My own dear Grace:-

No mail today, so I will send you a few lines to let you know I am well and feel fine. We have been on a hike today and I took some pictures. If they turn out good I will send you copies. I hope they turn out good as some were taken when eating chow. I could travel all day in this country. Today has been ideal hiking weather. No chance to raise a sweat and the sun was shining, but just enough to make it comfortable.

I have a slight cold, but hope to get rid of it very soon. Must have been some carelessness on my part. Don't you think so my dear? How is your cold coming along. I hope you are over it.

I thought of you last night and I hope you had a good time. I was over to see the Y. M. C. A. moving picture, "The Crab," and I kept on thinking of you and wishing I could be home.

Something seems to tell me I will spend ^{Christmas} winter at home. I don't know, but I feel that way. It may be a funny notion I have though. I get those every once in a while. I am a funny guy.
