

World Oct 4, 1888

MISS HALPINE'S WEDDING.

Miles O'Reilly's Second Daughter Becomes Mrs. J. P. Faure, of New York.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Miss Lucie J. Halpin, second daughter of the late Charles G. Halpin (Miles O'Reilly), and Mr. John P. Faure, of New York City, were married here to-night at 8 o'clock in St. Andrew's English Church by the rector, Rev. Josiah B. Perry. The altar rail was draped with laurel leaves and knots of golden rod and the altar set with bouquets of white roses. Mr. Charles G. Halpin, brother of the bride, and Mr. Francis Halpin, Mr. Hewitt Coburn, jr., and Mr. Abner Scott, of New York City, in evening dress, with white roses in their lapels, seated the invited guests inside the white-ribbon limits. Mr. Charles G. Halpin preceded the bridal group.

The groom appeared at the altar attended by his best man, Mr. John H. Elseffer, of New York City. The bridal procession was headed by the ushers, who were followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Adelaide M. Halpin, sister of the bride, and Miss Juliette Greene, daughter of the late Dr. Horace Greene, of New York City, and the bride, escorted by her brother, Lieut. Nicholas J. Halpin, of the navy, in uniform, who gave her hand in marriage.

The bride wore a trained gown of white faille, the pompadour body edged with duchesse lace. The sides of the skirt were laced-over tulle and a tulle scarf crossed the front, caught with bridal roses. The tulle veil was fastened in her hair with white roses and the bridal bouquet was of white roses. She wore a triple chain of gold about her neck, with a diamond pendant. The bridesmaids wore Paris gowns of white India silk and point d'esprit, with pointed bodice, and carried bouquets. Miss Greene's flowers were yellow roses and Miss Halpin's were La France roses.

After the service the wedding guests drove to the residence of Mrs. Halpin, where a reception was held until 11 o'clock. At that time Mr. and Mrs. Faure departed on their wedding journey. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Scott and Mrs. L. Halpin, of New York City, who wore a dress of gray moire antique and black lace. Mrs. John Wright, of Richmond, wore a toilet of black satin.

Mr. and Mrs. Faure will return to New York City, where they will reside at 238 West Eleventh street. They will be at home to their friends on Wednesday evenings in November.