HARDSCRABBLE

Edited and Published by the Class of '64
RED HOOK CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
Red Hook, New York

DEDICATION

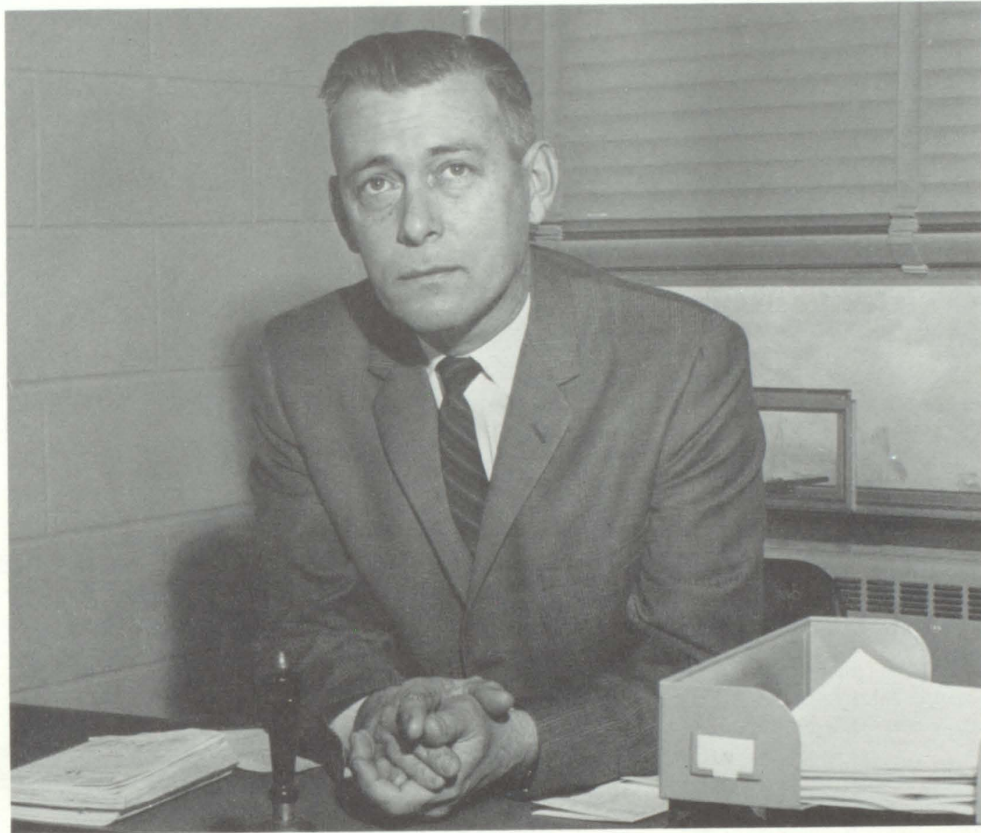

Mrs. Ethel Wilken

School life is much more than a mere series of academic courses. To be fully prepared for the world which awaits him, the student must become accustomed to an atmosphere in which he can work cooperatively and constructively with others.

No one has done more to provide this atmosphere than Mrs. Wilken. She has worked endlessly to help realize the goals that our class has achieved. As an act of appreciation for her many efforts on our behalf, we, the Class of '64, dedicate this yearbook to her.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Mr. Russell J. Keefe
District Principal

The members of the Class of 1964 will be long remembered for their many fine achievements during their years at Red Hook Central School. The entire staff wishes you success and hopes you have gained the background and knowledge to insure this success.

Your class will be remembered as being the first to graduate from the stage of our new high school. We hope that being able to use this fine building during your last year of high school has better prepared you for your future endeavors.

Congratulations to Mr. Barrett and the staff of "Hardscrabble". This fine yearbook is a credit to your school and your community.

Sincerely yours,

Russell J. Keefe
District Principal

EDITORS' MESSAGE

Producing a yearbook is a formidable task. Pictures must be taken, copy must be written, pages must be planned, and deadlines must be met. Indeed, the job often seems impossible. Somehow, though, all the work is completed and finally, in June, the finished product arrives.

We think that we have created the finest possible representation of the Activities of the Class of '64 and the school in general. We sincerely hope that you enjoy the '64 Hardscrabble as much as we enjoyed creating it, and trust that, in the years to come, it will remind you of the experiences you enjoyed during your career at Red Hook Central School.

Sincerely,
The Editors.

A black and white photograph of a snowy landscape. In the foreground, large, smooth snowdrifts are visible. In the middle ground, several cars are parked on a snow-covered street. In the background, there are bare trees and a flagpole with a flag. The scene is captured in a wide-angle shot, emphasizing the scale of the snowdrifts.

The members of the Board of Education are the elected representatives of the voters of the school district. STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council is the organized student government, whose purpose is to increase the interest of students in school activities by having them, in part, responsible for those activities. Above all, this body provides training in democratic principles.

This year, our Student Council has striven to increase school spirit through such activities as pep rallies and dances. In the future, Student Council will present a code of conduct for the students, continue to run the school store, and prepare for the Moving Up Day ceremonies.

HONOR SOCIETY

Seated: Karen Donerly, Mr. Keefe, Susan Farley, Lorraine Unson, Donna Matthews, Kathleen Cunningham, Joan Fraleigh.
Standing: Jeanette Thayer, John Trow, James Lalumandier,

The Red Hook chapter of the National Honor Society, sponsored by Mr. Keefe, is an honorary organization composed of Seniors who have compiled an overall scholastic record of 84% or higher during their first three years in high school. The 84% average must be maintained during the Senior year to retain eligibility for the organization.

The tapping ceremony, the traditional way in which new members are chosen, is performed on Moving Up Day.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

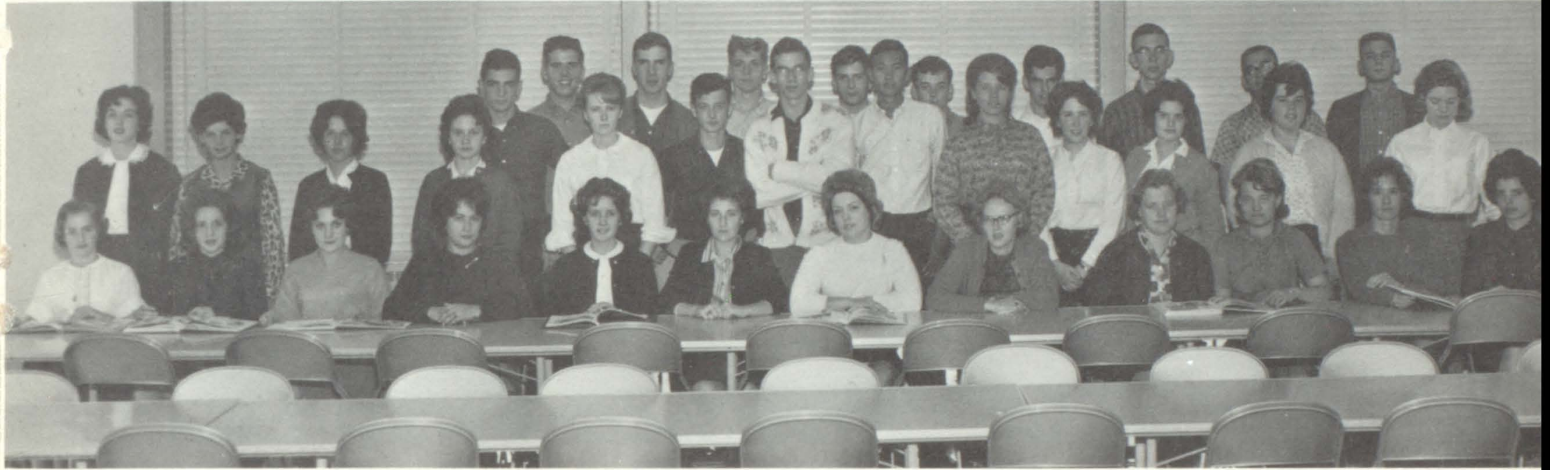

Each year, through the sponsorship of the American Field Service, Red Hook is proud to receive into its midst a foreign student. He is given a home with a Red Hook family, enters the Senior Class of Red Hook Central School, and participates as much as possible in community life. This year, it has been our privilege to have with us Surapol Tippavongse, a student from Bangkok, Thailand. We have all come to regard "Paul" as a good friend, and we hope that he will remember his stay in Red Hook as a pleasant one.

During the summer of her Junior year, Donna Matthews, a member of the present Senior class, spent ten weeks as the guest of a family in Istanbul, Turkey. She has brought back to this country many fond memories of her experiences there, and has spent the 1963-'64 school year telling others of her stay abroad.

The yearbook staff, advised by Mr. Robert Barrett, is responsible for the production of Hardscrabble. This year, it is divided into five parts: the subscription staff, the art staff, the features staff, the typing staff, and the photography staff. These committees, though responsible for certain specific assignments, work together to produce the yearbook as a whole.

Ditto is the Red Hook Central School student publication. Issued periodically throughout the year, it has more flexibility than other types of student publications. The staff is given the opportunity to show individuality in cover designs and the wide range of subject material — from humor to editorials. Ditto, under the supervision of Mrs. Ethel Wilken and Mr. Harry Kane, has a total membership of forty-five persons with John Morey as editor, Daphne Sass as assistant editor, and Mary Losee as art editor.

The Red Hook High School Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Murray Van Ness, consists of 53 musicians from grades 7-12. Each morning at 8:00 the downbeat starts the rehearsal, at which the Concert Band prepares for the various performances which are presented throughout the school year. These include two major concerts, various assemblies and several competition festivals which are held at various schools in the Hudson Valley. Although each year a significant number of seniors are graduated out of the band, the effect is short-lived, due to the able direction of Mr. Van Ness and the interest of the students involved.

The stage band, directed by Mr. Murray Van Ness, is in its first year of existence since the time at which our school began to run on split sessions. It serves many purposes in school life, which include playing at school-sponsored dances, participating in pop concerts, and accompanying Music Department activities, such as "Mr. Crane of Sleepy Hollow."

This organization gives its members valuable experience in playing before live audiences, and deepens their understanding of popular music.

Last year, six members of the concert band began a small combo which played popular music and appeared at several school dances and activities. This year, the Combo has added a seventh member and is again playing popular music for the enjoyment of the students and listening audiences.

Totally organized and supervised by student efforts, the combo provides entertainment and valuable experience for those involved.

The Senior High chorus consists of about 75 students. It gives each of its members an opportunity to enrich his musical knowledge by singing both classical and popular selections.

Included within the chorus is a small performing group that, at various times throughout the year, sings at various local functions.

The full chorus, in conjunction with the school's other musical organizations, presents two major concerts each year.

This year, in addition to two pop concerts, it is participating in "Mr. Crane of Sleepy Hollow", a musical show presented in the spring.

"Each chorus has a different personality," says director Robert Spallina. "This year there were many new people in chorus, but it worked out well after they became accustomed to singing as part of a group."

The Geology Club, sponsored by Mr. Edgar Fisher, acquaints its members with geologic formations and shows them the minerals that make up the earth's crust. At each monthly meeting, the members are shown the various specimens in the school collection and are given explanations about where the minerals were obtained.

During the spring months, field trips are taken to acquaint the members with places where various rocks were formed.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club is an organization under the supervision of Mr. William Fitzmaurice, whose purpose is to instruct interested students in the fundamentals of basic electronics and the Morse Code. The student, after completing these two requirements, is then able to take the F.C.C. examination on these principles. Upon the successful completion of this examination, the student receives an amateur operator's license and can operate the school's radio station.

On Tuesday, November 27, the Class of '64 presented Oh, Promise Me before a surprisingly large audience. Each member of the cast had at least a small case of stage fright, but they all gave excellent performances, and the audience was treated to a very well presented evening of comedy. Sue Moore highlighted the play when she ended the second act with a bang.

The play was a class effort, and everyone had a good time making the play the big success it turned out to be.

In spite of its unfortunate won-lost record, the team is to be congratulated for the fine spirit and effort it displayed throughout the campaign. Co-captains John Atkinson and John Roberts, as well as Senior lineman Bill Droege, are to be commended for their outstanding efforts on the field.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS

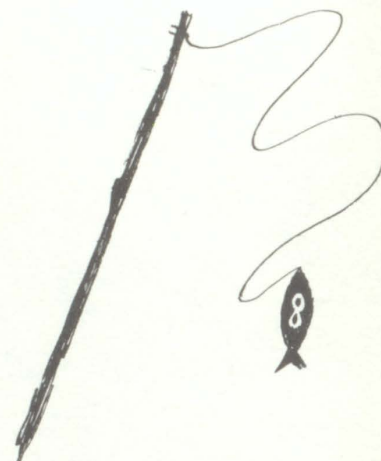

THE CLASS OF '64

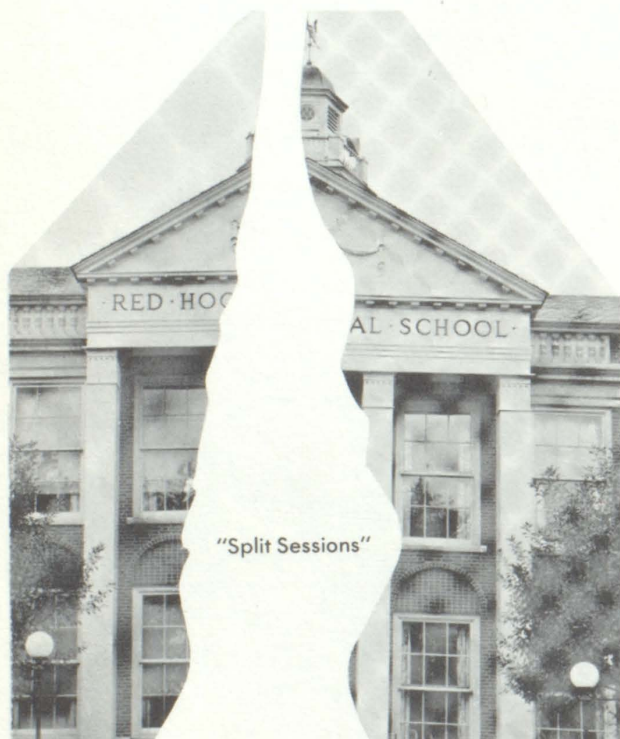

Moving Up Day--1962.

As graduation approaches, the class of '64 recalls the most memorable experiences of its high school career. Academic studies are not the only important things in school life, and, as we are about to complete this phase of our education, we would like to record for posterity the most important things that have helped to mold our class into what it is today.

We successfully began our high school career by winning our first Moving Up Day competition with the theme "We're fishing for a place in the eighth grade." Due to split sessions, half of our eighth grade class spent a semester in the "fish house," a converted restaurant just outside of town. Mrs. Fraleigh's English class presented a one-act play, entitled "Mother's Apron Strings," as a Junior High assembly.

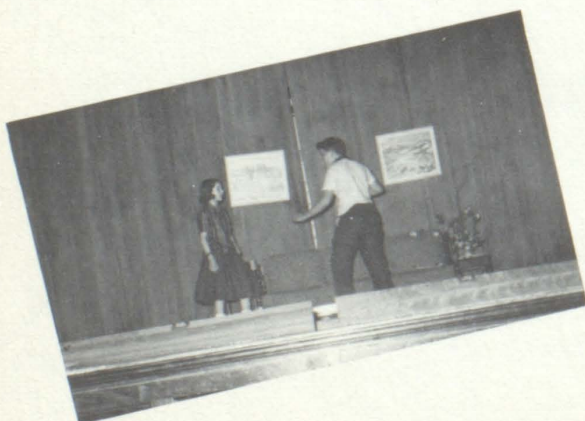

"We're fishing . . ."

"Split Sessions"

"Mother's Apron Strings"

We began our Freshman year with the clang of the 7:55 bell. Our treasury was enhanced with our supervision of the Saugerties' football game. The Leprechaun Hop, our first class-sponsored dance, left us with great ambitions for the dances that we would hold in the future.

As sophomores, we began to feel the full weight of academic responsibility, as biology labs, French labs, and World History were suddenly thrust upon us. The year was not all hard work, however. The Biology trip to the Museum of Natural History in New York City was something that we will never forget, and the Roman Banquet was like nothing we had ever done before.

Our Junior year was filled with many exciting events. We again won a Moving Up Day award, bringing the number of our triumphs in this field up to two. The Junior Prom, the Coronation Ball, was a huge success, except for one little detail (pictured below). Over the summer, Donna Matthews journeyed to Turkey as an American Field Service exchange student, and Karen Donerly served as a Girls' State representative.

"We're moving up . . ."

"Will the janitors please report to the gymnasium!"

Donna in Turkey.

Our Senior year began in a surge of enthusiasm, as we were finally free of split sessions and able to once again take part in a full-day program. The first important event in which our class took part was the Student Council's pep rally.

It wasn't long before the yearbook staff was working at full speed, tackling the difficult task of producing this edition of Hardscrabble, which we believe to be the best in R.H.C.S. history.

Our Senior play, Oh, Promise Me, required a lot of hard work, but it proved to be a very successful endeavor. We once again wish to express our deep appreciation to Mrs. Unutmaz for her indispensable help in preparing the play for presentation.

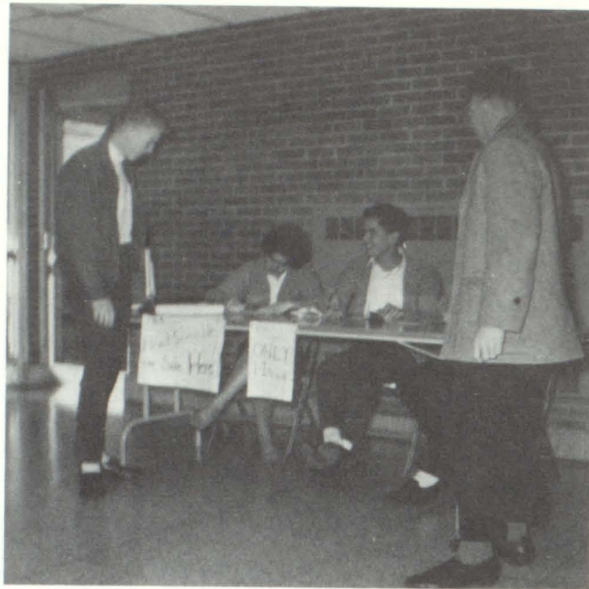

Santa Claus visited our Senior Prom, "Santa's Sleighride Ball." In addition to the usual Christmas tree furnished by the Student Council, our huge gymnasium was decorated with five other trees.

Our class acquired a new member this year—Surapol Tippavongse from Thailand. We are honored to have had "Paul" with us, and hope that he has enjoyed his stay here as much as we have enjoyed having him.

Some outstanding members of our class have brought us honor through their scholastic achievements. John Roberts, by writing an excellent report on the peacetime uses of the atom, won a General Electric-sponsored trip to the science fair in Chicago. Thirteen members of our class ranked among the top 10% of the nation's students who took the National Merit Scholarship Test. This entitled them to attend the "Senior Seminar" series at Vassar College. John Roberts and Greg Keefe won Regents Scholarships this year, while John Morey and Lorraine Unson were named as alternates.

For the first time in an all-new Hardscrabble, we are pleased to acknowledge our valedictorian, Karen Donerly, and our salutatorian, John Morey.

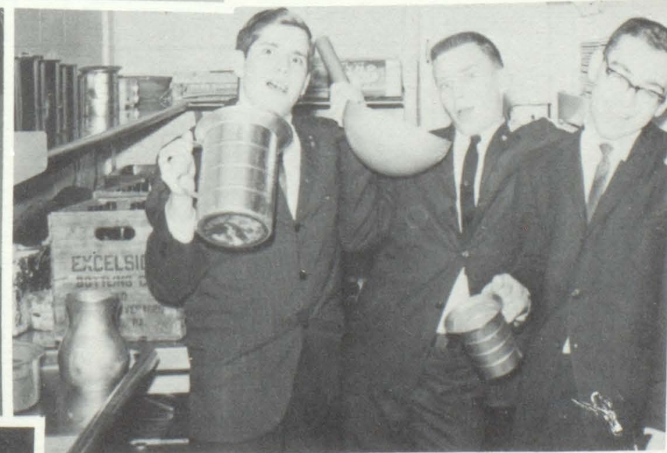

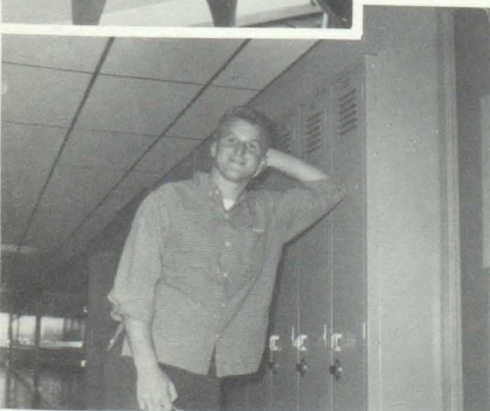

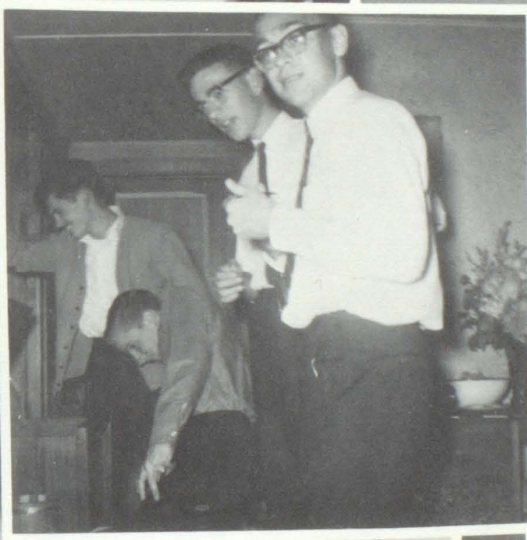

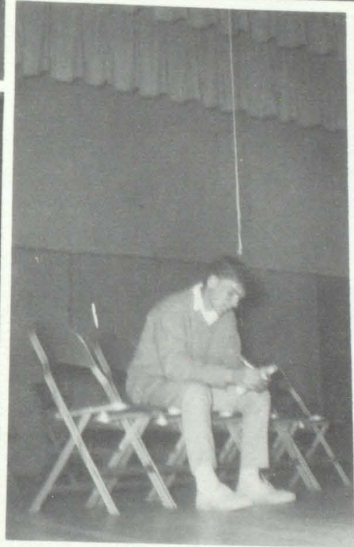

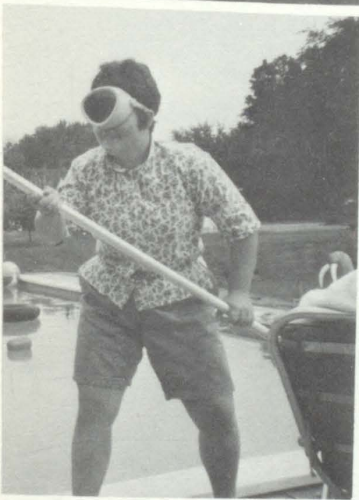

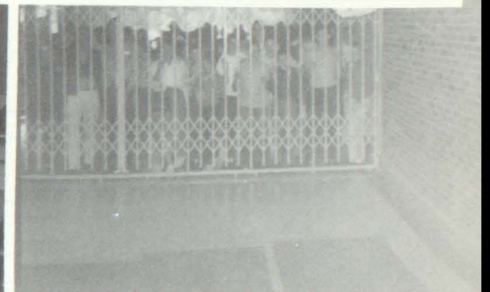

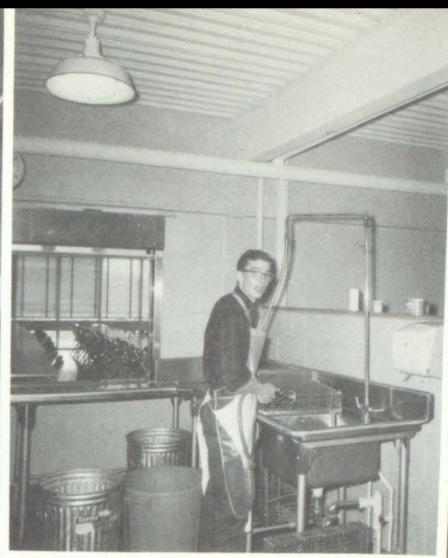

Does anyone want to buy a yearbook?

Soon, now, we will become a part of this school's past. We are proud to be the first class to graduate from this fine new building, and we are grateful and honored to have received our secondary education in a school system such as this one.

We wish the best of everything to the class of 1965 and all subsequent classes, and we hope that we have made an adequate contribution to the advancement of education in the Red Hook Central School.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

SHEILA HOELDERLIN

In spite of overwhelming difficulty which necessitated her studying at home for the better part of her school career, Sheila Hoelderlin has pursued the same rigorous academic schedule required of all Red Hook Central School students. Although she has not been present in class, she has been in our thoughts often. We wish her the best of everything in the years to come.
