhaps with a Chariot Control Board.

In their turn the Normans are depressed to find no cows, no sheep, no farms and no people — only some 300 assorted islands which King William enters in his Boonsday Book as worth 17 shillings and threepence farthing.

Aside from the immediate diversion and historical fillip afforded by the various school anniversary productions during 1959, they are building up a very useful stock of sets and costumes. Perhaps some of the shows may be repeated in future years.

The Saltus drama was preceded by a program of ballads and folk songs charmingly sung by the School Choir under the direction of Mr. John Bridge.

Fantasy Is Saltus 350th Contribution

What would have happened if Caesar had come to Bermuda? Would chariots have needed licences and, if so, it would obviously be necessary to have a Chariot Control Board.

This is the spirit of the first part of "Caesar, Serfs and Satellites," an apt name for the Bermuda Fantasy presented by Saltus Grammar School as a contribution to the 350th Anniversary. The show opened to a full house last night, and will be repeated this evening.

Plenty of witticisms are introduced in the script. For instance, during a street scene in Roman Hamiltonium one hears someone say "Caesar's getting soft in his old age. He just spent last winter in England." The reply: "He's not soft, he's mad!"

Bermuda in the Norman era follows, but the "Satellites" part of the fantasy is the most comical. The boys really enjoy themselves on stage as they mimic spacemen in an all-jet age . . . in Bermuda yet!

This is undoubtedly a "different" pageant that the Saltus boys are presenting, and it is well worth seeing. The producer is Frank Capstick, script is by John Drewry and scenery by his talented wife, Mrs. Edwina Drewry.

Mrs. H. Hallett, wife of the headmaster, has assisted in all departments, especially in helping the mothers with the appropriate costumes.

The show starts at 8 p.m. and is preceded by a programme of songs by the school choir under the direction of Mr. John F. Bridge.

These taking part are: F. H. Antonsen, I. R. Mills, M. W. Mair, J. M. Ross, C. E. Kett, C. A. Lodge, J. A. Pitt, A. S. Clarke, C. W. White, C. P. Davis, J. D. Amos, A. P. Young, M. G. Woolfrey, C. M. Profit, A. N. Umrichin, J. A. Emmerson, J. R. Brownlee, R. B. Leman, A. D. Dodwell, C. E. Campbell, C. G. Marson, P. F. Muggleton, A. R. Young, C. A. Lodge, R. D. Stienhoff, G. S. Skarohlid, J. H. Martin, G. M. Henry and N. P. Trott.

The sixth form of Saltus Grammar School—class of 1924—was present in force at a luncheon at the Waterfront Restaurant yesterday. There was 100 per cent attendance—all three students. The trio, who celebrated their 35th anniversary, so to speak, included Captain Scarritt Adams, U.S. Navy, commanding officer of the U.S. Navy Receiving Station at Brooklyn; Mr. Henry J. Hallett, headmaster of Saltus; and Lieut.-Col. J. C. Astwood, M.C.P., officer commanding the local forces.

Captain Adams, whose home is "Springfield," Paget, was a classmate at Annapolis of Captain Harry Endiger who commands the U.S. Naval Station here, and in 1930 the two men were shipmates.

Schoolboys in Spacemen Scene

SPACEMEN rediscover Bermuda in this scene at Saltus Grammar School during their Bermuda anniversary stage production of "Caesar, Serfs and Satellites." The play ran on Thursday and Friday nights. The characters in this scene, left to right, are J. H. Martin (Merc—M73), John M. Ross, a page; N. P. Trott (19); A. S. Clark (Cap); G. M. Henry (Ven); and G. S. Skarohlid (Jup).

SALTUS COMMEMORATES 24TH FOUNDER'S DAY WITH SERVICE

Saltus Grammar School celebrated its twenty-fourth Founder's Day yesterday with a short service in the School's assembly hall during which one of the school's old boys, Mr. Owen Darrell, gave an address outlining the school's history.

Following the ceremony, the headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett, and a number of the old boys placed a wreath on the grave of Samuel Saltus, and a brief graveside service was conducted by Canon E. N. B. Chapman. Due to the rain, the student body did not go to the grave.

URDAY, SEPTEMBER 26

Butterfield
Win Swim Meeting

Butterfield House, with firsts in the junior and the senior divisions, won the inter-house swimming championships yesterday at the Eagle's Nest Hotel pool.

The winning house gathered 21 points in the junior division and 26 in the senior. Darrell House had 4 second in the junior swimming and third in the senior. Salties finished third among the juniors and second in the senior. Watlington House were last in both divisions.

The results:

JUNIOR

25 yards freestyle A - 1. Lightbourne (S), Conckle (W), McMartin (B). Time - 20.0 secs.

25 yards freestyle B - 1. Colby 2. (B), Robinson 1. (D), Bell (S). Time 17.2.

50 yards freestyle C-1. Vorley (B), 2. O'Brien (S), 3. Sabar (B). Time 38.4.

50 yards breaststroke C - 1. Wardman (S), 2. Brown (B), 3. Vorley (B). Time 47.9.

25 yards backstroke C - 1. Perin-chief (W), 2. Farge 1 (B), 3. Woolfrey (D). Time 19.7.

Junior diving - 1. Marshall (D), 2. Conly (B) and Henry (B).

Junior relay - 1. Darrell and Butterfield; 3. Watlington. Time 1:52.

House positions - Butterfield 21; Darrell 11; Salties 5; Watlington 7.

SENIOR

50 yards freestyle D - 1. Mello (B), 2. Robinson 1 (D), 3. Cook (B). Time 32.1.

50 yards breaststroke D - 1. Ash-ton (B), 2. Cook (B), 3. Lodge 1 (D). Time 43.7.

25 yards backstroke D - 1. Haynes (D), 2. Cook (B), 3. Robinson (D). Time 16.1.

100 yards freestyle E - 1. Hetzel (S), 2. Zull (B), 3. Whitecross (W). Time 1:12.2.

200 yards freestyle E - 1. Zull (B), 2. Harrison (B), 3. Proff 1. (S). Time 2:29.

100 yards breaststroke E - 1. Proff 1. (S), 2. Harrison (B), 3. Hallett (D). Time 1:34.4.

David Macky, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Macky of Berry Hill Road, Paget, a senior at Allegheny College in Pennsylvania, was named an Alden Scholar at the Honours Day Convocation on November 4. The name Alden Scholar memorialises Allegheny's first president, Timothy Alden, who served from 1815 to 1831.

Investigation Into "The False Bermudas"

Mr. M. S. Weedon, M.A. (Cantab) is a senior English master at the Saltus Grammar School. The chance discovery of a reference to "The False Bermudas" led him to pursue the subject through local and foreign sources. These imaginary "rocks" were sighted by a French privateer between 1702 and 1714, some legends east of Bermuda. As years went by they were included in charts of the day until it was proved that they had been a figment of man's imagination. Mr. Weedon's monogram is one of the four entered in the Bermuda Bakery's 350th Anniversary essay contest. The other three have already appeared.

"The false Bermudas do not exist, and never have existed," Mr. Weedon claims at the beginning of his thesis. He points out that it is two and a half centuries since they were first noted on charts of the western ocean by authoritative cartographers and regarded as a dangerous hazard to shipping for two hundred years. They were frequently mistaken for the Bermudas themselves.

Mr. Weedon deals thoroughly with the exciting historical events at that time, and an appendix includes photostat copies of original English, French and Spanish maps, all marking the False Bermudas. His ancillary material, showing further extensive research, incorporates cuttings from The Gazette, the earliest being the May 18 edition of 1793.

"The False Bermudas had their day," says the author, "and when the affair was at high noon, when an invasion of Bermuda was rumoured and more than rumoured, they were ready to serve as pawns in a great chessgame of strategy that occupied the best brains of two continents.

Minor Role

"The pawn was never — as far as we know — brought into play; perhaps it was never even considered. In consequence, the role of the False Bermudas in local history is a minor one. But it might well have been quite otherwise.

It is established beyond any reasonable doubt that with the exception of the familiar reefs and breakers of Greater Bermuda, no rocks have broken the surface of the ocean in the area during historical times. . . . in the opinion of most geologists there have not been islands for six to eight thousand years."

The False Bermudas were first allegedly sighted between 1702 and 1714 by Louis Duhal, a privateer. Two Falmouth Packet captains also claimed to have seen them between 1810 and 1811, and in 1848 Robert Dyet of the Catherine Greene said he had spotted the rocks comprising this vigia (a warning on a sea island) to denote some hidden danger.

Mr. Weedon deals with these four principal "witnesses" as the thesis continues. He mentions the different assigned positions where the False Bermudas were charted, "generally ascribed to the imperfect methods of position finding in use at the time."

Discovery Date

He goes on to say "For the present, however, enough has been said to show that the False Bermudas were well established by the middle of the eighteenth century, and continued so until after the middle of the nineteenth. We shall come to see that the 'standard version' puts the discovery of these rocks about the first decade of the former century, or even earlier.

"So firmly were they held to exist, at some times, and in some quarters, that a Spanish Admiral, in 1780, who was in these waters on business of war, who brought a large fleet with him to join an even larger fleet from France with the intention of driving the British from the seas, caused a special chart to be drawn of them. This is not a chart merely to show their location, for that, as we have seen, was knowledge common enough. This chart — it is unique — shows the disposition of the False Bermudas one to another, the depths of the shoals and so forth. This highly detailed work, a figment of a fertile imagination, is attributed to a nameless Bermudian on whose 'authentic report' it was further noted that Bermudians often went fishing there, knew the rocks well, and that two vessels had perished on them.

"It will be interesting one day to establish the identity of this anonymous islander, so regrettably, he has eluded us." The author quotes mariners' early accounts of sighting the vigia, all of which vary slightly in position. Longitude presented a great problem to early seafarers, possibly because of different lengths between knots on log lines and different meridians. Longitude is a distance east or west on the Earth's surface, measured by the angle which the meridian of a particular place makes with a standard meridian, i.e. Greenwich. It is reckoned to 180° east or west and is expressed either in degrees or in time.

The Standard Version

Mr. Weedon explains, "By 1861, a good deal of further data had accumulated and the story thus spans a period covering the introduction of the ship's chronometer into general use. Although it was many years before this useful instrument was widely employed, by 1783 discussions of the longitude of Bermuda, for example, were already down to a matter of minutes and seconds of a degree, and as we may see from Hurd's Survey of the reefs about Bermuda had by then been charted with a minute and painstaking accuracy.

"The further one goes back, the wider discrepancies become. We shall see with Jacques Nicholas Bellin, French hydrographer, that far from being able to discuss the longitude of Bermuda in terms of minutes and seconds, three and four degrees error as between one estimate and another were recorded. Wishing to clarify the situation and somehow improve it, Bellin had collected a number of variant longitudes from several charts published within a few years before his time of writing, which in 1797, he corrects them all for the meridian of Paris, and for the reader's greater convenience we have further annotated them as from Greenwich.

Here the author gives a table showing longitude of Bermuda given in various charts published prior to 1757. Mr. Weedon says that in the North Atlantic Directory of 1865 a shelf of brittle rocks is mentioned. "The word is new," he comments, "referring to a note which we shall have occasion to examine later. The phrase suggests that Louis Duhal discharged a cannon shot at them — whatever it was that he saw, and that the ball was the present state of

it. We know, from the Annual Register (1781), that Solano lost a very considerable number of his sailors and troops on the voyage out, when wind conditions were at

Worth Investigation

"... our third hypotheses is worth some close investigation. A few quotations give a fairly clear picture of the background, and they will be found in the appendix. Here let us consider the matter generally.

"A search has been made into the papers and logbooks of Rodney, among the journals of De Grasse, among the papers of Washington and his military associates during the American Revolution, as well as among the papers of Admiral Solano. In none of them has any mention at all been found of the False Bermudas at the time of this search; the author was unaware of alternative names for the vigia which have since come to light.

"As this is inconclusive, then, one reluctant to relinquish at once the 'ruse de guerre' hypothesis may, of course, reflect that such a trick as this would be, with the object — no doubt — of containing the enemy to the west, a ruse which where he would be easier to seek out and destroy, would not be likely to appear among the papers of the enemy until after it had been tried and would not, either, be likely to appear except in a very restricted form beforehand among the papers of the side taking the initiative.

"There is mentioned a Secret Order Book of Rodney's, which has not so far been made available (sic) to the author. It is possible that a search in this would reveal something of the sort we seek in following up the campaign that led to the Battle of the Saints in the West Indies that might concern the False Bermudas."

"Solano's chart, Mr. Weedon goes on, "of the False Bermudas really does need to be explained. We should like to know much more about his motive for and method of acquiring it, and especially we should want to know who the Bermudian was who furnished the information on which it was based. It might then be possible to see with some clarity exactly what was going on."

Occasion for Trick

"Of our final hypothesis, it is clear there was an occasion for such a trick, and Rodney, whose debts it was said had been settled by a Frenchman in order that his action should have the honour of a soundly defeating England's best Admiral, was no doubt the man to do it. Two possible motives we may assume him to have had, in this case.

"We have already mentioned that of containing his enemy to the west of Bermuda. To this we may add that, in view of the fact that the False Bermudas lie so conveniently on the route for Europe, there is a possibility that Solano, and similarly others in his position, when making for Europe, should not dare running into the False Bermudas in the night, and might be tempted, if they did not dare engage with the enemy fleets known to be further west, to adopt a still more southerly course and this, naturally, would bring them perilously near to the trades, blowing in the opposite direction from the wind they wished.

"We know, from the Annual Register (1781), that Solano lost a very considerable number of his sailors and troops on the voyage out, when wind conditions were at it would do himself no great advantage, it would certainly be the greatest value, in a higher strategic plan, to his own country's relations with enemy forces wherever they might be.

"But we don't know, and can't say."

The Falmouth Packets

In 1803, in the North Atlantic Directory, Findlay quoted Murdo Downie's best course for Bermuda from the east, the parallel crossing over where the vigia was purported to lie. "Mr. Downie was not a False Bermudas man evidently," comments Mr. Weedon. "But others were, for the vigia was reportedly sighted twice during the next decade. On both occasions this was by Postal Packet Captains in the Falmouth Service."

Alexander G. Findlay reported in the North Atlantic Directory of 1861 that Captain Bell was supposed to have seen rocks, giving the location. He headed the story "False Bermudas."

It would appear that the same rocks were seen the following year by Mr. Nankivell, in command of the Francis Freshing during Captain Bell's absence. He said he had noticed a rock with a black summit and passed close by, without firing a cannon shot at it or making further investigations. "Of these two sightings," writes the author, "which are certainly suspect from the beginning, we may conclude that like many other nautical fantasies they do not stand up well to scrutiny. They provided a fillip to the story of the False Bermudas, however, sufficient to carry them on for another generation, by which time a new complication was introduced that further invested them with a vicious reality."

Robert Dyet

Dyet wrote that on his passage from St. Kitts to London in May, 1848, and off Bermuda, he passed within 30 or 40 feet of two sunken rocks, having six or eight feet of water over them.

"The assumption that the rocks he saw were the False Bermudas," Mr. Weedon says, "an assumption in which the Spaniards were merely following Dyet himself, was not made by everyone, even among those for whom the False Bermudas seemed a reality."

Here is given details of various charts published and corrected between 1661 and 1874, showing that charts as late as that time starting to omit mention of this vigia and give the depth of this area as 800 fathoms.

"The bottom is dropping away from under the False Bermudas," remarks the author, "to a depth of two hundred fathoms. It will go much further than that, as we know it must. But the final answer to the question of where the False Bermudas are, and almost altogether from man's minds requires a section to itself."

A Bermudian Story

The author quotes a portion of a letter written from St. George's in 1829 by Susette Harriet Lloyd. She mentioned the difficulty navigators had encountered when trying to find these islands. "... people have sailed about for weeks in the vicinity without being able to find them," she wrote. "Nay, years ago, before they were quite so well known as they are now, their very existence was denied by a young lieutenant in the Navy who, having procured an appointment, was ordered as a trial of his seamanship to proceed to the Bermudas. He returned without accomplishing his mission, declaring that he had three times sailed over the very spot on which they were supposed to lie."

Mr. Weedon makes the suggestion that the lieutenant was ordered to proceed on a voyage to discover the False Bermudas "and that he carried out his orders effectively, returning the proper answer that they did not exist."

Captain Hurd spent several years in Bermuda plotting the reefs and shoals about the islands. It was said of him "... Captain Hurd, of a man-of-war, who was later attached to the Hydrographic Office, who had explored the Bermudas, did not think that there existed any rocks in the position assigned to the False Bermudas, but he thought that some captains who, in error, had been too close to the reefs to the east and south-east of the Bermudas, had taken them for rocks at a greater distance from the land. This assumption is rendered the more probable if one thinks of the imperfect enough means which were employed at this period for fixing the position of a vessel."

Mr. Weedon adds, "In attempting to verify the legend on Solano's chart, and also to add confirmation to this reported opinion of Hurd's, we have consulted the Protest Books available at the Bermuda Archives, without success."

In the 1861 edition of the North Atlantic Directory Findlay noted "... the U.S.S. Dolphin spent seven days in the unsuccessful search for this rock: sounded with 800 fathoms; no bottom, 12 miles east, and with 500 fathoms over Rocks and no bottom with 800 fathoms in that of the False Bermuda."

Maury and Walsh

Two Americans, Lieut. M. F. Maury and Lieut. J. C. Walsh, had made an expedition a few years prior to this. At that time they had sailed a distance of about 32 miles from the position assigned to the False Bermudas a sounding of the bottom network from which Lieutenant Walsh deduced that this fact alone would suffice to prove that they do not exist."

In a report to Lieut. Maury, Lt. Walsh stated "... that region of the north Atlantic N.N.E. from the Azores in the charts, is full of these imaginary dangers, which we think are either dead whales or the remnants of wrecks floated there by the Gulf Stream, which there loses nearly all of its motive power. Were one or two ships of war directed to cruise there and examine whether the dangers did exist or not, it would diminish the anxiety of those who pass over that region of the ocean, and would not interfere with their proper duties."

Lt. Walsh, in a letter to his colleague and friend, wrote of his explorations of the Atlantic "for some of the many rocks and vigias of doubtful existence." He reported the detailed studies that had been carried out, adding, "I trust to satisfy navigators that they have no existence, or at least that those parts of the ocean in which they have been reported to exist are free from all dangers. . . . there are sufficient real dangers in the Atlantic; these imaginary ones should not disfigure the charts; they only serve to harass navigators, turn vessels from their routes and thus injure commerce. The reports of them by merchant vessels, which seldom take time to examine the appearance of such dangers, can be readily explained. Floating wrecks, large trees, carcasses of whales, etc., presenting all the appearance of reefs, which deceived experienced seamen."

Mr. Weedon concludes his thesis with this observation: "... although it was a generation and more before the False Bermudas were no longer to be found in occasional publications, that, properly speaking, is the end of the story."

DEATH OF MR. G. BURLAND IN CANADA

Mr. George H. Burland (38), is to be interred today at Grimsby, Ontario, following his death at the Hamilton General Hospital, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada on October 17.

Mr. Burland, who was born and educated here, had just undergone surgery. Mr. Burland was the only son of the late Mr. Arthur Burland. He was educated at Somers College and the Saltus Grammar School, and served in the Bermuda Volunteer Rifle Corps.

At the time of his death Mr. Burland was running a souvenir business at Niagara Falls.

Theological Student 1960 Rhodes Scholar

Mr. Peter W. Macky, the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Macky of Paget, has been elected Bermuda Rhodes Scholar for Autumn, 1960, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Peter W. Macky

Mr. Macky, who is at present attending the Princeton Theological Seminary in New Jersey, received his earlier education at Warwick Academy and Saltus Grammar School.

After passing School Certificate he spent a year at the Hill School in Pennsylvania before entering Harvard University. He graduated from Harvard in 1957 and joined the engineering staff of Lockheed Aircraft Company in California. While in Los Angeles he studied in the graduate engineering school of the University of California and took part in the activities of the College Department of the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood.

Early this year he decided to become a candidate for the ministry of the Presbyterian Church and in September entered the Princeton Theological Seminary as a student.

SWIMMER

His main sporting activity has been swimming and he represented Bermuda at the 1954 Empire Games. He held a number of Bermuda records while at school and was a member of the swimming teams at both the Hill School and Harvard.

In California he swam with the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Mr. Macky now hopes to continue his theological studies at Oxford and, according to his father, is particularly interested in acquiring several languages.

Saltus Prize-Giving

TV Interfering With School Homework

Television is interfering with students' homework said the headmaster of Saltus Grammar School, Mr. Henry Hallett, at the annual senior prize-giving yesterday.

"During the past year, one of the problems which the school has had to face has been the failure of certain boys to do their homework. This neglect was generally attributed to television," he remarked.

"Television is undoubtedly here to stay and also undoubtedly has a place in modern life, but boys must learn to keep it in its place and not let it interfere with their homework.

"We shall continue to insist that homework is done and done properly until we overcome this difficulty — just as in the 1930's we overcame a similar difficulty in regard to radio," he continued.

"It would be greatly appreciated if parents would assist in the endeavour by seeing that their sons do not watch television instead of doing their homework. I am most grateful to the parents for their cooperation in all school matters during the past and trust that I can rely upon it for the future."

Due to the steady increase of the number of pupils at the school (this year the total is over 200) he told the gathering the building of new school rooms is anticipated during the next few years.

BETTER DRAWING

During his review of the past school year, Mr. Hallett noted that the results in the Royal Drawing School examinations had surpassed those of any other year.

The pupils of the senior school gained 42 of the 97 honour certificates and 31 of the 46 pass certificates, he stated.

Mr. Hallett continued: "In the Cambridge Overseas examinations the results were satisfactory, although I do not feel that we can be complacent about them." In the higher School Certificate two boys were entered and each gained a principal subject and two subsidiary subjects, and seven candidates in the School Certificate examinations were successful.

The school will continue to take the Cambridge Overseas Certificates in December rather than the London General Certificate of Education. Effective this year, the Cambridge examinations will incorporate a General Certificate of Education, the headmaster's report stated.

The speaker was the Rev. Dr. N. Guy, who spoke of the school's fine record and traditions, and discussed the physical, intellectual and moral aspects of education. On the moral aspect, he commented.

GONE TOO FAR?

"We may have been wise to take our school out from under the blight of religious propaganda, but we may have gone too far."

The ceremony began with carol singing by the school choir, and after the prize-giving visitors watched a gymnastic display and viewed an art exhibit.

DEATH OF SIR ELDON TRIMINGHAM

Famous Yachtsman's Record of Public Service

Trimingham's Front Street store was closed on Saturday and flags in Hamilton were flying at half mast following the death of Sir Eldon Trimingham.

The 70-year-old Knight Bachelor died at 4 a.m. on Saturday of cancer. The funeral—with no flowers and no cortege—was planned for 4 p.m. the same day at St. Paul's Church, Paget.

Few of his friends knew just how seriously ill the noted yachtsman was. For 15 months he was seriously ill, but it was not until a month ago that he finally became bedridden.

Sir Eldon, who had been a member of the House of Assembly, Legislative Council and the Executive Council at different times, leaves a wife, two sons, Mr. Andrew Trimingham and Mr. Eldon Trimingham, Jr., as well as two grandchildren, Eldon III and Lawrence.

Sir Eldon died at his Tucker's Town home.

Sir Eldon became a member of the Colonial Parliament about 20 years ago and for five years was an alderman of the Corporation of Hamilton. He was president of the Bank of Bermuda, a partner with his brother, Mr. Kenneth F. Trimingham, in the famed Front Street store, a trustee of the Saltus Grammar School, and for many years was a member of the Trade Development Board on which he served before his election to the House of Assembly.

He was chairman of the Currency Control Board from the beginning of the second world war until his resignation in 1950.

Few Equals

One of the most famous yachtsmen Bermuda has ever produced, he was described as "a mild-mannered gentleman who sits with the Olympians of yachting. He has few equals in tuning boats and sailing them."

Sir Eldon's experience with boats began in punts with his elder brother, Kenneth. Their first real boat was a 15-foot knockabout "Quest," in 1909. In 1911 they bought "Winsome II," a Manhattan Bay One-Design.

In 1913 they bought their famous boat "Cyclone" in which they won many races until 1927 when they bought separate boats.

Sir Eldon also began designing about this time. One of his designs was "War Baby," which won all the races in which it took part the first summer after its completion. Sir Eldon mainly picked up his own designing craftsmanship.

Conjurer with Boat

Said an admirer once: "He is a conjurer with a boat whose bag of tricks is never exhausted."

He played a great part in developing Bermuda's prestige in international yachting circles out of all proportion to the Colony's size. In 1932 he and Kenneth won the six-metre Prince of Wales Cup.

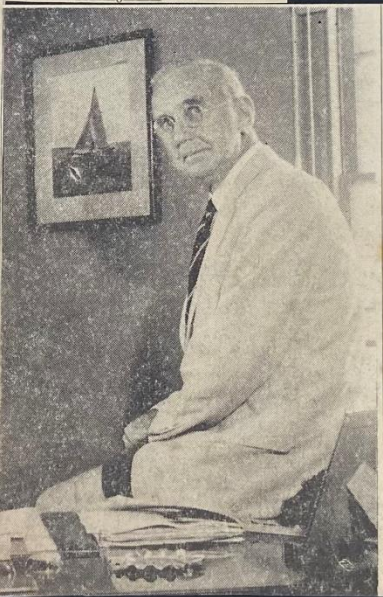

Yachting was not the only sport Sir Eldon was interested in—during his school years he held the Bermuda record for 120-yard high hurdles. The record time of 17.4 seconds was broken in 1946.

Woodworking Skill

One facet not well-known was Sir Eldon's woodworking skill principally manifested in the making of uniquely attractive picture frames, many of which enhance family paintings at his Tucker's Town home.

With his brother, Kenneth, Sir Eldon spent upwards of 50 years in the family store. Last September he flew to New York for medical treatment.

Larne Will See Art of Boys At Saltus

At the request of the Larne Rotary Club in Northern Ireland an exhibition of art is being sent by pupils of the Saltus Grammar School by April 1.

The school was selected by the Hamilton Rotary Club, and the boys whose work has been accepted have been busy with their paintings for about six weeks. Mr. C. S. Maddern, the school's art master, said that interest in the project had been keen and most of the paintings were done in poster paints and were subjects chosen by the pupils themselves.

The "artists" concerned are 9-year-old David G. Pantry, whose exhibit is a Bermuda dwelling house; John C. Morris (10), a colourful design; 11-year-old Christopher Marson, whose painting is called "Holiday-time in Bermuda"; 13-year-old David R. Watters, who has selected the new City Hall as his subject; and 17-year-old Frederic S. West's map of Bermuda. This shows not only the geographical position of the islands but how each parish was originally named.

Mr. Maddern's entry is in oils and shows a collection of houses on the waterside at Flatts Village.

It is understood that after the exhibition in Ireland is over the paintings will be on display in Great Britain.

Butterfield House Win Boxing Competition

Saltus Grammar School held its twenty-fifth annual boxing competition yesterday and with 15 bouts presented, Butterfield House came away with the championship. Butterfield finished the competition with a total of 187 points on the basis of 10 points for a win, five points for a loss.

Darrell was second with 181 points, Saltus third with 150 and Watlington fourth at 135.

The bouts were fairly good among the younger, lighter groups but as the weights increased and the boys were larger, the emphasis seemed to be on hard hitting rather than on accurate point scoring.

Duncan McMartin of Butterfield House, won the trophy for the Best Loser. McMartin, who had been bitten by a cat during the regular competition and was unable to box, was able to participate yesterday in an added bout. He was beaten by R. McClarron of Watlington.

Most improved boxer was judged to be Fraser Smith of Butterfield who lost to G. Rothwell of Butterfield.

The prizes were presented by Mr. L. John Profit who was introduced to the boys by the headmaster, Mr. Henry Hallett.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL

During the introduction Mr. Hallett spoke of the age of the tournament, this being the twenty-fifth annual competition. The draw for the first one was on exhibition at the entrance to the school hall. It had been prepared by a master of Saltus then, who now was no longer a master but who had two children at the school. The man, he said, was Mr. Profit.

"It is true I was instrumental in starting the first boxing tournament," Mr. Profit said, "and someone asked me if I were instrumental in starting the pessimism system as well."

The boxing 25 years ago was held in the old assembly hall, Mr. Profit said and recalled that it was so dark there it was difficult to see one's opponent.

At that time the school had considerable help from the late Stanley Paschal and the late Harry Williams. "If it weren't for them we wouldn't have had any boxing," he said. "They staged all the boxing in and around Hamilton."

He spoke of Mr. Paschal's and Mr. Williams' sons—Mac Paschal and Neal Williams who carried on the good work and nearly every year served in some capacity at the boxing tournaments, either as judges or referees. "Mac Paschal," he said, "won a Blue at Oxford for boxing and Neal Williams was in the first boxing tournament to be held in Saltus."

MY AD

Speaking of his own boxing experience, Mr. Profit recalled the advice given him by his old boxing instructor. "My boxing instructor believed in the old adage 'it 'ard and get away.'"

There was too much emphasis placed on winning, Mr. Profit said. "It is not necessary to win," he declared. "Sports primarily are played for enjoyment and relaxation," he said. Everyone should play as best as he can, but it is not necessary to win, he repeated.

In his own case, he said, he had been beaten at cricket, rugby, soccer, diving, swimming, billiards, snooker, but nobody had more fun at being beaten in these sports than himself, he said. "That," he said, "does not necessarily apply to boxing. I did a great deal of boxing and I didn't enjoy a moment of it," he confessed.

It was more humble to lose than to win, he told the boys, but no matter if they won or lost, the fact that they met in the ring out a couple of inches on their stature.

SMELL OF GLOVE

"The smell of a boxing glove in the face is a very good thing to give you a certain amount of humility," he said. "It teaches you how to mix it up and in your life, sooner or later you're going to have to mix it up. It might be on the rugby field or on the docks."

He pointed out that the biggest cup on the prize table was not for winning, but for the most improved boxer. "The next biggest cup goes to the best losers," he finished.

During the speeches it was pointed out that every boy in the school, with the exception of a

Inter-School Boxing

GOOD BOUTS AT WARWICK ACADEMY

The eleventh annual inter-school championships were held at Warwick Academy last night before an audience which tested the capacity of the hall.

There were 18 championships listed on the programme but only 16 were contested. Two of the finalists did not have opponents.

In one bout, that in the 75 pounds and under 80 pounds class, Billy Feakins of Warwick was sick and unable to box. His place was taken at practically the last minute by Douglas Faries, also of Warwick. He put up a game show but lost to S. Aitz of Saltus.

Three bouts failed to go the limit. G. Rothwell of Saltus won against A. Correira of Warwick when the referee deemed it advisable for Correira not to come out for the second round.

In the 115-120 pounds group, R. Deal of Sandys won in the first round when the bout was stopped while A. Ferreira of Warwick won in the second round of his match.

BEST OF EVENING

Probably the best match of the evening was that in which Peter Truran of Warwick upset Michael Haynes of Saltus. Haynes had earned a wide reputation as a strong boxer. Truran fought with his head as well as his fists last night and coupled a straight left to the head with a right hook to the body for a winning combination.

At the conclusion of the bouts, the prizes were presented by Mr. Mac Paschal who was introduced by Mr. T. F. F. Wyatt, president of the Bermuda Inter School Sports Association.

In his brief speech, Mr. Paschal congratulated all the boxers and then drew a reference to some criticism that boxing was considered brutal.

He agreed that boxing was brutal in some ways, "but," he pointed out, "so is life. You find that when you enter the business world it can be brutal, too," he said.

"The great benefit of boxing," he said, "is to be able to punch somebody in the nose. If you can get through life — if you can punch while you are being hit — you go a long way."

Thornton M. Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis R. Henry of Tucker's Town, and a member of the Class of 1962 at Williston Academy in Easthampton, Massachusetts, U.S.A., has been appointed to the student council. A non men's was made by unanimous vote of the student council members and the faculty.

The council, composed of members of the four upper classes, is the selected governing body of the students and acts as a liaison between the faculty and student body.

Membership on the student council is open to only approximately 20 in a student body of 340.

The results:

Under 60 pounds — J. Outerbridge (Saltus) beat J. Bento (Dellwood).

60-65 pounds — D. Conchie won without a final bout.
