SPRING

2004

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends,

Even though we had a significant snowfall the day before, the Christmas Open House had a nice turnout with everyone enjoying the decorations put up by Madeline Klein and Barbara Bielenberg and the fresh breads baked in the beehive oven by Ellen Phelan. Richard Coons cooked up some mulled cider and Mary Cioffi greeted the guests. Several young volunteers dressed in period clothing offered tours to guests and added to the festivities. We had too many wonderful volunteers to list them all in this newsletter. Look for their names on our new Web site, www.elmendorph.org, and in a future mailing.

The carriage barn fundraising letter has generated a good response and we thank all those who have contributed. We are, however, a long way from our projected goal to enable us to begin construction. To augment this effort, a fundraising committee has been established and will be exploring various means to finance the new construction. If you, as a member, have any suggestions as to potential funding sources we would like to hear from you.

A special thanks goes out to the Friends volunteers who ran the Etc. Shop this last summer. They did a terrific job and generated a significant income to keep the FOE in operation. Their names are listed on the inside the newsletter and when you see these folks, tell them how much you appreciate their time and efforts. A lot of work goes on behind the scenes in preparing the material for actual sale in the shop. The donation boxes have to be sorted, often times material needs to be cleaned or washed, marked with a price tag, and transported from the kitchen to the shop shelves. All this takes a lot of extra time and coordination.

Our annual meeting and dinner scheduled for March 29th will include an update on the carriage barn, board elections, and feature a presentation by Maynard Ham on the restoration of his historic home located on West Market Street in the village of Red Hook. I hope you will be able to join us for this annual event

Regards,

LARRY THETFORD, President
