WEST WASHINGTON MARKET

SPECIALTIES
POULTRY EGGS,
MEATS, PROVISIONS,
AND CANNED GOODS

New York

Sept. 24th, 1932.

Dear Sir:-

Practically all lines of farm products in our various fields are showing either an increase in value or a firm selling position.

Eggs are of course leading the others with a rapid advance due to short receipts of fine quality goods. We need much more than we are getting to supply our demand and hope that you will forward us regularly your shipments. Our market is now 36¢ to 39¢ for finest to 52¢ to 35¢ for good, fresh white eggs, and brown eggs bring 30¢ to 34¢. Duck eggs are also wanted at 33¢ to 36¢ for best fresh quality.

Calves are selling well and we look for a continued good market, which we believe will improve as cooler weather sets in. Prices are firm at 14¢ to 16¢ for fine white meated veal, weighing ninety to one hundred twenty pounds down to 8¢ to 10¢ for poorer quality veals.

While live poultry has had an off week this past seven days, we believe next week will see much better conditions prevail due to an increased demand for the Jewish Holidays.

The market prices to-day are:-

Colored Fowl	19-20	Colored Broilers	14-18
Leghorn "	10-14	Leghorn "	13-14
Ducks	15	Live Rabbits	.08-12

Your shipments will receive prompt attention and returns made as soon as sales are completed. Do not forget we are especially in need of fancy eggs and ship all you can.

Respectfully yours,
