From editor

This is "Who's Who among Manzanar." I am so happy to have such a wonderful opportunity to translate, transcribe and edit Manzanar Buddhist directory. While doing my project at Manzanar National Historic Site and Eastern California Museum, I was so amazed by the fact that there were more than four thousand Buddhists within Manzanar War Relocation Center, and was so thrilled to find each name from the original directory.

My main purpose to do my project is to edit a great historic primary source, Manzanar Buddhist directory, to contribute studies regarding Japanese Americans, especially on the incarceration of Japanese Americans. My other purpose to do my project is to enable the future generation of Japanese Americans to look for their identity's origin, especially for finding places from where his or her ancestors came.

I will be very glad if my project is considered helpful, and am sure that my project could be beneficial. In addition to that, I am considering revising my project for there would be some points that I would like to update or to correct. Also, I am very happy to hear from your reaction on my project for your voice is very important to me.

Sincerely,

Takamichi "TAKA" Go

Main Content

For Beginning

Having experienced a huge tragedy (war), and being an enemy race in society, we have faced the harsh reality of our world; however, through the experiences we are able to open our eyes, to hold our hands together and to unite during our life at concentration camp in Manzanar. Despite the fact that we are incarcerated and are sent to war concentration camps, our mind and heart are not spiritually hurt for we share great spiritual values and beliefs that are able to threat any vice. Importantly, during our life at Manzanar, despite of full of sadness we are able to keep hoping and wishing our good and brilliant life in the future, and we are extremely glad about that.

Due to the fact that we are now able to leave war concentration camps and that some of us are sent to a war concentration camp at Tule Lake, we need to expect that more people are about to leave Manzanar for seeking a brand-new life in outside of the camp. Now there would be less than five thousand people among us and it is clear that all of us need to be ready for our new life, so we have decided to issue our directory to note who's who among us. We hope that this directory would be very helpful to stay in touch together after leaving war concentration camps.

We strongly hope and wish that our solders in Europe would fight courageously for our country. We strongly hope and wish that our solders in East Asia would fight courageously, too.

Most importantly, we proudly honor those who sacrificed their life during the war.

Praying for you and all of us

After publishing

Since last February when we made a decision to publish this directory, we had worked so hard: counting the population of Buddhists within the camp by visiting each family, organizing information on each family, recounting the number of Buddhists within the camp and printing the directory. All of us had worked very hard during day and night, and we were so amazed for there were over four thousand Buddhists among us.

We appreciate our hard and diligent work for we were able to publish it by the day when Shinran-shonin was born, and we were so happy about that. Not only we were happy, but we also felt that our achievement was deeply significant and meaningful.

Despite the fact that we tried beyond our best to publish this directory and that we were so careful to take all information, there would be some mistakes, and although we fixed a few of them, there could be some mistakes. We will deeply apologize for these mistakes, and will ask you for great forgiveness.

Finally, we would like to note our youth members and Mr. Mitsuhashi Mitsuru for their remarkable hard and diligent work and contribution to this directory.

Praying for you, and all of us.
