

September 13, 1917.

Dear Brother Joe:-

Was very glad to hear from you once again. Your old stall, hurry to church. Are you always in church? Yes I got your jersey and it has come in very handy of late. I put it on every morning. I had it on one day and I sweated and as a result my undershirt is blue. Better come over and wash it for me. All Eastman's vest pocket films are the same. They are the smallest. No hurry about them though. Don't go down extra for them.

I am glad mother liked the ring. Has daddy seen it? I suppose you like it too. She is some girl and when I come home she is mine. How are you coming along with your supernumerous supply of girls?

So you are working at last. Fine stuff.

Love to you all, your
brother,

Dave.