The Stewardship of Property*

IN the first place, we must keep in mind one fundamental fact: Stewardship is the Christian Law of Life. It does not refer primarily to property and money, though it certainly includes these. Paul writes, "Stewards of the mysteries of God." The whole of life is a stewardship. This is the teaching of Jesus Christ.

There is the Stewardship of Personality. By this is meant all those facts of a man's life, such as privilege, opportunity, experience, talent, education. These are to be recognized, not only as blessings to be enjoyed, but also as obligations to be administered. The educated man is, for that very reason, under obligation to render high social service in the community. A person possessed of talent is, for that very reason, under obligation to make his talent a blessing to others. But shall he not plan for his own advancement? A steward need have no fear. "There

* Note: Many questions of importance will arise which there is no space to consider. The reader is earnestly requested to secure A Man and His Money and make a thorough study of this vital subject. Men who are interested in the making of money will desire to understand the meaning of money, and the use of it. See announcement on page 24 of this booklet.

Organized to inculcate the basic principles of modern business

The Christian Stewardship League

Organized in Philadelphia,
July, 1916

This Movement is authorized and projected in order that the standards of Stewardship, now coming to be recognized in all the Churches, shall be realized in a definite program of personal committal and Church-wide achievement.

Three Articles of the CONSTITUTION

Art. I. Name and Purpose

The Christian Stewardship League is formed in order that Christian people may be helped to know the spiritual meaning of ownership, and in order that they themselves may help to establish, in the Church and in society, a Christian attitude toward property, income, wages and wealth. It is recognized that Christian Stewardship must be of life and opportunity, no less than of possessions; therefore it is the further purpose of this League to emphasize and promote the Stewardship of personal Christian service, and of prayer.

Art. II. Membership

The Christian Stewardship League shall be constituted of Christian people, who, accepting the Principles of Christian Stewardship as set forth herewith, shall, by personal committal, declare their purpose to observe them.

Art. III. "Earnest"

As an "Earnest" of their purpose to observe the Principles of Christian Stewardship, and in order that the activities of this League shall be established and extended among the Churches, each member shall be expected to send to the Central Office, the sum of One Dollar, and shall be expected to enlist in the membership of this League One Other Person.

PRINCIPLES OF CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

Emphasized and Promoted by

The Christian Stewardship League

I. THE STEWARDSHIP OF POSSESSIONS.

1. God is the Owner of all things.
2. God invites men to subdue the earth and possess it.
3. Man is a steward to hold and administer his possessions as a sacred trust.
4. God's ownership ought to be acknowledged.
5. Biblical history records the setting apart of the tenth of the income as that acknowledgment, and indicates a divine sanction for the practice and the amount.
6. The Stewardship of Possessions is best evidenced by the systematic application of this portion of income to the advancement of the Kingdom, and by the faithful administration of the balance of income and wealth.

II. THE STEWARDSHIP OF PERSONALITY.

1. God is the Supreme Person in a world of persons, perfect in every attribute of personality.
2. God invites every person to become a partaker of the divine nature.
3. Man has nothing which he did not receive; he is therefore a steward of every worthy element of personality by him possessed.
4. This stewardship is acknowledged by worship and the giving of thanks.
5. It is administered by rendering personal human service.
6. The Stewardship of Personality is best acknowledged by setting apart a definite time for worship; it is best administered by undertaking definite tasks of human helpfulness.

III. THE STEWARDSHIP OF PRAYER.

1. All power is given to Jesus Christ.
2. Jesus Christ invites his friends to ask anything in His Name, and it shall be done.
3. Christian Prayer is therefore a stewardship of power entrusted by Jesus to His friends.
4. This stewardship is acknowledged when the friendship of Jesus is accepted.
5. It is administered by asking intelligently according to the will of God.
6. The Stewardship of Prayer is best acknowledged by a full consecration to Jesus Christ; it is best administered by observing a thoughtful program of prayer, as one who would know what his Lord doeth.

_____ Church

In the Presence of God and relying upon Him, I make this COVENANT:*

I. I Will Be a Steward of My Possessions.

First, My Entire Income.

I covenant with God that all of my possessions shall be acquired in righteousness before Him and with justice to my fellow men.

Second, My Acknowledgment to God.

I covenant with God in the language of Jacob, "Of all that Thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto Thee," and I will administer this portion in maintaining and extending the Kingdom of God.

Third, My Obligation to Others.

I covenant with God that I will make the use of money the subject of prayerful consideration, and that I will seek to administer the whole of my income, as "a faithful and wise steward."

II. I Will Be a Steward of My Personal Influence.

I covenant with God, the Giver of every good and every perfect gift, that I will acknowledge Him in public and private worship. I will seek to administer the personal obligation that rests upon me by undertaking definite personal service in my home, in the Church, and in the community where I live.

III. I Will Be a Steward of My Power of Prayer.

I covenant with God that I will cultivate and use the power of Prayer which has been entrusted to me.

Our Son

A life of kindness, love and joy
To cheer our lives from day to day,
Such was the gift of our Dear Boy
Who had not long to stay.

His kindly deeds, his loving ways
Were treasured in each heart,
Most sacred in our twilight days
Our love can ne'er depart.

We feel our loss, we bear the pain
And pray for strength to bear;
We know that we shall meet again
Our love in heaven again to share.

The Stewardship of Personality

By

Lynn Harold Hough

HAT the world is calling for, what it needs more than anything else, more than it needs money, more than it needs steel railways, more than it needs harnessed Niagara, is men—with intellectual length to them, with moral girth to them, who can turn away from corruption unbribed, face the clamor of a mob unbought, stand among the pigmies like tall, bright angels, alert, unbending, invincible, and by their embattled personalities, by head and heart, by brain and soul, swing the world up toward its millennial dawning."—*Dr. William J. THANK GOD FOR FIVE YARD McCARTY!

Right at the start we admit prejudice, all sorts of it. Our gorge rises; our back hair prickles; we want to chew tobacco and spit; we want to go home and assert our masculinity by rescuing those torn but so dearly beloved carpet slippers from the waste barrel on the back porch and wearing 'em despite orders to the contrary.

Probably there's no one quite so cordially hated by the average American male as Valentino. We admit sharing the feeling. Call it what you will. We repeat the admission and announce we're proud of it.

"A symphony in green" was Rudy when he passed through Chicago. Thank heavens, our green suit went the way of all wool years ago. And a beaver collar on his overcoat. Great guns, what a man. And his wrist watch worn on a slave bracelet. Here goes our wrist watch out the alley window, and what in the name of all that's masculine is a slave bracelet?

It gives us a horrible sinking feeling at the pit of the stomach to know that within the next few days tailors and clothing stores will be swamped with requests for green suits, that overcoat buyers will demand beaver collars, that jewelers will be besought for slave bracelets—whatever they are—"just like Valentino's" [spoken with a lisp]. Sadly we acknowledge to ourselves that this will happen.

Rudy says he tried to make his wife happy, "but a man with my particular temperament—being very susceptible to any kind of beauty, whether in femininity or art—really hasn't any business with a wife. There always is that feeling of dissatisfaction, that consciousness of the woman in the background."

As they say in vaudeville, "And they shot Lincoln!"

Rudy doesn't like marriage because it cramps his style. He says there is too much fun to be found afield to be tied down by the conventions of monogamy. Rudy is a strayer, is this lover of things beautiful.

Blood will tell. Heredity and early environment do mold the individual. Green suit, beaver collar, slave bracelet, adorning this Don Juan who's too self-important, too bent on gratifying his fancies, to fancy marriage. Rudy's nothing more than a spaghetti gargling gardener's helper, product of modern feminism, and all the wishy-washy feminine gurgling in the world can't change him.

Thank God for Five Yard McCarty!

THE MARINES' HYMN.

From the Halls of Montezuma,
To the shores of Tripoli,
We fight our country's battles
On the land as on the sea.
First to fight for right and freedom
And to keep our honor clean,
We are proud to claim the title
Of UNITED STATES MARINE.

From the Pest Hole of Cavite
To the Ditch at Panama,
You will find them very needy
Of Marines.—That's what we are;
We're the Watch dogs of a pile of coal
Or we dig a magazine,
Though he lends a hand at every job,
Who would not be a MARINE?

Our flag's unfurled to every breeze
From dawn to setting sun,
We have fought in every clime or place
Where we could take a gun;
In the snow of far off Northern lands
And in sunny tropic scenes,
You will find us always on the job—
THE UNITED STATES MARINES.

Here's health to you and to our Corps
Which we are proud to serve,
In many a strife we have fought for life
And never lost our nerve;
If the Army and the Navy
Ever look on Heaven's scenes,
They will find the streets are guarded by
THE UNITED STATES MARINES.

A Historical Brief of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Wheaton

A Methodist class was formed first at Wheaton early in 1853 by the Rev. Jas. J. Vance, preacher in charge on the Naperville circuit, Rock River Conference, and was composed of the following members, viz: Orlando Wakelee, Leader, Thankful S. Wakelee, Erastus Gary, Susan A. Gary, Warren L. Wheaton, Steward, Harriet E. Wheaton, Jesse C. Wheaton, Sr., Orinda Wheaton, Harriet (in full communion), and Mary Wallace, Erastus Holt, Lora Ann Wheaton, Nancy M. Wheaton, Jesse C. Wheaton, Jr., Maranda Holt (on probation).

This class remained in the Naperville circuit until the session of the annual conference of Aug. 1857, when the circuit was divided, and that portion to which this class belonged took the name of Wheaton circuit, and had appointed to its charge the Rev. John Nate, under whose supervision the erection of a church for the Methodist Episcopal Society at Wheaton was commenced.

Subsequently to the formation of this class (which was called Wheaton class) and while it remained in Naperville circuit, there were successively appointed to that charge the following preachers, viz in 1853-4, the Rev. Robert Beatty, who remained part of the conference year only, leaving in consequence of ill health, the remainder of the year being supplied by the Rev. O. Husi. For 1854-5, the Rev. O. Husi, who was reappointed for a second term. For 1856-7 the Rev. Benjamin Class, at the close of whose conference year the circuit was divided as above stated.

The Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church and congregation at Wheaton was organized under the supervision of the Rev. O. Husi preacher in charge on Naperville Circuit in 1855 by the election of the following named persons as trustees of said society, Erastus Gary, Warren L. Wheaton, Orlando Wakelee, Jesse C. Wheaton, Daniel Rudd, Azlmer Keith, Charles Gary, Edward A. Hall and Leslie Ballou. Subsequently Jude P. Gary was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Azlmer Keith, and also Peter B. Curtis to increase the board of T ustees to the number of ten; of which number O. Wakelee and J. C. Wheaton were appointed a building committee to carry out the instructions of the board of Trustees toward building a church.

In September, 1857 the committee consumated a contract for the erection of a church with Freeman Flanders. The corner stone was laid Oct. 17, 1857, by Rev. Wm. D. Ryan, D. D.

As the old record states, the Rev. John Nate was appointed pastor of Wheaton Circuit in 1857, and during his pastorate the corner stone of the church was laid. But owing to a lack of funds, the erection of the building was delayed until the administration of the Rev. Thomas Cochran, when it was enclosed and the basement finished which became the place of worship until the dedication of the church by Bishop Simpson, the dedication occurring while Rev. Lucius Bugbee was pastor, having received his appointment to the charge in fall of 1860. His successor was Rev. A. W. Paige, who was appointed in 1861 and served two years. Rev. Samuel Hewes followed. Then came Rev. J. O. Cramb, who was succeeded by the Rev. Mr. Wallace, who remained but a few months, his year being filled by Rev. Geo. Strowbridge. Rev. Chas. French was appointed for the next year and was followed by the Rev. S. Stover.

In 1869 Rev. John Ellis was appointed to the charge. He was succeeded by Dr. William Goodfellow, who was in turn followed by Rev. A. T. Needham. Rev. A. H. Miller then came and served one year, and his successor, Rev. J. G. Campbell, two years. Rev. S. Searls was appointed in the fall of 1879. Rev. N. P. Gray followed but ill health compelled him to leave in his first year.

Rev. E. M. Baring, a former presiding elder of the Chicago District was appointed in the fall of 1880. Rev. N. O. Freeman was his successor. Rev. C. C. Lovejoy came in October, 1886, removed at the close of the year, having been appointed president of Jennings Seminary. Rev. J. T. Ladd was appointed in 1887, Rev. O. F. Mattison was appointed in 1892, Rev. DeLois Tompkins was appointed in 1894 and Rev. G. K. Flack was appointed in 1899.

During the pastorate of Dr. Flack, Judge Elbert H. Gary announced his intention of erecting a new church in memory of his father and mother, Erastus Gary and Susan A. Valette Gary. The church was completed, and dedicated on December 14th, 1901 under the ministry of Dr. Lewis Curts who succeeded Dr. Flack in October of that year.

Dr. Curts remained as pastor for two years and was succeeded in 1903 by the Rev. William Macafee. Dr. John Thompson succeeded Dr. Macafee in 1908 serving until 1912 when he was succeeded by the Rev. Harlow V. Holt, who was followed by the Rev. Ernest C. Lumsden, who was succeeded by the Rev. Almer M. Pennewell, D. D., who was succeeded by the present pastor, the Rev. James H. Durand. It was under the present pastorate that the old Gary Memorial Church burned and the new structure was erected.

Can we ever forget the fire, January 7th, 1929? The Sunday, January 6th was very cold, and by night the thermometer registered 10 degrees below zero. The pastor conducted Communion Service in the morning and preached in the evening. About 12:40 Monday morning two students of Wheaton College, returning on a late train from Chicago, saw smoke pouring from the windows of the church. They awakened the pastor who immediately called the fire department. However, the fire had gained such headway that the efforts of these men was of no avail and at 1:30 a.m., the splendid church was a mass of ruins. It was a calamity indeed, but our people arose to the occasion, and in less than twenty-four hours after the fire, the trustees met and passed a resolution to build immediately. The Hancher Philanthropic Organization assisted us in a drive for funds in March, 1929, and $206,000.00 was subscribed. Childs & Smith, the well known firm of Chicago architects, were engaged as architects and on November 15th, 1929 the contract was given to August S. Caron & Son of Oak Park, Ill. the total cost to be $300,000.00. Two days after the signing of the contract the wreckers were at work, and the corner stone was laid by the Rev. J. B. Martin, D. D., superintendent of the Chicago Western District on Sunday afternoon, March 2, 1930, and today, twenty-one months after the fire, we gather in the finished structure to offer our praise to God for His goodness, and to formerly dedicate this beautiful building to His honor and glory and service.

Dedication Hymn—(Tune, "Duke Street").
This hymn was written for the dedication of the first Gary Memorial Church by Aunt Sarah Smith on December 14th, 1901, who was at that time in her eighty-eighth year. She died the day after the dedication.

O God, our father's God, we raise
To Thee our loftiest song of praise.
This house we dedicate to Thee,
Who art supreme in majesty.

O blest Shekinah, living flame,
Come Thou and here record Thy name.
Here may the wandering ones of earth
Be formed anew by heavenly birth.

Within these walls may peace abound,
And love and harmony be found
Here Christ's own life repeated be
In gracious deeds of charity.

Our father's here the work began;
May we like them, when ends life's span,
Receive the Master's blest applause,
And find with them eternal joys.

Lord, may this house for ages stand,
A blessing to our native land;
And generations yet to be
Here learn to love and worship Thee.

Offertory—"Prayer" ..... Schubert

Solo—"If With All Your Hearts," Elijah ..... Mendelssohn

Sermon ..... Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, D. D., LL. D.

Responsive Reading, Psalm 122. Led by the Rev. J. B. Martin, D. D.

Minister—I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord

People—Our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jeruselam.

Minister—Jerusalem is builded as a city that is compact together.

People—Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord.

Minister—For there are set thrones of judgment, the thrones of the house of David.

People—Pray for the peace of Jerusalem; they shall prosper that love thee.

Minister—Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.

People—For my brethren and companion's sake, I will now say, Peace be within thee.

Methodist Episcopal Sunday Schools of Chicago and Vicinity

Held in Connection with the Annual Meeting of The Board of Sunday Schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church

at

Medinah Temple
Chicago

Thursday Evening, Jan. 17, 1918
EIGHT-FIFTEEN O'CLOCK

NOTES

Since 1908 the Methodist Episcopal Church has had an increase of 1,336,085 in the Sunday School membership of the denomination, making a total to-day of 4,679,943. This is not only the largest Sunday School membership in the world, but represents the most remarkable numerical gain in the history of the Sunday School movement.

Four hundred and sixty-two Sunday Schools were aided by free grants of Sunday School literature through the Grant Department of the Board during 1917. Hundreds of these schools could not maintain an existence were it not for the timely aid given them by The Board of Sunday Schools.

There are 15,388 Organized Adult Bible Classes enrolled with The Board of Sunday Schools. One and a half million men and women organized for Bible study in Methodist Sunday Schools.

Trained officers and teachers are just as necessary to a Sunday School as to an army or navy. One thousand five hundred and nineteen (1,519) new classes, and seventeen thousand and sixty-two (17,062) students were reported to The Board of Sunday Schools for enrollment in Teacher Training during the year 1917. We now have a total of 3,904 classes and 52,305 students enrolled.

The Downtown Night School, held at the Northwestern University Building, corner of Lake and Dearborn Streets, every Tuesday and Thursday evenings, offers a course in Sunday School Leadership Training, which you cannot afford to miss. Every Methodist Sunday School should have one or more in attendance.

The Extension Department has on an average of twenty-five field men engaged in missionary work covering sections of country from Maine to California. In eight years' time these men have organized 2,818 Sunday Schools; six hundred and eighty-seven (687) new Methodist Episcopal Churches came from these schools; and 356 churches and parsonages were built, producing $630,311 in property values for the Church.

So often people think in terms of dimes for movies and pennies to missions. Methodist Sunday School members gave to missions last year $696,004. It sounds big, but it amounts to only sixteen cents per member. One cent for missions every twenty-four days! Can we do a world business on this penny basis?

$25 will organize a frontier Sunday School and support it for one year.
$10 will provide all necessary lesson helps to a needy Sunday School for six months.

Anyone assuming the support of a Sunday School Missionary in whole or in part, or the support of one of our Frontier or Mission Sunday Schools, will receive quarterly reports from the same. Here is a splendid opportunity for Sunday Schools or Organized Bible Classes to do something definite in the way of helping others.

The Sunday Schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church demonstrated their patriotism and loyalty by making a gift of approximately $200,000 to the work of the Red Cross Society, besides generous Christmas offerings to the fund for Armenian and Syrian Relief.

53% of the Sunday School pupils 12-14 years old and 39% of the Sunday School pupils 15-17 years old
and 16% of the Sunday School pupils 18-24 years old are not members of the church.

Years 12 and 15 are the times of greatest acceptance. 9/10 before the 25th year.
80-90% of our church members come from the Sunday School.
WANTED—A definite evangelistic program in every class.

The Board of Sunday Schools has direction over 7,440 schools with an enrollment of 346,793 in the foreign field, employing twenty Sunday School specialists and furnishing free supplies to more than thirty foreign conferences. Practically every one of the sixteen conferences in the Orient showed Sunday School gains last year.
