

A Message From The Pastor

This Pictorial Church Directory was prepared for the purpose of facilitating our "coming together" as Christ's people in St. Paul's Church of Red Hook.

The "social" aspect of our faith is by no means insignificant. When we read the pages of the New Testament, we discover before very long that one of the first things which happen to people reached by the Good News of Christ and called to be God's people is their "coming together" as a caring, serving, and worshipping fellowship. It is one of the great gifts of the Spirit that we may relate to one another in a warm, caring way, regardless of the differences which may exist between us apart from Christ. The "social" aspect of our Christian life, far from being of marginal importance, is a translation into actual living of a central truth of the Good News: That being reconciled to God, we cannot but become part of the great gathering movement of God's Spirit which brings us together as members of the One Body. The complete Gospel is always in the form of the Cross: the vertical line, which links us with God as our Father, is complemented by the intersecting horizontal line which relates us to one another as brothers and sisters of the same family.

This Directory is, to be sure, only one way in which we hope to stimulate more meaningful relationships with one another. But it is a good beginning. By coming together for worship, we have become familiar with many faces. However, it is sometimes hard to match the faces we know with the names. It is at this point that this Directory will be of great help to us. Being able to know each other by name is a good way to start any endeavour of getting better acquainted with one another.

We pray that God may use this very modest beginning toward a "gathering movement" in our congregation which will relate us to one another in a meaningful way as members of the Body of Christ.

Ferdinand K. W. Haase, S.T.M.,
Pastor

A Brief Sketch Of Our Early History

The early founders of the Lutheran faith in this area were descendants of refugees from the beautiful Rhine Valley called Palatinate. They fled their homeland to England and Holland from the conquest and persecution of French King Louis XIV. Under the reign of Queen Anne these refugees were deported to the Crown's Colonies in America, to ease the burden of supporting them through a government emergency relief program. These same refugees settled in the Hudson Valley and their descendants founded St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

In 1715 a union of the Reformed Church and Lutheran Church was established in Rhinebeck. A log church was built in 1716 at "Pinck's Corners" and five years later four acres were leased for joint church and cemetery purposes. The remains of the burial ground may still be viewed on the east side of Route 9 at the 9-G intersection.

In 1729, disagreement arose between the two congregations which resulted in the Reformed Church purchasing the Lutheran's share in the building and property. The Lutheran Church acquired a site and built a church called St. Peter's, now known as the "Stone Church".

The Reformed Church bought a five acre plot in the village of Red Hook in 1784. On this site, which is the location of our present church, they erected a frame church. Having been severely damaged in a wind storm, the building was replaced by a stone church in the year 1834.

The Reformed Church gradually died out with many of its congregations uniting with the Dutch Reformed Church.

In 1841 the Rev. Nicholas Goertner was called to minister to the church in Red Hook. He had been serving St. Peter's Church in Rhinebeck since 1837 and was the first Lutheran minister to serve the Red Hook congregation.

In 1844 a union between the German Reformed Church and the Evangelical Lutheran Church of St. Peter's was finalized under the pastorate of the Rev. Charles F. Schaeffer, D.D. The New York Synod formally received "The First Evangelical Lutheran Church" into its membership that same year.
