My own dear Graci-

Just a few lines to you, that I am well and feel better today than I have for a long time. It has been raining all morning, so you can easily imagine what kind of weather it is. This has been some Sunday to me. I have been working all morning and this afternoon I am writing. To-night I am going to the U. S. M. C. a song service. We have song services here too. Now what have you to say my dear? I am working in the office now. I am going to try it and I hope I will make good at it too. I want to stay here this winter at least.

I am patiently waiting for a letter from you. It is two weeks since we had mail, so you see, we don't get mail often. But taking all into consideration our mail comes through first class.

We had a football game on for this afternoon, but the rain spoiled it for us. Such is life. I was out and took a few pictures last week. The only trouble I won't be able to send them to you. The censor won't pass them. But I know you are willing to wait until I come home. You will have to any way.

I ~~was~~ attended ~~at~~ entertainment given by the Y. M. C. A. Friday night and it sure was good. There was six French maids and one man.

They were good actors and singers but to me the Americans are better. I suppose if I could understand French, it would interest me more.

I see we are at war with Austria. I liked President Wilson's message very much.

I understand from the papers that the people are very enthusiastic over it. I am glad if it is so, that he has the backing of the people.

I wish you were with me this afternoon Grace, and we would take a long walk. But you are not here, so I will have to contend myself by writing to you. It helps a lot, but if you were only here, then I would be satisfied.

Good bye dearest, will write again in a few days.

Best regards to you folks.

All my love and there is lots, with mistakes are for you darling, from you own sweetheart, Dave.
