

Possible nuclear site

Irv Fraleigh, a Red Hook dairy farmer, points towards a dark circle on a map supplied by Consolidated Edison showing the approximate area in Red Hook, Milan and Clermont that will be studied for possible location of nuclear or coal-fired power plants in the 1990's. Behind Fraleigh is Milan Supervisor Thomas Odak. The more clearly defined Lloyd-Esopus site is on the map at the bottom left. (Register-Star photo by Peter D. Zietz)