- 20a. HISTORICAL INFORMATION AND TRADITIONS

This building was a ^{passenger and} freight stop for the Rhinebeck-Connecticut R.R. In 1921 the Farmers' Co-op bought the building, removed the freight doors and placed windows in the openings, replaced the coal bin with an office and cashier, and added a storage area and loading platform on the right end of the building. Since the Railway Express RR was discontinued at this location ^{of the new York, New Haven & Hartford} the Farmers Co-op moved the building across the road to NE side of road and used it for a garage.
